FOUR QUIT FCC PROBE; CHARGE WHITEWASHING

Assail Suppression of Evidence.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The alleged New Deal undercover campaign to suppress a house committee investigation of the federal communications commission was blasted into the open today by the protest resignations of four committee investigators and the impending resignations of two Republican committee members.

Eugene Garey.

Atty. Eugene Garey, who has headed the committee's FCC inquiry for the last year, announced the resignation of himself and three associates in a letter to Chairman Lea [D., Cal.], in which he said the investigation has become a "patent fraud on congress and the public."

"You have repeatedly ignored the mandate of the house, stymied the staff in its work, and converted the investigation to a sheer whitewashing affair," Garey said in his letter to Lea. "To continue as committee counsel in these circumstances would serve no useful public purpose, would merely produce waste and futility, and would end in shame and dishonor to the congress."

Resigning with Garey are Fred R. Walker, Ambrose V. McCall, and Milton I. Hauser.

Other Resignations Impend.

Meanwhile, associates of Representatives Miller [Mo.] and Wigglesworth [Mass.], the two Republican committee members, reported that both have decided to resign from the committee as a protest against the refusal of the three man Democratic majority to expose FCC abuses.

The two congressmen last week charged their Democratic colleagues with "hush hush" tactics to keep unsavory facts from the public. Their charge was made after the three Democrats, Lea, Hart [N. J.], and Magnuson [Wash.], suspended indefinitely the committee's inquiry into the sale of radio station WMCA in New York to a former high government official.

Suspension of the inquiry into the sale, which the committee has been told was "greased from the White House down," spared four former government officials, who had already been subpenaed, from testifying. They included Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran, former confidential adviser to President Roosevelt.

Donald Flamm, the previous owner, told the committee recently that he sold the station to Edward F. Noble, former assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, under pressure that he said reached all the way from the White House. He said he had been threatened with the loss of his FCC license if he did not sell.

Promises to Expose Mess.

Miller, asked for comment on Garey's resignation, said he will shortly "tell the public the truth about this whole mess." He and Wigglesworth are expected to take the house floor next week to disclose how administration pressure has been used to handcuff the investigation. Both of them refused to discuss the report that they will resign from the committee.

Chairman Lea, who had been expecting Garey's resignation, left the city last night and could not be reached.

According to members of congress, Garey's resignation is a temporary victory for the administration and for FCC Chairman James L. Fly, who, they say, has pulled wires all the way to the White House to have the FCC inquiry quashed.

Recall Cox Ouster.

The charge that Garey resigned under pressure was made publicly today by Rep. Cox [D., Ga.], former chairman of the committee, who was

Sen. McNary, 69, Minority Leader, Dies

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Feb. 25 [Special].—Sen. Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], minority leader in the senate, farmers' champion, and Republican Vice Presidential nominee in 1940, died unexpectedly here today.

The 69 year old westerner had been believed to be recovering from a long illness and operation for removal of a brain tumor last November. He and Mrs. McNary had come here several months ago to speed his convalescence.

Only yesterday senate Republicans had reëlected McNary minority floor leader and chairman of their conference in completing a reorganization which provided a full setup of officers for the first time since 1936.

Was a Smooth Strategist.

Most prominently mentioned as his possible permanent successor as floor leader were Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], who was elected vice chairman of the conference; Sen. White [R., Me.], chosen assistant leader and acting leader during McNary's illness, and Sen. Taft [R., Ohio].

McNary had guided the senate Republican organization almost single handed for nearly 10 years. He was known as a smooth strategist who preferred to let anti-Roosevelt Democrats take the lead in opposing administration measures.

The lanky, sandy haired Oregonian was known to politicians from coast to coast and was a confidant of Presidents and those who aspired unsuccessfully to the Presidency. He was a close personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt and often was consulted by the White House secretariat before important legislation was sent to Capitol hill.

Managed Hughes' Campaign.

One of his early political exploits was his management of the Oregon Presidential campaign for Charles Evans Hughes in 1916. Oregon was the only west coast state that didn't go into the Wilson column.

Because of his liking for senatorial work, he accepted with reluctance his party's nomination for the Vice Presidency in 1940 on a ticket headed by Wendell Willkie.

Was of Pioneer Stock.

He was born of pioneer parents on a 200 acre farm near Salem, Ore., on June 12, 1874, the youngest of ten children. His mother died when he was 4 and his father died a few years later, after which an older sister headed the family.

His boyhood was spent in hard work, and he had to struggle for an education, but he managed a few years at Stanford university and later was dean for five years of the law school of Willamette university.

Served in Senate Since 1917.

He served a year by appointment on the Oregon Supreme court bench, but lost when he tried for election to it. In the war year of 1917 he was appointed to the senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Harry Lane. He was elected in 1918 for a six year term and reëlected in 1930, 1936, and 1942. His term would have expired in 1949.

The Oregonian gained national attention in 1927 as co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill—for altho educated to the law, he was a farmer at heart. He became senate Republican leader in 1933.

McNary married Jessie Breyman, a childhood friend, in 1902. In 1929, some years after her death in an automobile accident, he married Cornelia Morton of Chicago.

SNELL MAY FILL POST

Portland, Ore., Feb. 25 [Special].—Oregon Republicans tonight discussed the possibility that Gov. Earl Snell might resign his present office and accept appointment by his successor to the senate vacancy caused by the death of Sen. McNary. It was considered more probable, however, that Snell would appoint some one to serve until the general election in November and would then be a candidate himself for the remaining five years of McNary's term. Under Oregon law such vacancies must be filled at the next general election. The nominating primary will be held May 19 and the general election Nov. 7. Mentioned as possible appointees were Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Portland Oregonian, and Merle R. Chessman, publisher of the Astoria Budget.

39 DEMOCRATS JOIN WITH G.O.P. IN SPEEDY VOTE

Show's All Over in 49 Minutes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The senate today by an overwhelming vote of 72 to 14 passed the tax bill over the President's veto and ended with a victory for congress the first phase of the declared war between the President and congress.

The new taxes, designed to raise 2 billion 300 million dollars in new revenue, become law over the President's protest that they are unrealistic, and that the total new revenue should be four or five times as much.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a harsh veto message delivered on Washington's birthday, charged congress with passing a bill that gave tax relief for the greedy and struck at the needy. His message was interpreted as a slur at the motives and intent of congress.

Challenge Answered.

Congress took up the challenge. Yesterday the house, in a notably quick vote, overrode the veto 299 to 95. Today it was the senate's turn and the vote against the President again was top-heavy.

The senate's action was expected. Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.] resigned Wednesday as majority leader in protest over the President's veto message. He was reëlected unanimously by his Democratic colleagues yesterday and the vote today reflected their choosing him again as leader of their party. It was an indication also that they had chosen him as a senate leader, and not as the spokesman for President Roosevelt.

Thirty-nine Democrats joined 32 Republicans and one Progressive in voting to pass the bill over the veto. Voting to sustain the President were 13 Democrats and one Republican, Langer [R., N. D.].

Pepper Defends Veto.

Langer and Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.] defended the President's action in vetoing the bill—Pepper before the vote was taken, and Langer after the show was over. Theirs was the only oratory.

The issue was clear and the senate set to work immediately on convening. Forty-nine minutes later Vice President Wallace announced the bill had received the necessary two-thirds vote and was passed into law.

The throng which packed the galleries saw no fireworks, but had the satisfaction of knowing they had witnessed a historical windup to a history making three days in congress.

Long before noon there was standing room only in the senate galleries. The diplomatic gallery, seldom occupied, was opened to the public and it, too, was filled. As the senate began its session every available seat on the floor, including the leather lounges around the edge of the chamber, were filled.

Barkley Absent.

The senators were at their desks and representatives, congressional secretaries, and others who have access to the floor crowded the extra seats. Only one figure was absent—Sen. Barkley.

The quorum roll was called and Wallace ordered the President's veto message read. As the clerk intoned the President's words—"It is not a tax bill but a tax relief bill"—which had roused the ire of

Sickbed Vote Saves Record County Budget

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

In a dramatic meeting at which the deciding vote was cast almost inaudibly by a sick member wheeled in on a stretcher, the Democratic majority of the Cook county board yesterday adopted a 1944 budget of $24,385,918, greater by nearly 6 millions than the appropriations for 1943.

There are 10 Democrats on the board and five Republicans, and 10 votes were required. The roll call was on strictly party lines, Republican members opposing the budget because it included a tax levy of $13,473,000, nearly 4 million above the pegged levy of 9½ millions approved by the state legislature.

Maurice F. Kavanagh, chairman of the board's finance committee, and in past years the principal budget maker, was the man on the stretcher. He has been seriously ill for two months and was released from a hospital on Thursday.

Goes to Meeting in Ambulance.

Kavanagh was taken to the county building in an ambulance, escorted by Dr. Ole Nelson of County hospital staff, a nurse, and Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police, and was in the board room for only a few minutes.

Waxy pale, apparently quite weak, and reclining on pillows, Kavanagh was taken into the board room after Commissioner Daniel Ryan moved for approval of the budget. When his name was reached he voted aye. On a formal motion to reconsider he joined his party colleagues in voting no. His attendants started to take him away, but he stopped them until he was able to approve a proposal to advertise the budget, the final step in validating it.

There was a burst of applause when Kavanagh, who is 76 years old, left the room. Clayton F. Smith, board president, said Kavanagh stood the ordeal well and was reported in good condition when returned to his home in the Graemere hotel.

Attended of Own Will.

"Maurice volunteered to come in because he knows the county finances and knows that this was the best solution," Smith asserted. "This budget is one that will pay out and the extra levy will make it possible to reëstablish the county's credit."

Under the state law the county may adhere to the pegged levy of 9½ millions or may impose a tax of up to 32 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. Under the assessment last year, the peg was more than the full tax rate would yield. The new 100 per cent valuation basis for assessments ordered by Assessor Clark, however, raises the effective county taxing power to more than 18 millions.

The Republican minority felt that raising the tax levy was breaking faith with the legislature and the governor, who had increased the county revenues and removed some of its responsibilities, with a net gain of about a million dollars.

As adopted the budget calls for expenditures in 1944 of $20,432,000; the revenues are regarded as conservatively sufficient to meet the requirements.

The forest preserve board, which has the same members as the county board, approved a budget of $984,880, about $25,000 under the 1943 budget. The Republicans voted against this, on the ground that the 100 per cent assessment had made possible a part of the preserves' tax levy. In this case only a majority vote was needed and the budget was passed, 9 to 5.

MRS. HOOVER LEAVES 'FRIENDLY' NOTE TO SONS IN LIEU OF WILL

San Jose, Cal., Feb. 25 (AP).—In a letter to her two sons, Allan and Herbert Jr., Mrs. Herbert Clark Hoover disposed of her property in "a series of friendly requests which I make to you both, and to your father," the former President.

"You have been lucky boys," Mrs. Hoover wrote, "to have had such a father, and I am a lucky woman to have had my life's trail alongside the paths of three such men and boys."

Mrs. Hoover died in New York recently. The will was filed here today. The estate was described merely as "in excess of $10,000."

"There probably will not be more than enough cash in my bank account and the small securities in my possession to settle up the small personal affairs which I leave," Mrs. Hoover wrote. "If any should be left over, please divide it equally among you — likely for pocket money."

James Roosevelt Gets Star for Gallantry in Gilberts

Capital Spree Progresses to Arresting End

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—War was far from what Sherman said it was for the two young men in their resplendent officers' uniforms. They had plenty of money and a capacity for enjoyment. The swath they cut in the capital social swirl was wide and handsome.

In the hotel bars where they soon became reigning favorites, every one knew and acclaimed Maj. Allen Ward, 21, and Capt. J. E. Daley, 18.

The major told colorful stories of having shot down 21 enemy planes. And both he and the captain, with only slight urging, would relate to admiring audiences the variety of sensational actions in which they had participated in battle zones.

Nothing Too Costly.

Nothing was too costly for the two young men and their coterie of newly found friends. The treats were on them. With a deprecating air they cashed thousands of dollars worth of checks.

They had been here three weeks and were living in a $35 a day suite at one of Washington's leading hotels, when they decided last night to climax their round of pleasure with a sumptuous party at their hotel.

Their guests were gathered mostly from the hotel's cocktail lounge and neighboring rooms. They included some persons described by reliable sources as prominent.

Uninvited Guests Appear.

The party was at its height: The latest hits were pouring out of a juke box. The main dinner course was arriving. The hosts, their officers' insignia shining, were regaling the guests with more episodes of their exploits. Then the uninvited guests appeared.

They were FBI agents. Would the two officers be so good as to show their credentials? Unfortunately, the major and the captain couldn't locate them. As they were led away their guests gasped, looked longingly at the filet mignon, and faded away.

The "major" was identified as Douglas Allred, former bank employe of Portland, Ore. The "captain" was really Edward Malone of Brooklyn. Both had been dishonorably discharged from the army and had escaped recently from Fort Knox, Ky., where they were serving long terms for repeated military infractions.

The FBI said their worthless checks would run into several thousand dollars.

Chaplin Plea: Mann Act Not Meant for Me

Los Angeles, Cal. Feb. 25 [Special].—Charles Chaplin today contended that the Mann act was not intended to apply to him.

In a demurrer to his indictment on the charge of violating the act, the English former comedian asserted that the federal law was intended only to prevent "commercialized vice or the traffic in women for gain" and not to govern private acts.

Chaplin is charged with having transported Joan Berry, 23, his former protegee who claims he is the father of her baby, to New York and back to Los Angeles for the purpose of having her act as his mistress.

Asks Dismissal of Charge.

The demurrer, filed by his attorney, Jerry Giesler, was in support of an appeal to Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor to dismiss the Mann act charge on the principal ground that there were no women on the grand jury that returned the indictment.

Chaplin, accused in other indictments of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of Miss Berry by "railroading" her out of town, himself sought the protection of the Constitution in submitting his motion to quash the true bill.

His petition charged that women were discriminated against in not being permitted to serve on the grand jury and that he consequently was denied "the protection of the laws and due process of law as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States."

Discrimination Is Denied.

The motion to dismiss set out that the "jury commissioner and clerk of the United States District court arbitrarily, purposefully, intentionally and systematically" excluded women from the panel.

United States Atty. Charles H. Carr declared his willingness to stipulate that there were no women on the grand jury which indicted Chaplin but refused to stipulate that such omission of women constituted discrimination against them.

Judge O'Connor denied Chaplin's request for a postponement until March 9 for a further hearing and said he would decide tomorrow whether the plea would be granted. He instructed Giesler and Carr to prepare a stipulation of facts for his overnight consideration.

SEEKS TO ANNUL 5TH MARRIAGE TO SUE 4TH SPOUSE

New York, Feb. 25 [Special].—Mrs. Lele Daly Wells Ford, who found herself with two husbands last October when her divorce from her fourth husband was invalidated by a Chicago judge, today filed suit to annual her marriage to her fifth husband, Richard F. Ford, a Standard Oil company vice president.

The Fords separated two weeks after their marriage last Aug. 11.

Mrs. Ford's—or is it Wells'—divorce from Roe Wells was voided in Chicago when Judge John C. Lewe of Superior court held it was obtained by collusion. So Mrs. Ford is asking the annulment on the ground she was not legally free to marry Ford. If she wins the annulment she says she will see if she can get a decree from Wells that will stick.

HEAVY ATTACKS FOUGHT OFF IN MARIANAS RAID

Only 6 Aircraft Are Lost by U. S.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Feb. 25 (AP).—American carrier planes which attacked islands in the southern Marianas, less than 1,400 miles south of Tokio, on Feb. 22 pushed home their assault despite early detection by the enemy and fierce aerial and anti-aircraft opposition, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed today.

The attacks were concentrated on Saipan and Tinian islands, principal enemy bases in the Marianas, with a lighter strike at Guam. A total of 135 Japanese planes were destroyed in aerial combat and on the ground, Nimitz said. Only six American planes were lost. No United States ship was sunk or damaged.

Two Vessels Sunk.

Only a few enemy ships were found in Tanpag harbor at Saipan. One cargo vessel and a patrol ship were sunk and nine other craft were damaged.

The bold foray into the Marianas was the first attack of the war on that island group, one of Japan's inner ring of defenses.

Guam was not mentioned in the first terse announcement Wednesday that the task force had struck at the mandated archipelago, several hundred miles closer to Tokio than Truk.

Truk, Japan's principal mid-Pacific naval and supply base in the Caroline Islands, was raided Feb. 16 and 17 for the first time.

Raiders Led by Adm. Mitscher.

Both raids were made by task forces commanded by Rear Adm. Marc A. Mitscher.

Runways, seaplane aprons, and other airdrome facilities, fuel dumps and buildings were heavily bombed and strafed at Saipan and Tinian.

Adm. Nimitz said "a smaller raid was made at Guam," which the Japanese seized in December, 1941, from the United States.

Guam is 125 miles south of Saipan.

Simultaneously, Adm. Nimitz reported 7th army air force Liberators bombarded wharfs, radio facilities, and the cantonment area on Kusaie, in the eastern Carolines, Feb. 23.

Ship Sunk at Kusaie.

The same day navy search Liberators sank one ship and damaged another in an attack on the Kusaie dock areas. Navy planes also exploded one ammunition dump with bombs.

Four Marshalls atolls also were attacked in the series of almost daily neutralizing raids.

Adm. Mitscher's carrier force underwent the fiercest, most determined Japanese attack of the Central Pacific campaign since a series of night attacks resulted in the sinking of the escort carrier Liscomb Bay, Dec. 4, in the Marshalls.

Thruout February our task forces had roamed great expanses of the Central Pacific almost unmolested, bombarding Japanese bases from the Marshalls to the Marianas.

Battleships in Attack Force.

Adm. Nimitz said Adm. Mitscher's force was detected approaching Tinian and Saipan the afternoon of Feb. 21, the day preceding the attack on those islands.

The Japanese quickly organized and continuously attacked Adm. Mitscher's forces—consisting of battleships, cruisers, and destroyers as well as carriers—thruout the night and morning with long range land based torpedo planes and bombers.

Nineteen of the attackers were destroyed—14 by ships' anti-aircraft fire and five by fighters.

Despite severe mental and nervous strain from being under heavy attack thruout the sleepless night, with some Japanese undoubtedly getting in close enough to launch torpedoes, the carrier pilots flew off on schedule around dawn.

The American torpedo planes and bombers pressed home two bombardments on both Saipan and Tinian, as well as the attack on Guam, despite continuing Jap fighter opposition and anti-aircraft barrages.

The Japanese attempting to thwart the bombardment lost 29 planes shot down over Saipan and Tinian. Despite the long warning they had of the attack, 87 of their planes were wrecked on the ground.

Adm. Nimitz said several American planes were damaged in the Marshalls raids, altho all returned to base. The only information available on the extent of these raids was the terse statement that army Mitchell bombers, Warhawk fighters, and navy search planes "bombed and strafed ground installations on four enemy held atolls."

None of the atolls was identified.

BLAST RABAUL AGAIN

ALLIED HDQ. IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 26 [Saturday]—(AP).—Rabaul's network of airdromes, which is being raided daily, failed Wednesday for the fourth straight day to send up a single interceptor, Gen. MacArthur reported today, as Solomons based bombers smashed it with 33 tons of bombs.

Ranging over the Bismarck archipelago, where allied ships and planes are steadily neutralizing all Japanese bases, allied bombers also hit Hansa bay, Wewak, and Madang, New Guinea, the Admiralty Islands, and New Ireland.

Other bombers slashed at Japanese positions on Bougainville.

On the northeast New Guinea coast American ground forces moving toward the enemy coastal base of Madang captured two small villages northwest of Saidor.

Attack Three Supply Areas.

Thirteenth air force Mitchells, with a fighter escort, poured their explosives at Rabaul on the supply areas for Keravat, Vunakanau, and Vunapope airdromes.

In 23 days this month, 1,829 tons of bombs have been dropped on Rabaul. In that same period, 230 planes definitely have been shot down, 87 probably destroyed in the air and 42 wiped out on the ground at a cost of 37 raiding planes.

Targets of New Ireland Raid.

New Ireland, Kavieng, a supply base for Rabaul on the route from Truk, has been a favored target of destroyers and planes, but today's reports told of air blows being diverted elsewhere. Katherine bay, about midway along the south coast, was hit. On the seaward approaches to Rabaul, the bombers struck at Cape St. George and at Duke of York Island, shelled only Tuesday by destroyers.

On New Guinea, the Wewak raiders escorted Liberators, poured 60 tons of bombs on anti-aircraft positions and dive bombers went after gun positions at Hansa bay, midway between Wewak and Madang.

ASSERTS SUBS HELPED YANKS WIN MARSHALLS

U. S. SUBMARINE BASE, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 25 (AP).—American submarine skippers who have sunk nearly 500 Japanese ships were credited today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz with a big share of the success of the conquest of the Gilbert and Marshall Islands.

"The enemy did not come to the rescue of his beleaguered garrisons in the Gilberts or Marshalls for reasons best known to himself," the Pacific fleet commander said at a ceremony in which he decorated two admirals and 19 officers and men of the submarine service. "However, I believe that insufficient shipping and an unbalanced fleet were among the reasons. This acute shortage of shipping and lack of sufficient screening types is the result of the steady whittling down of his merchant marine and combatant ships. Our gallant submarines have done much of the whittling down."

Nimitz pinned the legion of merit on Vice Adm. John T. Towers of Washington, D. C., commander of the air force of the Pacific fleet and Nimitz' new deputy commander, and on Vice Adm. Charles A. Lockwood of Lamar, Mo., commander of submarines of the Pacific fleet. A silver star was presented to Electrician's Mate Russel F. Smith of South Bend, Ind.

REPAIR BUILDING OR RAZE IT, CITY DEMANDS IN SUIT

Paul Gerhardt Jr., city architect and building commissioner, said yesterday that the city has determined that the fire damaged building at 51 E. Wacker dr., at the corner of Wabash av., must be razed or remodeled. It is an eyesore and a potential menace, he added.

The city has filed suit in Municipal court against Murray Wolbach, 110 S. Dearborn st., real estate dealer and agent for the building, demanding action. The case will be heard March 9 by Judge Erwin J. Hasten. Wolbach's office said that it is planned to tear down the structure, but that there has been a delay in insurance adjustments.

The building is five stories in height, but, standing on the lower level, shows only four stories above Wacker dr. It was more than 50 per cent destroyed by fire Nov. 10, 1943. It was best known for its Vesuvio restaurant.

LET NEW BRITAIN GO TO U. S.? NO! SAYS AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 25 (AP).—The Australian government would not for one moment entertain suggestions that New Britain Island be handed over to the United States, Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister of external affairs, today told the house of representatives. Neither would it entertain similar suggestions concerning New Caledonia and New Hebrides, he said.

The suggestions had been made by Keith Murdoch in the Melbourne Herald.

[Until it was occupied by the Japanese in 1942, New Britain Island was administered by Australia under a league of nations mandate.]

CABINET MOVES TO STEP UP WAR EFFORT IN JAPAN

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—In an unusual procedure reserved for grave crises in Japanese events, the cabinet of Premier Hideki Tojo met at the imperial palace to pass stringent regulations designed to strengthen the war effort, the Tokio radio announced today.

Japan also announced 6,500 of its men were killed in the American capture of Kwajalein and Roi Islands in the Marshalls, but Navy Minister Adm. Shigetaro Shimada said the navy is determined to carry on the war "with unshakeable confidence in victory."

The Tokio reports, recorded by United States government monitors, said "an outline of emergency management" had been agreed upon by the cabinet and measures were prepared to concentrate the nation's full strength on increased fighting power.

Geisha Houses Closed.

"The items included simplification of national livelihood, renovation of the labor structure, and conversion of various businesses to render them more efficient," the broadcast said.

A Berlin version of the meeting said the cabinet had ordered the closing of geisha houses, luxury restaurants, and similar places of entertainment. Other measures were adopted to prepare mobilization of students and expansion of work by women.

The Vichy radio said the cabinet had met at the palace in only two other periods of national crisis—in 1923 following the great earthquake and in 1936 following the mutiny in which three leading Japanese statesmen were assassinated by Japanese military men.

An imperial headquarters report said 4,500 men of army and navy units and 2,000 civilians serving with them died in the Marshall Islands strongholds early this month. American figures put the enemy dead at 8,122, compared with 286 United States troops killed.

Navy Is Braver, Nazis Told.

A Tokio broadcast to Germany citing Shimada's reference to the announcement of the losses stated that "Navy Minister Shimada added that the Japanese navy is fighting the enemy today more bravely than ever before."

The broadcast Japanese bulletin said:

A member of one of Japan's royal families — Lt. Marquis Mashiko Otawa, second son of Gen. Prince Yasuhiko Asaka—was among those who died at Kwajalein.

Rate of Venereal Disease in Canadian Forces Cut

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 25 (AP).—The defense department today announced the incidence of venereal disease among Canada's forces has been cut from one man in every 16 in 1940 to one in every 35 in 1943. During World War I. the rate was one in six. An R. C. A. F. survey disclosed more infections are acquired in Quebec than in other provinces and that the city of Montreal was the worst offender.

PATHOS MINGLES WITH SMILES AS RAIDERS RETURN

Loved Ones on Hand to Greet Marines.

BY CHARLES BALLENGER.

An expectant crowd milled about the entrance to track No. 5. Elderly women and men mingled with pretty, young girls. A few small children rubbed peep holes in the smoky glass looking out on the track. Every one wore the same look of hopeful joy, tinged with a slight apprehension. Most of them had been waiting at the station for more than three hours.

Suddenly the voice of the train announcer boomed out over the station: "Santa Fe Scout now coming in on track 5." The waiters jostled one another and pressed closer to the track entrance. A few men and women began to cry softly. A hush fell over every one.

There to Meet Raiders.

This was the scene yesterday as mothers, fathers, brothers, and sweethearts waited at the Dearborn station to meet 22 Chicago marines, all members of the famous Carlson's Raiders, most of whom have been in active fighting areas for more than a year.

As the marines filed out of the train shed, each one to be caught in the arms of his mother, father or sweetheart, on the left breast of their tunics could be seen the brightly colored ribbons which signified participation in the battles for Midway, Guadalcanal, Makin, and Bougainville, in the South Pacific.

Among the campaign ribbons was another which showed the group had received a blanket citation from Lt. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift for its offensive operations against Japanese troops on Guadalcanal Island.

Returning Men Listed.

The men who arrived were:

YANKS' GUNNERS CALL SHOTS FOR GEN. EISENHOWER

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 25.—On cold, windswept moors here the Tribune correspondent today saw American armored units in coöperation with the infantry, artillery, and air force training for what Prime Minister Churchill has predicted will be the largest scale military operations in the history of war.

Generals Eisenhower and Bernard L. Montgomery, Air Chief Marshal Arthur William Tedder and other high allied officers who had been spending many days on general inspection tours of all allied forces in Britain were present.

Altho a mock battle in which tanks attacked dug-in positions on a line to which they had moved the night before was going on, this was only incidental to the training all units were undergoing.

Generals Call Targets.

Today's show was entirely American. Owing to the restricted areas for maneuver and artillery fire miniature tank exercises are held and the training is now so perfected that every operation of fire control is taught with rifles shooting on a simulated miniature battleground.

Observers today were calling the same signals they would give in real tank warfare. Targets no larger than bottle corks were knocked out. The extreme accuracy obtained from this training by real tanks was demonstrated later when several tanks with no more than four shots at most, and several times with first shots, hit any target on the landscape called by Generals Eisenhower and Montgomery.

The targets and shooting were varied, so that gunners ricocheted shells into supposed foxholes, set dummy tanks afire, and broke up supposed enemy concentrations.

Engineer Directs Fire.

Later indirect firing with long range artillery in which gunners relied entirely on signals from an advanced observation post also demonstrated the accuracy of this weapon. Indeed ordinary engineers were being taught how to direct fire from advance posts and, while one shell went far over a target designated by Gen. Montgomery, the general told the engineer trying for direction for the first time:

"You've got to do better than that." The next shot hit the target on the nose.

At one station Eisenhower made a present of a United States carbine to Montgomery. Montgomery sighted the gun with one hand and said, "It balances beautifully."

There were many Chicagoans and other middle westerners in the units. This correspondent shared a four bunk billet with Thomas B. Osker, 36, of 4254 N. Wolcott av., Chicago, a warrant officer. In another bunk was Warrant Officer Max Lachman, 24, whose parents live at 3638 North av., Chicago.

Gets Tribune Late.

Lt. John Rehmann, 27, whose family lives in Moline, Ill., complained that he has subscribed to THE TRIBUNE but that it is arriving six weeks late. He asked, as did many others, when the overseas edition would be available here.

Capt. Robert M. Scher of 7023 Jeffery av., a dentist, asked to be remembered to his folks.

One officer said that more than a third of his unit came from Chicago and the midwest. Even the generals remarked at the midwesterners' stalwart physiques, and how they had adapted themselves to the British weather.

Maj. William James Carney Jr., 23, of Chicago, also is a member of this unit. He graduated from Princeton university in 1940 and then entered military service.

Lt. Col. Lawton F. Garner, whose wife lives at 1426 South 4th st., Hoopeston, Ill., said his Jan. 9 TRIBUNE arrived Feb. 21. Lt. Col. Irving J. Newman, the officer conducting the inspection party today, is a native Chicagoan.

PEARL HARBOR 'TRUTH' TO GO IN NAVAL RECORD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Navy Secretary Knox announced today assignment of Adm. Thomas C. Hart to record testimony of naval officers acquainted with the situation, "pertinent to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941."

Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, commanders of the area at that time, have been accused of dereliction of duty. They have waived statute of limitation regulations so that they may be tried when the war situation permits.

Knox said the gathering of testimony was decided upon "to see that the whole truth is revealed when the case is brought up for trial."

He said some of the officers who served at Pearl Harbor may die in action, and "we want to have the testimony available" in that event. Hart will question the officers at their present stations.

Red Army Victories Revive Estonia Paper

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Soviet Estoni, organ of the central committee of the Communist party of Estonia and of the supreme soviet of the Estonian soviet socialist republic, has resumed publication "after an interruption of 30 months," Moscow radio said today. The broadcast said the first issue had announced entrance of the Red army into Estonia and liberation of "the first few dozen of Estonian villages."

154 REPATRIATES REACH LISBON ON WAY TO U. S.

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 25 (AP).—Three trains bearing 154 United States citizens and other repatriates from Latin American countries arrived late today to complete a six day journey from internment camps in Germany and prepare the way for an exchange of nationals by the allies and the axis here tomorrow.

The trip was cold and tiring, but the travelers found comfort and food—their first real beefsteak dinner in more than a year—awaiting them as they climbed out of the coaches at the railway station on the quayside.

Portuguese Red Cross workers carried off 37 wounded on stretchers, among them 19 United States airmen, 17 American soldiers, and one Pole.

The liner Gripsholm, bringing 1,294 axis nationals from America, anchored in the Tagus river tonight and will dock tomorrow morning. Its passengers will board trains immediately and leave during the day for Germany.

U. S. Civilians on Way.

IRUN, Spain, Feb. 25 (AP).—German occupation authorities at Biarritz, France, have made arrangements for some 350 American civilians interned as enemy aliens in German controled territories to join the American diplomatic party at Lisbon, which is being exchanged for German nationals.

The American civilians are scheduled to cross the Spanish frontier Feb. 28 and to be repatriated aboard the Gripsholm along with 37 wounded United States war prisoners, diplomats, and several hundred newspaper correspondents and other civilians.

Held Bid for Precedent.

Announcement of the new repatriation was made at the last minute as the diplomatic internees were leaving Germany, and apparently was intended as a precedent to initiate exchange with the United States of this new category. The civilian internees will include almost all United States citizens in the German internment camps of Tittmoning and Laufen, both on the old Austro-German frontier.

Fifty internees were added after hasty negotiations, from Camp Royal Lieu near Compiegne.

Jap Gives Up to Hoosier, So General Sets 'Em Up

BOUGAINVILLE, Solomon Islands, Feb. 25 (AP).—A Japanese recently came thru the lines at Bougainville with his hands up and said he was tired of the whole business. He surrendered to Sgt. Frank Kockes of Gary, Ind., who got a case of beer from Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge as the prize promised any soldier who captured a Japanese.

Evacuation of Vienna Planned, Hungary Says

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 25 (AP).—A Budapest dispatch to the Morgon Tidningen said today that Vienna authorities were preparing to evacuate the former Austrian capital beginning March 1.

HIT FRANKFURT ON 7TH DAY OF BIGGEST AIR WAR

Yanks and British Strike Nazis from 2 Sides.

LONDON, Feb. 26 [Saturday]—(AP).—American heavy bombers flying south from England and north from Italy in an unprecedented coordinated attack blasted Messerschmitt airplane works at Regensburg deep inside Germany yesterday, and early today Berlin reported that R. A. F. night bombers struck Frankfurt, carrying into the seventh day the mightiest aerial assault of the war. London announced officially that Germany had been attacked last night.

The bombers from England were escorted yesterday by the greatest United States army air force fighter group ever dispatched from British bases, estimated at more than 1,000 planes. They flew 1,100 miles round trip for the deepest American fighter penetration into enemy territory and knocked down 27 Nazi planes Three fighters were reported missing. Thirty-one heavy bombers failed to return.

The British-based bombers also were disclosed to have bombarded a ball-bearing works at Stuttgart, a Messerschmitt assembly center and experimental station at Augsburg, and a major air frame factory at Furth, five miles northwest of Nuremberg.

Blows Follow R. A. F. Raids.

These daylight blows followed R. A. F. night assaults in which well over 1,000 bombers were sent over Germany from Britain, most of them concentrating on the bearing factories at Schweinfurt, while R. A F. Wellingtons winging northward from Italy bombarded airplane plants at Steyr, Austria. The R. A. F. blows were against targets hit by the American heavies from Britain and Italy a few hours earlier.

With the destruction of 36 Nazi planes in yesterday's attacks on Schweinfurt and Gotha, American fighters in the European theater had downed 1,070 enemy planes against a loss of 308 in all their operations, the United States 8th air force announced. The terrific tempo of the courrent series of assaults is shown by the fact that 510 of the German planes were shot down from Sunday thru Thursday. The Americans lost 165 heavy bombers during these five days.

Bomb Regensburg Together.

The Regensburg raid marked the first time this week that British based planes and Italian based planes hit at the same target simultaneously. Bombers from the 15th air force arrived from their Italian bases over Regensburg first and the target was filled with smoke and flame when the Flying Fortresses from the 8th air force roared in to deliver the coup de grace.

The Americans flying from Britain reported little enemy fighter opposition, but some of the big Liberators flying north from Italy were under attack over an hour by about 100 Nazi planes, of which more than 25 were claimed to have been shot down. Zell and Graz, in southern Austria, were also attacked by the Italy based bombers.

Lt. Wilber R. Kendall, 20, of 3919 North av., Chicago, participated in the Yank raid on Steyr.

In a raid on two German landing grounds at Fabrica di Roma, 2d Lt. Robert C. Saxton, 1416 E. 69th st., Chicago, pilot, said the Mitchells met no enemy aircraft and only scattered flak.

AIRMAN HOME TO GLEN ELLYN FROM 40 RAIDS

Lt. John D. Dittmar.

First Lt. John D. Dittmar of 715 Highland av., Glen Ellyn, came home yesterday after 40 missions as a bombardier-navigator with the 15th air force wanting nothing more than a rest, a few good shows, a lot of milk, and a chance at his mother's cooking.

The 21 year old flyer won the Purple Heart and the air medal with seven oak leaf clusters. He has seen action over Africa, Pantelleria, Sicily, Italy, and Sardinia.

Lt. Dittmar told of bombing ships in the harbor a Olbia, Sardinia, of bombing the Antheor viaduct in southern France, being wounded in the hand and shoulder and leading 118 planes over the Salon air field in France. Twice his plane crashed in take-offs and once his pilot was killed.

Dittmar enlisted in March, 1942. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Dittmar and was graduated from New Trier High school in 1939. His father was a hero in World War I., winning the croix de guerre and the Purple Heart.

SWISS HEAD OFF AND FORCE DOWN TWO U. S. FORTS

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 25.—Two American Flying Fortresses from a formation which flew over Switzerland this afternoon were intercepted and forced down by Swiss fighter pilots, according to an official bulletin from Swiss army headquarters tonight.

The pilot of one fortress ordered his crew to bail out, then put the plane into a dive to crash near Kirchberg, before jumping himself. The other landed at Duebendorf, near Zurich. The crews of both planes were interned.

CAMP ELLIS UNIT APPEARS WITH THEATER OF AIR

Give 'Blossom Time' for WACs Tonight.

Outstanding entertainers from Camp Ellis, Ill., will come to Chicago to present a special program before more than 4,000 spectators in Medinah temple at the conclusion of the Chicago Theater of the Air's broadcast of Sigmund Romberg's "Blossom Time" this evening.

Col. John Sullivan [top] and Corp. Julian Leviton.

Both the broadcast and the Camp Ellis program will be dedicated to WAC recruiting and will be held under auspices of the treasury department in the interest of war bond sales. The operetta will be broadcast from 8 to 9 p. m. over W-G-N, WGNB, and the Mutual system.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak during the broadcast.

Foote in Schubert Role.

Marion Claire will be starred as Mitzi. Bruce Foote will sing for Igor Gorin, baritone, as Franz Schubert. Gorin became ill yesterday. Attilio Baggiore, tenor, will portray Baron Schober. Henry Weber will direct the W-G-N Symphony orchestra and chorus.

The dramatic cast will include Laurette Fillbrandt as Mitzi, Marin Mueller as Schubert; Norman Gottschalk as Schober; Eloise Kummer as Grace; Dick Good as von Schwind, and John Barclay as narrator. John Holbrook is announcer; Jack La Frandre, producer.

After the broadcast, Dr. Wesley A. Young of the treasury's speakers bureau, will address the audience.

The camp show, which is a regular 6th service command "Meet the Public" program, is designed to acquaint the public with army work and to stimulate WAC recruiting. More than 3,000 WACs and prospective WACs are expected to attend the program.

Commander to Speak.

The 75 minute Camp Ellis program will include an address by Col. John S. Sullivan, commanding officer.

Corp. Leroy Edgerton and Pvt. Walter Jones, dancers known in civilian days as Nip & Tuck, will participate. Sgt. Joseph Huck will accompany Pvt. Albert Gillis in a violin solo. Corp. Julian Leviton, known to Chicago audiences for his piano recitals at Kimball hall and the Grant park concerts, will play popular classics.

Doors of Medinah temple will open at 7:15 p. m.

Strong Temblor Reported Felt in Rumanian Capital

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—The Hungarian MTI agency said that a "strong earthquake, accompanied by underground rumblings," was felt tonight in Bucharest, Rumanian capital.

YANK GUN CREWS HELP FIGHT OFF LONDON RAIDERS

Midwestern Men Fire Anti-Aircraft Rifle.

LONDON, Feb. 25 (AP).—At the first rising notes of the raid sirens, a crisp midwestern voice commanded—"action commences."

"Huns. . . . More target practice," added Sgt. Harold L. Paulsen, West Branch, Ia., gun commander of this first American battery to join London's air raid defense belt.

Into the gun pit of a long snouted rifle named "Piccadilly Lil" scrambled Paulsen's crew, and soon "Lil's" detectors picked up the faint but unmistakable buzz of an approaching raider.

From then on, it was mostly a matter of load—fire—reload. Mechanical brains did practically all the rest. For the better part of an hour the guns of this battery added their bark last night to London's barrage—one of the noisiest shows on earth.

Illinoisan Fires Gun.

There were many targets. Some could be seen; some couldn't. Twice German bombers were coned in searchlight shafts, and then the boys laid it on thick and fast.

In a split second after Corp. Gunner Charles Stewart of West Frankfost, Ill., fired a long burst, exploding ack-ack twinkled all around one of the weaving planes. The trapped enemy plane faltered and lost altitude, out by then it appeared that every other gun in town was firing at the plane, and the Americans could claim only a probable destruction of the target.

"We have been in action for some time, but we've gotten in more shooting the last week than at all other times put together," said Capt. David B. Anderson, 25 year old battery commander from Osakis, Minn.

Keep Their Humor Alive.

This was the busiest night yet for the American gun crews, who kept their sense of humor as they went about their tasks. During a lull, Pvt. Joseph Ratti boasted he was the best loader this side of Hoboken, N. J., his home town.

He was immediately challenged by Corp. Edward Kennedy of Aurora, Ill., fuse range setter. Pvt. 1st Cl. John S. Pivarnik, Homestead, Pa., nonchalantly sang "I Got the Heebie Jeebies," as he passed the ammunition. Pvt. John Fitzpatrick, Washington, D. C., chimed in with an off key rendition of "Pistol Packin' Mama!"

Among Paulsen's crew were Corp. Herman W. Clevenger, Peoria, Ill., ammunition chief, and Pvt. William Ritchason, Macedonia, Ill., gun layer.

TERRORIST ACTS ON INCREASE IN PALESTINE AREAS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

JERUSALEM, Palestine, Feb. 25.—Political terrorist activity has been showing a marked increase lately in Palestine, probably in the belief that it will force the British to favor extremist Jewish nationalist demands.

The authors of the attacks—the latest was the explosion of two time bombs inside British police cars at Haifa yesterday—belong to a small group calling itself the Nationalist Military organization. Its acts have been condemned by most Jews as harmful to the Jewish cause. Twenty dissident revolutionaries recently escaped from a detention camp near Jerusalem and are believed to have joined an even more extremist faction, whose leader, Abraham Stern, was killed in February, 1942.

Arab newspapers have joined the Jewish press in demanding the apprehension and punishment of the lawless elements.

HIP FRACTURE CAUSES DEATH.

A hip fracture received in a fall at his home Dec. 10 resulted in the death yesterday in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, of John J. Dwyer, 67, of 821 Ridge av., Evanston.

REDS HALT NAZI BLOWS AND GAIN IN WHITE RUSSIA

LONDON, Feb. 26 [Saturday] (AP).—The Germans made 14 counter-attacks north of Rogachev in White Russia yesterday but their effort to repair the gap torn in their lines guarding the upper Dnieper river and Minsk failed with a loss of 2,500 men, Moscow announced today.

At the same time advancing Russian forces in the north rolled the Germans back on Pskov in a great arc reaching points 20 miles northwest, 23 miles northeast and 48 miles east of the Baltic gateway.

Advance Beyond Rogachev.

Advancing north of Rogachev, captured on Thursday, the Russians met determined German resistance, bolstered by large numbers of men rushed into the area. But, said the midnight war report, recorded here by the soviet radio monitor, the Germans were thrown back and several populated places were captured.

In the north 1,100 Germans were killed as the Russians captured 54 localities in their march on Pskov, the great northern communications hub of lines leading to Latvia and southern Estonia. Two railway stations south of Dno on the line to Nevel were captured. One of these is 20 miles beyond Dno.

Thus the entire upper half of the Russian line flamed into action as several Russian armies pressed west from the vicinity of Pskov all the way down to Rogachev—a battle-front of approximately 400 miles—in a drive to throw the Germans out of White Russia.

No New Mention of Vitebsk.

Tho the Berlin radio yesterday announced the Germans had evacuated the White Russian citadel of Vitebsk, later broadcasts and the subsequent German high command report did not repeat the claim and the status of the city remained in doubt.

Vitebsk has been a kingpin of the Nazi defense line and for many weeks held off Russians encamped just a few miles away. It is on the main Moscow-Smolensk-Dvinsk-Riga road 80 miles northeast of Smolensk and 110 miles from the Latvian border.

The Germans also announced resumption of the soviet drive into pre-war Poland in the direction of the Polish city of Lwow.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Of Russia, Germany's official war bulletin, broadcast by Berlin, said yesterday:

"In the Krivoi Rog area and at Zvenigorodka [Dnieper bend], all soviet attacks were frustrated again yesterday. Our attacks west of Zvenigorodka and the region south of the Pripet marshes made further progress despite stiff enemy resistance.

"South of the Berezina river and north of Rogachev [White Russia] heavy defensive fighting is continuing with the enemy receiving reenforcements.

"Rogachev was evacuated on the night preceding Feb. 24 after all installations had been blown up. Further north, our troops, counterattacking, threw back advanced soviet forces and wiped out a group which had broken into German lines.

Claim Success Near Vitebsk.

"Southeast of Vitebsk, soviet attacks and repeated attempts to widen the salient collapsed.

"Between the railway line from Pskov and Luga and the lake of Pskov [northern front], the soviets with fresh forces thrown into action repeated their attacks aiming at a break thru. Enemy attacks were foiled.

"Our troops reconquered the island of Pirissaar in Lake Peipus and remained in possession of it despite several soviet counter-attacks.

"Southwest of Narva [Estonia], violent enemy thrusts remained without success. An attack made by Estonian volunteers northwest of the city after embittered fighting led to the removal of an enemy bridgehead across the Narva river."

Hubby, 81 and 115, Beams on New Bride, 34 and 356

RELIEVE INDIAN UNIT CUT OFF BY JAPS IN BURMA

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 25 (AP).—The 7th Indian division, cut off three weeks ago by a Japanese breakthru, has been relieved, altho communications with forces still outside the Japanese ring are insecure, Adm. Louis Mountbatten's headquarters said today. Several units of the Jap encircling forces were said to be in a serious situation.

Southeast Asia headquarters said the road thru the Ngakyedauk pass, which had been blocked about 10 days, "is already in use." The Japanese still hold positions immediately northeast of the east end of the pass, but are being attacked.

In north Burma Chinese patrols pursued retreating enemy forces from the Balu valley in a drive to clear the way for the Ledo road to China. The Chinese have occupied the town of Yawnbang Ga.

British and American bombers attacked Akyab air fields, Moulmein, and Martaban jetties and railway sheds, and several other enemy positions and air fields.

Planes Save Men in Trap.

BRITISH 14TH ARMY HDQ. IN BURMA, Feb. 25 (AP).—A dozen American sergeants piloting tiny army liaison planes evacuated 400 wounded British and Indian soldiers cut off by enemy action on the Arakan front in Burma, it was learned today. They flew two seated planes nearly 1,000 miles in short hops from their home base to a few miles behind the British lines, then made several trips a day across the Mayu mountain ridge to a British camp.

ARMY'S BATTLE DOGS FIGHT OR FROLIC ON COMMAND AT SHOW

The role that war dogs are playing on foreign battlefields was vividly demonstrated yesterday afternoon in the Boston Store. They attacked machine gun nests, captured fleeing saboteurs, struck down enemy sentries and then, a few minutes later, played with youngster present.

The dogs were trained by the army military police board, Fort Custer, Mich., commanded by Col. Leslie Connett. The officer in charge of yesterday's demonstration, Capt. Arthur Bell Jr., explained that all of the dogs being trained at Fort Custer are taught to attack only on command. They are as friendly as house pets when off duty or during routine work, but are so thoroly trained that they will attack their own handlers if so ordered.

The demonstration was held in conjunction with the dog show and puppy match being staged in the Boston store by the Skokie Valley Kennel club. The army dogs will appear again at noon and at 3 this afternoon. The puppy match will start at 2 p. m.

ALLIES IMPROVE ITALY POSITIONS; BEAT OFF NAZIS

Germans Add a Tenth Division to Forces.

ALLIED HDQ. Naples, Feb. 25 (AP).—Allied troops steadily improved their positions on both fronts in Italy yesterday and threw back several German attacks of company strength, headquarters announced today.

It was disclosed that German forces ringing the allied beachhead near Rome had been swollen by another infantry division brought down from northern Italy, bringing the total Nazi strength in that sector to 10 divisions.

The allies, sensitive to the prospect of another big German attack, engaged in active combat patroling all around the 30 mile perimeter of the battleground. Opposing artillery rumbled constantly.

Await Clear Weather.

Indications were that both sides were awaiting only a let-up in the miserable weather conditions to renew their respective assaults—the Nazis against the beachhead and the allies against Cassino's stubborn defenses. Rain had turned the beachhead into a veritable swamp over much of its area, hamstringing the Germans' 60 ton "Tiger" tanks, while a seven inch snow around Cassino proved an equal handicap to the attacking allies there.

[A Berlin correspondent of the Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet said the Germans regarded the situation on the beachhead as "the calm before the storm." The same writer said the allies were bringing up heavy reënforcements on the Cassino front and were expected to launch a new attack there momentarily.]

The Germans made two "feeler" attacks yesterday southwest of Carroceto, which is 10 miles north of Anzio. Both were repulsed. A company of infantry—usually about 200 men—was estimated to have participated in each of these thrusts. An allied spokesman said that "nuisance" enemy infiltrations south of Carroceto were being kept under control.

Scatter Nazi Tanks.

Allied artillery caught a group of Nazi tanks concentrating near Aprilia, just east of Carroceto, yesterday and scattered them.

Despite the heavy snow around Cassino, allied troops improved their positions on Monte Castellone northwest of the town. A light German force attacked French positions on Monte Abate, just east of Terelle, but was repulsed by artillery fire.

The Mediterranean air forces flew 950 sorties yesterday. Only four German planes were seen over all Italy during the day.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

The German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin yesterday said of the fighting in Italy:

"In Italy, there were no fighting operations of importance. Our long range batteries, with telling effect, continued shelling enemy disembarkations in the Nettuno area as well as enemy supply traffic."

ADMIRAL'S WIFE WILL BE SPONSOR OF LANDING SHIP

Mrs. Arthur S. Carpender, wife of the new commandant of the 9th naval district, will be the sponsor Monday when LST 600, another of a long series of tank landing ships, is launched in the Seneca, Ill., yards of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company. Rear Adm. Carpender will accompany his wife at the launching and later inspect the ship yard.

The LST 600 is a 327 foot 5,500 ton tank carrier for use in amphibious operations such as have been conducted recently in Italy and for many months in the South and Southwest Pacific theaters of operations. Because of the impending invasion of Europe production of tank landing ships has been placed in the highest priority category for 1944.

George T. Horton, president of the shipbuilding company will preside at the launching. Capt. Wallace R. Dowd, supervisor of shipbuilding in the Chicago area, will introduce the new district commandant, and Rear Adm. Carpender will speak. Company executives will entertain the navy officers and their party at luncheon.

GAS CUT THREAT LAID TO COUPON COUNTERFEITING

OPA Hit for Failing to Curb Illicit Uses.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

If office of price administration officials in Washington cut A gasoline rations in the midwest from three to two gallons, as it is reported they plan to do by March 15, they will be penalizing midwestern motorists for their own inability to stop the wide-spread counterfeiting of coupons, it was charged yesterday.

The charge came from members of the district 2 petroleum industry committee as Rae E. Walters, regional OPA administrator, contended that black market losses of gasoline in Illinois have reached the total of 144,650 gallons out of the state's daily allotment of 2,893,000 gallons.

Walters said his figures were based on nation-wide surveys showing that an average of 5 per cent of civilian motor fuel is being siphoned away thru illicit means and uses.

Walters Hints at Cut.

Walters indicated that a further cut may be coming soon. "If gasoline diverted illicitly were restored," he said, "A card holders might expect an increase of 25 per cent—45 miles a month—in rations. As it is, they face the possibility of a reduction."

District 2 comprises the 15 middle west states in which it is reported OPA proposes to reduce the ration from three to two gallons. Oil men said that 68 per cent of all motorists hold only A books, so that some 10 million Chicago and middle-western motorists will be affected.

While Walters was giving out figures on the alleged extent of the black market, W. W. Vanderveer, director of district 2 for the petroleum administration for war, disclosed that no cut has been made by PAW so far in the midwest's allotment of motor fuel.

"No Reason for Reduction."

"The certification for the first quarter of 1944 was made from Washington last Dec. 16 and fixed at 433,000 barrels—more than 18 million gallons — daily," Vanderveer said. "I see no reason for any reduction unless there is some sudden increase in military demands."

"If OPA makes a cut in A rations," said one oil man, "it will be to compensate for the alleged losses thru counterfeiting or stealing of coupons. But who knows what those losses really are?"

YANK BAGS TWO NAZIS WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, Feb. 25 (AP).—Thunderbolt pilot 2d Lt. John A. Forrest of Clio, Mich., claimed today the destruction of two German Meserschmitts in yesterday's raid on Steyr, Austria, without firing a shot.

Ten miles from the target, his plane developed engine trouble. He was preparing to bail out when he saw eight ME-109s approaching. He managed to turn his crippled plane into the path of the fighters.

Four of them pulled away. Others came on in such close formation that two of them collided and went down in flames. The other two flew away.

"Whew!" said Forrest. He changed his mind about bailing out, got the motor started again and limped back to his base.

The Yanks destroyed 36 Nazi planes in the raid and lost 21 of their aircraft.

RAMIREZ OUSTER CASTS DOUBT ON ARGENTINE AIMS

'Only Temporary'

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 25.—After Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, who will henceforth be known as "vice president in the exercise of executive power," took possession of his new post this morning he received the press and emphasized that he was in the presidency only temporarily. He added: "I have only just arrived and therefore I cannot yet say what I shall do or shall not do. I can only say that my actions will be guided by what I consider are in the best interests of the country."

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 25 (AP).—Argentina's new anti-axis policy was suddenly thrown into doubt today as the reactionary "colonel's lodge," led by Col. Juan Domingo Peron, forced out President Gen. Pedro Ramirez and replaced him with Vice President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell.

The Ramirez government broke with the axis last month and issued a report of axis espionage in that country. When Foreign Minister Alberto Gilbert followed up with a statement in favor of declaring war on Germany he was ousted last week by the "colonels."

Reports from Buenos Aires said that Ramirez had planned to infuse new blood into his cabinet, seeking to drop the ultra-nationalistic group which has favored the axis.

Ramirez Tells Need for "Rest."

Farrell, an intimate friend of Peron, who has been called "the power behind the throne," was reported to have met late last night with a group of army officers, conferring until early morning, when they went to the president's palace. Later they were said to have conferred with Ramirez again at his residence. The Argentine war ministry then issued this announcement signed by Ramirez and addressed to the Argentine people:

"Exhausted by the intense tasks of government which make it necessary for me to take a rest, on this date I delegate the office which I occupy to Vice President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell."

Diplomats in Montevideo said they assumed that the military group which supported both Ramirez and Farrell engineered the move in this way to present the change as a continuation of the Ramirez regime which has been recognized by all American countries.

Nation Reported Calm.

Despite rumors of military and police forces taking "ready" positions, there was no bloodshed in connection with the transfer of power and reports from Argentina said that the capital and the nation were calm.

Farrell, who was appointed vice president last October—apparently in preparation for any action by Ramirez unsuitable to the "colonels"—is former minister of war. A tall, tough cavalry officer and former amateur boxing champion, Farrell has had little chance to demonstrate his abilities as a statesman.

Peron, who is secretary of labor and public welfare, told newspaper men in Buenos Aires that the undersecretariat of the press would probably be abolished and the drastic press decree which it fostered would be annuled. Otherwise, he said, there would be no radical changes in the government.

An official spokesman said later Farrell would govern with the same cabinet as Ramirez, altho he will fill the vacancies in two of the most important ministries — foreign affairs and war.

Badoglio Asks Political Foes to Halt Attacks

NAPLES, Feb. 25 (AP).—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio, heartened by Prime Minister Churchill's recent suggestion that politics hang fire in Italy until after the fall of Rome, was reported today to have proposed that his opponents stop their attacks on his government and on King Victor Emmanuel. Allied authorities said the premier has committed himself to resign when allied armies reach Rome.

Father Aids Son

Frank Cooper and his son, William, in Felony court yesterday.

A father's tears helped to win probation in Felony court yesterday for William E. Cooper, 17, of 6614 S. Wabash av., charged with tampering with two automobiles. The youth has been reared in a good home with a religious atmosphere, and has never been in trouble before, Frank Cooper, the father, pleaded.

William stole a car belonging to Clarence Kerby of 6946 Cregier av., on Feb. 15, from in front of Kerby's home. After driving it until the gasoline ran low, he abandoned it and took another auto. Shortly afterward he was seized by police at 67th st. and Indiana av. His only explanation was that he "loved to drive." After hearing him express a desire to enter the navy, Judge Joseph H. McGarry said he would give the youth another chance and granted probation.

WFA ORDERS 6% CUT IN CIVILIAN SUGAR SUPPLIES

Candies, Soft Drinks to Be Hit Hardest.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—The war food administration today ordered a 6 per cent cut in civilian sugar supplies this year to assure a larger amount for industrial alcohol production.

The brunt of the curtailments will be borne by makers of candy, soft drink, and other so-called nonessential products, office of price administration officials said.

Some Cuts to Run Higher.

The following developments were foreseen by OPA officials in charge of sugar rationing:

1. Overall industrial consumption of sugar will be slashed 10 per cent on April 1, with the heaviest cut imposed on refreshments and confections. Industrial sugar consumption will be cut from the present ratio of 80 per cent of December, 1941, use to an average of 70 per cent. Because allotments for many industrial sugar users will not be cut, the allotment ration for some classes of consumers will be reduced well below the 70 per cent average.

2. Home and restaurant sugar rations probably will not have to be cut. The No. 30 sugar ration stamp now valid will not expire March 31 but will be extended indefinitely. Consumers will be given 30 days' notice of the expiration date. A new stamp will become valid April 1.

3. Sugar allotments for processors of canned goods, jams, jellies, preserves, and of baked goods will not be curtailed.

Report Shipping Diversion.

In announcing the curtailment of civilian sugar supplies, WFA attributed the cut to the sharply increased use of sugar cane molasses for industrial alcohol, expanded demands of the army, navy, and lend-lease, and diversion of shipping to high priority military operations.

The civilian sugar allocation this year is 5,074,906 short tons [2,000 pounds per ton] on a raw basis before refining, WFA said. This compares with 5,400,000 tons used last year.

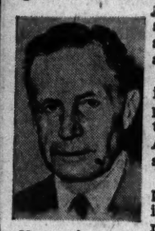
ARGENTINE COUP CAUSES ALARM IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The United States was ready tonight to meet the latest Argentine government shakeup with strong diplomatic and economic counter-measures if the change proves a threat to the security of the American hemisphere.



Norman Armour.

The state department here is in frequent communication with Ambassador Norman Armour at Buenos Aires and all information from him or other sources is being avidly studied for clews as to the meaning of this latest coup.

Fear prevails that American and allied efforts to bring Argentina into the ranks of the allied nations may have suffered a political sock in the teeth, and that the men in power at Buenos Aires now may try to shift their country into either a pro-axis "neutrality" or else a true neutrality unfavorable to the allies.

Hemispheric Problem.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius told his press conference that the situation is causing concern—a significant statement in view of the fact that the state department almost never comments on any situation until it is well developed.

"The reports at hand do give ground for concern," he said. "It is quite possible that questions may be raised affecting the security of the hemisphere which might well call for exchange of information and views between the American republics."

This leaves any practicable course open to the United States but puts the Argentine government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell on notice that its every move of international importance will be analyzed for its effect on Pan-American interests. Farrell, as vice president, took power in a palace coup last night when Gen. Pedro Ramirez delegated the office of president to him, ostensibly because Ramirez needs rest.

Recognition Perilled.

Apparently the change was not a complete turnover of the ruling group but a shift in top personnel, either forced or prompted by Ramirez' foreign policy and economic developments.

Ramirez, after cautious and long-delayed consideration, broke with the axis. But his action met with opposition from those in Buenos Aires who felt Argentina's future lay in following a more independent course. His position grew increasingly insecure and his policies less likely to become effective.

His departure from actual control of his office is believed to reopen the whole question of recognition, provided the United States and associated nations want to raise the issue. It could become the first question on which these nations would undertake an exchange of facts and opinion as to what has happened in Buenos Aires and what they are going to do about it.

The allies long have known of axis spy activity in Argentina.

SEAMAN JAILED FOR AUTO THEFT.

Federal Judge William J. Campbell yesterday sentenced Joseph Kalefactor, 19, of Castle Shannon, Pa., who said he deserted from the merchant marine after two days of service at Clummington, Md., to serve six months in jail for interstate transportation of a stolen auto.

Old Story Reversed

Mrs. Frances Toffoletto.

The old story of the bride who wanted to live with her mother was reversed yesterday, and as an indirect result, Mrs. Frances Toffoletto, 18, of 949 N. Central Park av., won a divorce yesterday from her soldier husband, Louis Toffoletto, 21. They were married Oct. 16, 1942, and separated Jan. 2, 1943. Questioned by her lawyer, Arthur Goldblatt, Mrs. Toffoletto testified before Judge Robert J. Dunne, in Circuit court, that shortly after they were married, he insisted that they live with his mother. She objected and, she said, he struck her. Pvt. Toffoletto was represented in court by Atty. Alfred Cilella, who said Tiffoletto was not opposed to the divorce.

REVEAL ONLY 1 'FORT' OF UNIT SURVIVED RAID

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, Somewhere in Britain, Feb. 25 (AP).—The Flying Fortress "Rosie's Riveters" was the only bomber of its unit to return from a raid on Muenster, Germany, last Oct. 10, it was disclosed today when her crew received decorations.

Thirty Fortresses were lost that day and the "Riveters" hit Muenster all alone and limped home on two engines. Its companion planes went down en route to the target. [Size of the unit was not given in this censored dispatch.]

Among those awarded silver stars was Sgt. Loren F. Darling of Sac City, Ia.

Those receiving distinguished flying crosses included Lt. Clifford T. Milburn, 6424 Ellis av., Chicago, and five other members of the crew.

An oak leaf cluster to the air medal had been awarded previously to Sgt. Ray H. Robinson of Arkansas City, Kas.

HELD 18 YEARS BY FASCISTS, HE WILL TRY THEM

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 25 (AP).—Tito Zaniboni, a Socialist who spent 18 years in prison for an alleged attempt to assassinate Benito Mussolini, has been appointed high commissioner of national purging by Premier Badoglio. Zaniboni will head a group to investigate and try pro-Fascist Italians.

Zaniboni was arrested and tried with Gen. Luigi Capello in 1925, charged with setting up a gun in a hotel window facing the Chigi palace in Rome where Mussolini had his offices, with the intention of firing on him when he appeared on the balcony.

3 CHICAGOLAND FLYERS AMONG 6 KILLED IN CRASH

Alexandria, La., Feb. 25 (AP).—Six members of a Flying Fortress crew from the Alexandria army air field were killed and four others injured when their plane crashed a half mile short of the runway while coming in for a landing early today, it was announced by Col. Guy F. Hix, commanding officer.

Sgt. Reformat.

The dead included 2d Lt. Thomas J. Stowell, bombardier, 2275 N. Edward st., Decatur, Ill., and Sgt. Henry C. Reformat, gunner, 1355 Ellsworth st., Gary, Ind. 2d Lt. Forest E. Baylor, Bradford, Ill., was among the injured.

[Sgt. Reformat, 20, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kasimir Reformat of Gary, Ind., was a graduate of Tolleston High school, Gary, and had been in service since January, 1943.]

Wilmette Flyer Missing.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 25 (AP).—A navy plane with two men aboard, which took off from a Puget Sound island station yesterday, is missing. The men aboard were Ensign Lawrence M. Murphy, pilot, Wilmette, Ill., and David G. McBride Jr., aviation ordnance man, Cerese, Cal.

[Ensign Murphy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Murphy of 103 Woodbine av., Wilmette, was 20 years old, and was graduated from New Trier High school in 1941. He enlisted in the navy in 1942.]

Iowan Is Killed.

Grand Island, Neb., Feb. 25 (AP).—Eight men were killed in the crash of an army bomber at the Grand Island army air base today. The dead include Sgt. Lloyd D. McNeil, Somers, Ia.

Illinois Flyer Killed.

Davenport, Ia., Feb. 25 (AP).—An army pilot identified as Lt. Russell Lamm, Freeport, Ill., was killed today when his pursuit plane crashed on a farm six miles northeast of Davenport, Sheriff Walter Beuse of Scott county said tonight.

V. A. Ackerman, a farmer who witnessed the crash, said the ship came out of a heavy overcast, flying close to the ground. It struck an iron fence post, bounced and exploded. The flyer's body was found half a mile away from some of the plane's wreckage.

Nazis Call German Girls of 17 for Labor Service

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Heinrich Himmler, Nazi minister of the interior, in ordering registration of a new class of 17 year old German girls for labor service, ruled that all applications for deferment will be "useless." The Nazi DNB agency said this today in a broadcast.

AMATEUR G-MEN 'FRAME' SEDITION CASE AS SMEAR

Eugene Meyer's Sleuths Come a Cropper.

BY FRANK HUGHES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—In criminal investigations and prosecutions, the professionals—police, district attorneys, and the like—generally try to steer clear of ambitious amateurs, however eager they may be. There is a reason for this. Outside of detective novels, the amateurs almost always gum up the case if they don't end up in the more serious catastrophe of getting the wrong man thrown into jail and themselves and the officers plastered with false arrest suits.

The great and powerful United States department of justice learned this lesson to its bitter sorrow when, under New Deal compulsion, it allowed a particularly vicious and untalented amateur, Eugene Meyer's internationalist newspaper, the Washington Post, to "frame up" a case for it against a group of alleged Nazi agents and crackpot anti-Semites whom the Post accused of seditious activities imperiling the morale of soldiers and sailors.

The Post had an ax to grind in this case, for it was a member of the New Deal-internationalist smear brigade and was and still is attempting to link pre-war interventionist members of congress, all those who oppose the New Deal doctrines, and those who were not in favor of United States participation in the war before Pearl Harbor, with the Nazis.

Several His Targets.

The Meyer smear is an insinuation that because the anti-intervention speeches of senators and congressmen were circulated by German agents and anti-Semites, some 30 of whom were indicted for sedition, the senators and congressmen who made those speeches were seditious. Senators Wheeler [D., Mont.], Taft [R., O.], Nye [R., N. D.], Brooks [R., Ill.], Reynolds [D., N. C.], and Walsh D., Mass.], and Representatives Hoffman [R., Mich.], Fish [R., N. Y.], and Day [R., Ill.] are Meyer's principal targets.

In framing up the first of two federal indictments against the 30 defendants, one of Meyer's reporters acted as agent provocateur to entrap obscure anti-interventionist pamphleteers and anti-Semites into an "overt act" of alleged sedition in the District of Columbia so that they could be indicted here and tried in this government-dominated community instead of their places of residence, where they conducted their alleged propaganda.

Meyer's Reporter Acts.

In this capacity, Meyer's reporter, named Dillard Stokes, posed as fictitious Jefferson Breem, 3917 Pennsylvania av., S. E., which is Stokes' residence, and also as Adam Quigley, box 219, Ben Franklin station, Washington, D. C. Signing himself Breem in some cases and Quigley in others, the Post reporter, breathing a plausible degree of anti-Semitism, wrote to numerous agitators seeking samples of their anti-Semitic outgivings. Five took the bait and presently found themselves indicted for the "overt act" of causing "to be delivered to the postoffice establishment of the United States a copy" of their propaganda "addressed to Jefferson Breem."

The transportation to Washington of these defendants for arraignment and the demand that they be tried there has a parallel in a famous freedom of the press case in which the practice was soundly denounced. President Theodore Roosevelt tried to have some of his critics tried in Washington federal courts for alleged libels printed in New York and Indiana. In United States vs. Smith, Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, owners of the Indianapolis News, were ordered removed to the District of Columbia for trial on an indictment for libel on grounds that copies of their newspapers had been sold in Washington.

Court's Decision.

Judge Anderson of the District Court of Indiana, deciding that the defendants should not be transported to Washington, said:

"To my mind that man has read the history of our institutions to little purpose who does not look with grave apprehension upon the possibility of the success of a proceeding such as this. If the history of our liberty means anything, if constitutional guaranties are worth anything, this proceeding must fail.

"If the prosecuting officers have the authority to select the tribunal, if there be more than one tribunal to select from, if the government has that power, and can drag citizens from distant states to the capital of the nation, there to be tried, then, as Judge Cooley says, this is a strange result of a revolution where one of the grievances complained of was the assertion of the right to send parties abroad for trial.

"The defendants will be discharged."

Fun Playing Detective.

The wild eyed amateurs on Meyer's newspaper pay roll had a great deal of fun playing detective for the justice department, and their efforts resulted in two indictments against the alleged seditionists while Meyer poured columns of vilification on the heads of every one who had the courage to support America's national rights.

The probers and smearers got Representatives Hoffman and Fish haled before the Washington grand jury, but that body found nothing improper in the conduct of the congressmen, none of whom was indicted or even mentioned in the sedition indictments. The smear gang chose to ignore the brilliant war record of Rep. Fish, who was a captain in the 15th New York volunteers of the Negro infantry, later known as the 369th infantry, in the World war, received a croix de guerre for bravery, and ended up as a major. In this war he was a colonel in the officers reserve corps, a graduate of the army general staff college, and reported for "refresher" training on at least one occasion.

Meyer's sole achievement in the smear campaign was the conviction for perjury of a clerk in Rep. Fish's office for swearing he did not know the German agent, George Sylvester Viereck.

Working closely with Meyer's amateur sleuths was the justice department's assistant attorney general, William Power Maloney. He obtained the first of the Meyer inspired sedition indictments in July, 1942, but the defendants are yet to be brought to trial. The reason for this is that the indictments were so shot full of holes by the courts that the justice department did not dare to bring them to trial.

Tactics Assailed.

Senators Wheeler and Taft assailed the smear tactics in the sedition indictments and both Meyer and Maloney were brought under fire. They weathered the storm until the Roosevelt administration lost control of congress, following the 1942 election, and Sen. Wheeler was appointed to the senate judiciary committee, which has power to investigate the department of justice.

Atty. Gen. Biddle, who had been willing to let Meyer's amateur sleuths take over federal prosecutions as long as the New Deal congressional majority protected him, became alarmed. He could not afford to have Sen. Wheeler, who had received a liberal dose of the Meyer smear, investigate these Meyer sedition indictments. He knew the time had come to retreat to a prepared position. He sought an interview with Sen. Wheeler and asked him what he intended to do. It is said that Sen. Wheeler smiled knowingly from the corner of his mouth not occupied with a cigar and let Biddle stew.

Within 48 hours of the Wheeler interview, Biddle fired Maloney as prosecutor in the sedition cases, for appearance's sake kicking him upstairs to the position of chief of the criminal trial section. Meyer was anguished to the extent of many columns at losing his partner in the smear, and uncorked many vials of wrath on the attorney general for his act.

Maloney Rebuked.

The Supreme court took care of Prosecutor Maloney a little more thoroly, however, when it reversed a conviction of Viereck, the Nazi agent, because Maloney's conduct in prosecuting that case "prejudiced petitioner's right to a fair trial" which "independently of the error for which we reverse might well have placed the judgment of conviction in jeopardy. In his [Maloney's] closing remarks to the jury he indulged in an appeal wholly irrelevant to any facts or issues in the case, the purpose and effect of which could only have been to arouse passion and prejudice. . . . At a time when passion and prejudice are heightened by emotions stirred by our participation in a great war we do not doubt that these remarks addressed to the jury were highly prejudicial and that they were offensive to the dignity and good order with which all proceedings in court should be conducted."

Thus the Meyer sedition indictments fell thru, the prosecutor who affiliated himself with Meyer's junior G-men having been discredited and removed. The indictments themselves were allowed to gather dust for a year and a half in the hope that the people of America would forget the disgrace they had brought upon the department of justice.

Biddle Saves Face.

To save face, Atty. Gen. Biddle retained O. John Rogge as an assistant and commissioned him to go after the sedition cases and infuse them with some odor of respectability. Thus, only because it became necessary to find firmer ground on which to hold to trial the anti-Semites accused by Meyer of circulating defeatist propaganda with intent to impair the morale of the army and navy, did the department of justice proceed against the German American bund and other Nazi-philes for plotting to overthrow the American government.

Steering clear of the smear technique, Rogge now has procured a third indictment which dropped 11 of the original defendants, omitted America First from the list of defeatist organizations, and added the names of eight defendants not previously accused by the partnership of Maloney and Meyer.

Three and a half years ago, the Dies committee investigating un-American activities exposed not only the bund but the Communist party, which Atty. Gen. Biddle stated officially was subsidized by the soviet government to overthrow the American form of government by "force and violence." It reported the subversive and treasonous activities of both these groups many months before the Meyer indictments were drawn, but altho the department of justice has enforced the law against some Nazis, the Communists, whom the New Dealers adore, are still immune.

TURN WISCONSIN PRIMARY INTO A GUESSING GAME

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 25.—The extent to which New Dealers may crash into the Republican primaries April 4 for election of delegates to the G. O. P. national convention is a question that has the rival camps guessing.

The Democrats, with a slate of delegates pledged to a fourth term for President Roosevelt, have no contest. The Progressive party, now split, is not participating in the Presidential primary as a unit, leaving its members free to jump into the Republican contest.

The old time La Follette Progressives are not for Wendell Willkie, but a New Deal wing of the party is. Other camps declare Wisconsin New Dealers are following the pattern set in some other states of aiding Willkie as "another New Dealer" and the "easiest man for Roosevelt to beat." One runs into a steady stream of this talk among seasoned Republicans here and in Milwaukee.

Free and Easy Type.

Voters may switch from party to party without hindrance in Wisconsin Presidential primaries, which are distinct from the state primaries. On April 4 the voters will elect national convention delegates on a separate ballot. On two other ballots will be judicial candidates and a referendum on school tax.

When a voter enters the primary polls in Wisconsin, he is given the tickets of all political parties entered in the primary. These are stapled together. The voter picks out the ticket of whichever party he sees fit, marks it, and deposits it.

The Progressive party broke from the Republican party in 1935 under Philip P. La Follette, then governor, who attempted to launch it nationally. Considerable numbers of its members began rejoining the Republican ranks in 1938, and this trend continued until it now is a shade of its former self, altho it elected Orland S. Loomis governor in 1942. He died before inauguration.

A Pronounced Division.

In Madison the division is pronounced. William T. Evjue, editor of the Capital Times, once a mouthpiece for the La Follette faction, is upholding the New Deal. He also is pumping in praise of Willkie.

The Capital Times yesterday, in its chief editorial, extolled "the President's courageous veto" of the tax bill. Its leading editorial today denounced Sen. Barkley as a "political opportunist." It said he had joined "the wolf pack of reactionaries in the senate in order to ballyhoo for his candidacy for reëlection.

The Progressive takes a different view of Willkie. This weekly publication is combined with La Follette's magazine, founded in 1909 by the late Sen. Robert M. [Fighting Bob] La Follette, for years the Bible of Wisconsin Progressives. It is controled by the La Follette family. Sen. La Follette Jr., is president of its publishing company.

A Word of Caution.

After Willkie's two day visit to Madison in November, the Progressive counseled folk to be cautious about swallowing the blandishments of the 1940 Republican nominee.

The Progressive ran an editorial, which is expected to be circulated in the campaign, saying:

"After all, Mr. Willkie is the Wall street lawyer. His firm, we are informed, is general counsel for the United States Steel corporation. Mr. Willkie was placed in that firm thru the influence of Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co.—the same Lamont who is credited with organizing and financing the 'spontaneous' boom for Willkie in 1940."

"Mr. Willkie is said to have been made president of 20th Century-Fox Film corporation at a salary of $100,000 a year thru the influence of the Chase National Bank and some of the movie magnates. He was also appointed a director of Lehman Brothers, a large banking house which, like Morgan and Chase National, has far ranging international connections.

"Either Mr. Willkie is loyal to the Lamont-Morgan-Lehman Brothers-Chase National Bank crowd, which has been backing his career and candidacy, or he is loyal to the common man and progressive principles he professes to embrace. He can't have it both ways. Carrying water on both shoulders may be smart politics—for a while—but certainly it is not good progressivism."

HENRI CHARPENTIER'S Column

Soon Berlin and Tokyo will have their expected visit from the Yanks. . . . The visit that will be neither welcome nor easily forgotten. The "Master Races" will pay dearly for their brutal and uncivilized acts. The success of the Fourth War Loan Drive is an indication of the determination of Americans on the Home Front to hasten the day of Victory . . . and we will have Victory at any price! Already we are making plans for the next Bond Drive and with a smile, America, the land of plenty, continues to supply the rest of the world. . . . and United we shall bring Peace to the World again. God Bless Our Boys on the far continents who are fighting to protect both our Stars and Stripes. . . . and the rest of the world!

BOBTAIL VOTE BACKERS STALL ON COMPROMISE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Senate federal ballot advocates stalled a proposal for a compromise on soldier vote legislation today—at the seventh senate-house conference.

Conferees from the house offered a simple plan to permit service personnel to vote a state ballot, and furnish the short of bobtailed federal ballot if the state ballot were not available.

But the senate conference committee majority, committed to the Roosevelt administration's federal ballot, insisted on thinking it over until Monday.

The house plan provides that soldiers and sailors who have applied for a state ballot and fail to receive it by Oct. 1 may be given a federal ballot, if their governor or state election machinery head has certified by Aug. 1 that the federal ballot is acceptable under state law.

Indiana Governor Urged to Call Army Vote Session

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Sen. Willis [R., Ind.] today urged Gov. Schricker of Indiana to call a special session of the legislature "to effectuate a state program to insure soldier voting."

16 OF 24 DEWEY BACKERS IGNORE DEMAND TO QUIT

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 25 [Special].—Declaring it is "our rightful duty to our country" to place Gov. Dewey of New York before the peoples as a Presidential candidate, 16 out of 24 candidates for Dewey delegates at the April 4 delegate election, today announced they would ignore Dewey's demand they do not run, and would stay in the race.

Six other candidates acceded to the governor's request that they withdraw.

George R. Currie, Sheboygan, left the day long meeting at noon without deciding his course and could not be reached tonight. Assemblyman Donald McDowell, Soldiers Grove, and John J. Donlin, Superior, and William A. Sheldon, Elkhorn, who were unable to attend, had written the meeting that they would stick with the race.

George Greeley of Oshkosh, candidate for delegate at large, could not be reached.

The Wisconsin delegate race was thrown into confusion Wednesday when Gov. Dewey informed the delegates the use of his name met with his "strongest disapproval."

Asked Their Withdrawal.

He asked they withdraw delegate petitions in his name.

Today's meeting of the delegates, held in Hotel Schroeder, was the delegates' answer to the New York governor. The meeting, conducted by State Sen. Bernhard Gettelman, lasted 6½ hours, at the end of which it was announced that some of the delegates would remain in the race in spite of Dewey's objections.

The following telegram, in explanation, was sent to Gov. Dewey:

"The undersigned candidates for delegates to the Republican national convention, acknowledging your telegram of Feb. 23, entered the contest in the full realization that you are not a candidate for the Presidency.

"Duty to Our Country."

"At no time have we ever received any assurance that you might become a candidate. We appreciate and admire your complete attention to your duties as governor of New York, which you are so capably fulfilling.

"As your friends, with full knowledge of your extreme abilities, we deem it our rightful duty to our country to bring your qualifications to the people of the United States so that your name may be definitely placed in nomination on the convention floor.

"Wisconsin is solidly Republican, and overwhelmingly for Tom Dewey."

Among the top signers were Sen. Gettelman and Fred Zimmerman, secretary of state. The candidates who withdrew from the race were A. J. O'Mella of Rhinelander, William Doll of Milwaukee, Arthur W. Prehn of Wausau, Quincy Hale of La Crosse, Donald I. Farr of Eau Claire, and William A. Sheldon of Elkhorn.

HERE'S WHAT YOU MUST PAY UNDER NEW TAX RATES

Liquor, Luxuries, Phone Levies Increased.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The nation's tax bill was increased by 2 billion 300 million dollars to a new record total of over 42 billion dollars annually today as the senate followed the house in overriding President Roosevelt's veto of the second war time revenue act.

First general effects of the new legislation will be felt when higher postal rates become effective 30 days hence.

Then, on April 1, an increased schedule of excise taxes become effective, jumping the levy on liquor about 11 cents a drink on 100 proof spirits and extending thru a list of other commodities and services.

Repeals Windfall Provision.

The new law repealed a windfall provision of the 1943 pay-as-you-go law intended to reduce the amount of tax abatement for war swollen incomes in the higher brackets. The repeal is retroactive to affect 1943 incomes on which returns are due March 15.

This windfall tax amounted to the excess of the pay-as-you-go tax abatement [75 per cent of the year 1942 or 1943 in which the taxpayer had the smallest income] over a hypothetical tax based on the highest income of a base year [1937, 1938, 1939, or 1940, whichever was largest] plus $20,000.

Income Taxes Increased.

Salient provisions of the new law include:

1. Increases in individual income taxes for 1944—to yield an additional $664,900,000. There is no general rate increase, the new revenue being derived thru elimination of the 10 per cent earned income credit and removal of deductions for excise taxes paid out.

The income tax burden on most single persons earning up to $2,500 and married persons up to $50,000 will increase, due principally to the change in the victory tax, which is now a flat 3 per cent, against the former 5 per cent rate which was accompanied by a percentage rebate system.

Under the 5 per cent victory tax, a single person got a refund of 25 per cent, up to a maximum of $500; and a married person a 40 per cent rebate with a $1,000 limit. That system worked out so a single person paid 3.75 per cent victory tax on income up to $40,000 and 5 per cent of income above that amount; while a married person paid 3 per cent on earnings up to $50,000 and a straight 5 per cent on all income above $50,000.

Tax Exceeds Income.

Under the current tax law, persons with net income over $750,000 will pay more in taxes in 1944 and 1945 than they earned, because in each of these two years they must remit the regular rate and in addition one half of the "unforgiven" portion of taxes on 1942 income. The rate under the 1942 law reached approximately 90 per cent for persons with incomes of $750,000 or above.

Thus, for the largest brackets, the burden in 1944 and 1945 amounts to 90 per cent plus 12.5 per cent.

2. A boost in the corporation excess profits tax from 90 per cent to 95—to yield $502,100,000 more.

3. Higher excises on items classified as luxuries—such as furs, luggage, toilet preparations, and jewelry. Tax increases on these items, from 10 to 20 per cent, is expected to produce $1,051,300,000.

Playboy and householder, socialite, and factory hand are affected by the new excise load. The tax on cabaret charges jumps from 5 to 30 per cent. The beer tax goes from $7 to $8 a barrel; sparkling wine from 10 cents to 15 cents a half pint, and whisky from $6 to $9 a gallon.

The tax on railroad tickets and local telephone service rises from 10 to 15 per cent. Telegraph and long distance phone calls are increased to 25 per cent.

4. Increased postal rates in several categories of mail—$96,900,000 more. The out-of-town letter rate remains at 3 cents. The in-town letters, beginning 30 days hence, must carry 3 cent rather than 2 cent stamps. Air mail charges rise from 6 to 8 cents per ounce. Other increases affect C. O. D., registered, and insured mail, and money order fees.

Pay Roll Tax Frozen.

5. The social security pay roll tax rate is frozen at 1 per cent for the rest of 1944, instead of rising automatically to 2 per cent each against employer and employe.

6. Numerous changes become effective in the war contracts renegotiation law, including an amendment which opens the way for contractors to appeal to the courts from renegotiations they consider unfair. Next Dec. 31 is set as the termination date for renegotiating war contracts for recovery of "excessive profits," altho the President is given an option to set the date forward or backward as much as six months if he deems it necessary.

7. Labor unions, farm coöperatives, and other organizations are required to make annual financial statements to the treasury, altho no tax is imposed.

PROTECT BASIC VALUES, YOUNG LAWYERS URGED

Fixed Concepts Vital, Judge Crump Says.

A plea to young lawyers to help reëstablish fundamental legal concepts, and to halt the drift away from constitutional restraints and towards private interpretation of the law, was delivered by Judge Guy Richards Crump of Los Angeles, Cal., chairman of the house of delegates of the American Bar association, at a younger members' luncheon in the Chicago Bar association's quarters yesterday.

He came to present to the younger members' committee of the Chicago group the national body's award of merit for excellence in war activities.

"The prime desideratum of the bar today, it seems to me, is a restatement of legal values," Judge Crump said. "In this era of judicial flux, it is essential that we have fixed values, even tho they may not be perfect."

Quotes Retired Chief Justice.

He quoted the statement of the retired Chief Justice [then governor] Hughes to the effect that altho we are under a constitution the Constitution is what judges say it is, and he emphasized the movement toward legal chaos which has been made since Hughes' time.

"There was a time," he said, "when a lawyer could advise his client with reasonable assurance respecting constitutional limitations. This has not been true for at least 10 years."

In 1934, he recalled, a writer on constitutional subjects referred to the "general principle of judicial discretion wherein all constitutional restraints have tended latterly to lose identity." If there was a legal twilight in 1934, Judge Crump added, there has been a black-out since.

Cites Dissenting Opinions.

He cited the great number of dissenting opinions in recent Supreme court decisions and that in one case there was an opinion dissenting from one of the dissenting opinions.

"When we leave the domain of the traditional tribunals of justice and enter into that of the sacrosanct administrative agencies, words fail us," Judge Crump continued.

"As members of the bar we are under compulsion to respect the courts, but we are under no such compulsion with respect to those excrescences in the body of the law, those executive vampires who mock justice as they let its blood."

He said that his remarks did not apply to all or even to most of the administrative agencies and he did not question the good faith of the majority of the burocrats, but he warned that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

"These good and able men suffer from the errors of their lesser brethren," he added.

War Activities Bring Award.

The award of merit was accepted by Morris I. Leibman, who was chairman of the Chicago Bar association's younger members' committee during the year 1942-'43, the period covered by the award. The war activities which won the citation included the preparation of legal materials for the convenience of service men, the development of a war readjustment program to assist lawyers in the service in making the transition back to civilian life.

INDUSTRY SAVES 29,360,514 LBS. OF PAPER IN MONTH

William M. Scanlan, district salvage chief for the war production board, said yesterday that Chicago's industries saved and sold 29,360,514 pounds of waste paper last month.

This accumulation by industry resulted from many varied programs, Scanlan said, among them the erecting of containers at plant and office entrances and the offering of war bond prizes to employes bringing paper to the plant.

Scanlan emphasized that waste paper sold or given to junk men, school children, Boy Scouts, community collection groups or thru a telephone call to State 8787 was converted into war essentials of which there are 700,000 evolved from paper waste.

KY. HOUSE ACTS TO LET NEGRO IN WHITE SCHOOLS

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 25 (AP).—Kentucky's house of representatives voted 41 to 38 late today to authorize teaching of whites and Negroes together in graduate and professional courses of institutions of higher learning in the state.

The measure, now ready for senate action, would permit mingling of the races in educational institutions for the first time in 40 years when the United States Supreme court upheld a Kentucky law which ousted Negro students from Berea college.

The bill was introduced by Charles W. Anderson Jr., Louisville Republican, and the only Negro member of the general assembly.

SENATE KILLS ROOSEVELT TAX BILL VETO, 72-14

39 Democrats Join G.O.P. in Vote.

Sen. Barkley, the senator entered. He came from the right side of the chamber, thru the Republican aisles, and paused to greet several Republican senators before going to his seat. There he conferred briefly with the secretary of the majority, Leslie Biffle, and the galleries became aware of his presence.

A murmur arose and Vice President Wallace promptly gaveled it down as the clerk continued reading. Sen. Pepper, nervous, leaning forward over his desk, grim, glanced in the direction of Barkley and drummed his fingers on his desk.

Nervously he awaited the end of the message. He rose once, too soon, and sat down again, then at the President's words, "I urge the earliest possible action," he stood to get the floor.

Cries of "Vote! Vote!" echoed thru the chamber, but Pepper had a speech to make.

Pepper Irritable.

Irritably he opened, "I am sure that there is no tradition of the senate which it is more solicitous to preserve than the right of the humblest of its members upon important or momentous public questions to express their earnest convictions."

He went on to say that the issue at stake was more than a tax bill. "The issue," he said, "is related to the winning of the war and the future of America; certainly it is directly related to the future of the Democratic party."

Then he told the senate that when he was a young man just elected to the Florida legislature, in 1928, he had written a letter to Franklin D. Roosevelt, then the governor-elect of New York, outlining his opinions of the liberal path the Democratic party must take to assure victory at the polls. The tenor of his speech was that having once given the President-to-be that advice, he couldn't now vote against the President.

1928 Was the Year!

Sen. Chavez [D., N. M.] interrupted as Pepper read his letter to Roosevelt.

"Can the senator recall what happened in Florida in that particular [1928] election?" asked Chavez.

Wallace had a hard time restoring order after the spontaneous laughter that greeted Pepper's reply: "Florida in that election went for Mr. Herbert Hoover, and has regretted it ever since."

Chavez' needling and the impatience of the senate failed to stop Pepper, however. He continued, concluding finally with a paen of praise for the President.

Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] then got the floor to say that his upcoming vote to override was not against the President but against the tax bill.

This was enough. The senators clamored for a vote and the roll was called. To Sen. "Cotton Ed" Smith [D., S. C.], arch Democratic foe of President Roosevelt, went the distinction of casting the 57th and deciding vote to override. That made a two-thirds majority of those voting and the rest of the 72 votes were surplus.

F. D. R., 'PICKETED' BY PRESS, KEEPS SILENT, ALOOF

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With Presidential Party, Feb. 25.—President Roosevelt continued today to remain aloof from the nine reporters, representing press associations and newspapers, who have established an informal picket line at his temporary White House headquarters in the hope of obtaining the President's personal reactions to the exciting developments in Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt would have received the newspaper corps today had he been in Washington, Friday being one of his press conference days. He himself revealed that he was "out of the city" in his apologetic telegram to Senate Majority Leader Barkley two days ago.

He's Definitely Displeased.

The only word vouchsafed to newspaper men concerning Mr. Roosevelt's feelings, however, came from Washington where White House Secretary Stephen Early criticized newspaper men for following the President when he was seeking a rest. They were given to understand Mr. Roosevelt was definitely displeased by the attempts to get answers to questions which are of interest to the nation.

Traveling Secretary William Hassett would not even talk to the correspondents. White House rules of courtesy forbid exercise of the ingenuity which might otherwise be called upon by reporters under such circumstance to reach a person who does not want to be interviewed.

It was plain to those who left Washington to be near Mr. Roosevelt that he does not intend to see or speak to them for as long as he stays away from the White House.

Hear Barkley Will Arrive.

Rumors were frequent today. One was that Sen. Barkley might come for a week-end visit with the President. Hassett would not consent even to check this report.

Early's reference to the fact that the President needed a rest recalled that Mr. Roosevelt's appearance at his last press conference occasioned some concern, altho Early was quick to state that his health was "good." Mr. Roosevelt's face was lined and drawn. He suffered an attack of grippe early this year which caused him to lose 10 pounds.

AVERS CHARMS TOO COSTLY IN WRIGLEY CASE

After hearing an argument that it would be ridiculous for a man to "pay $1,000 a month for python charms and enchantments," Judge John F. Haas of the Superior court yesterday took under advisement a motion to dismiss the $500,000 breach of contract suit filed by Miss Iris Gardner of St. Louis against Charles W. Wrigley. Judge Haas will give his decision March 10.

Iris Gardner.

Wrigley, 71, president of an advertising firm, and brother of the late William Wrigley Jr., gum manufacturer, was sued last September. Miss Gardner, who is 42, charged that he made an oral contract with her in October, 1937, to pay her $1,000 a month for life "to assist him socially and in business." She also alleged that he promised to establish a trust fund of $250,000 for her. He ended the alleged contract last May, she said.

Wrigley denied Miss Gardner's allegations, and branded the suit as "a plain case of blackmail." His lawyer, Burt A. Crowe, took up the attack yesterday before Judge Haas, and demanded that the suit be dismissed. Miss Gardner's lawyer, John D. Vosnos, opposed him.

Neither Wrigley nor Miss Gardner was in court.

BRITISH GENERAL AND AIDES TEST NEW ARMY FOOD

Maj. Gen. W. W. Richards, quartermaster general of the British army, and members of his staff were guests yesterday of Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, officer in charge of the Chicago quartermaster depot, at a luncheon prepared from processed foods which had been dehydrated to reduce bulk for shipping to soldiers in the field.

The British officers highly praised the Chicago quartermaster depot's food laboratory, only one of its kind in the world, where experiments are made constantly on military rations. They were especially interested in the "guinea pig club," a group of volunteers at the depot who eat samples of new foods concocted in the laboratory.

Gen. Richards has visited quartermaster and ordnance installations in several cities in the United States and Canada. He told Gen. Barzynski that Britain appreciates America's lend-lease support in goods and supplies sent to England.

Mairzy Doats and Barkley Votes as Sena Torsay Aye!

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—After today's senate vote to override President Roosevelt's veto of the tax bill, a wag in the press gallery parodied "Mairzy Doats": "Doughton votes, and Barkley votes, and Roosevelt eats ivy; Pepper eats ivy too, wouldn't you?"

SEEK AMERICAN PRESS RIGHTS IN BRITISH EMPIRE

Issue May Be Decided at London Meeting.

Whether the British empire shall be opened to the American press may be determined at a mid-March meeting of the imperial communications advisory committee and commonwealth communications council in London. Campbell Stuart, former London editor, is chairman of this committee. This organization determines the policy of the tightly merged British empire communications system.

And whether Press Wireless, Inc., the American communications company which transmits press and radio matter over a good portion of the globe, will be given the right to operate with Australia may be settled at the London meeting.

Press Wireless, Inc., recently won a battle with the United States federal communications commission for the right to compete with other telegraph carriers in all classes of messages from American war zones.

Australia Wants Service.

For years Australian press interests have been striving to obtain entry into Australia for Press Wireless. The drive to get this communications company, with its world-wide experience and efficiency in news transmission, into Australia is spear-headed by the Australian Associated Press.

Six years ago a Melbourne publisher approached Press Wireless, according to Joseph Pierson, president, and urged him to try to arrange circuits to Australia with the expectation that Press Wireless could provide faster and less costly service than was obtainable thru the empire's government controled monopolistic communications system. In the mid '20s, when many British empire communications were going broke, almost all of them were merged under government auspices into Cables and Wireless, Inc. Even the British postoffice gave up its telegraph circuits to this merger. Several cable companies were excepted. The government acquired a substantial interest in Cables and Wireless.

Press Matter Often Delayed.

The organization was set up to keep all revenues involving communications in the British empire. If Australia desired to communicate with South Africa the messages were routed thru London. Traffic from Australia to America would be routed first to Canada, then relayed to its destination. Press matter often was delayed in favor of the better paying commercial messages. However, the monopoly, despite its advantages, continued to lose money.

Press Wireless outlined a plan for its operation down under for Australian Wireless, Amalgamated, government owned organization which has a monopoly on radio communications in Australia. A. W. A. is owned partly by Cables and Wireless. No action was taken with regard to Press Wireless' plan. There were reports that London blocked it.

Press Wireless Excluded.

However, R. C. A. Communications, an American concern, got into Australia as a correspondent for Amalgamated, thru the efforts of the American state department. Press Wireless officials then brought a charge of favoring R. C. A. C. against a representative of the state department. Subsequently, Mackay Radio also got into Australia as a correspondent. Press Wireless was invited to send to Australia a representative to work out a plan. D. K. de Neuf, vice president, went down and fulfilled the suggestion. Then Stuart arrived from London. And Press Wireless did not get in.

At present American press traffic from Australia and the Southwest Pacific is sent by Amalgamated to the United States via R. C. A. C. or Mackay Radio at San Francisco, whence it is relayed to its destination. Or it may be cabled by Imperial Cable to Vancouver and sent overland by telegraph.

The Australian government provides a subsidy for the transmission of press matter from its territories. Newspapers pay the cost of telegraphing the traffic from the point of entry into the United States to their own office. Amalgamated and R. C. A. C. [or Mackay] split the subsidy covering the rates from Australia to the point of entry. When press matter is cabled to Vancouver British Cables gets the entire overseas carrying charge.

Handles News Matter Only.

The Australian press wants Press Wireless admitted for several reasons. R. C. A. C. and Mackay Radio, they say, give precedence to high rate commercial traffic. Press matter gets secondary consideration.

Press Wireless, they are well aware, is unexcelled in handling news matter. [It does not carry commercial traffic.] Press Wireless grew out of the initiative of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and other newspaper at the close of the last war. It was created to overcome the bottlenecks of news transmission in the cable companies. Still other newspapers joined THE TRIBUNE and associated papers in developing Press Wireless into a world-wide system of distributing news and picture matter. Today virtually every American metropolitan daily and hundreds of radio stations are serviced by Press Wireless. And in war time it is handling a sizable volume of government traffic and also is building war communications equipment in two plants.

WARNS AGAINST PUSHING AROUND RETURNING VETS

Welfare Worker Asks Organized Aid.

Calling for prompt community action in developing city-wide committees to coördinate services available to returning veterans, Henry L. Zucker, representing the Cleveland Welfare federation, disclosed to 300 delegates of the middle west conference of Community Chests and Councils, Inc., in the La Salle hotel yesterday, that approximately one million veterans of World War II. already have been returned to civilian life.

The first step in organizing such a committee, Zucker recommended, is to analyze the problem and get the facts. Next, the city should determine the services required, and organize a system so that a veteran can go to one place, announce his needs, and be told specifically where he can get what he wants quickly.

Lack Psychiatric Help.

"Every community today," he said, "falls far short of providing sufficient psychiatric facilities for treating a man in his home, until he recovers from the shocks of war. Of the first million returned soldiers, about 300,000 are psycho-neurotic cases. Their need is urgent."

Representatives from Gary, South Bend, Sheboygan, Wis., Dayton and Toledo, O., Muskegon, Mich., and Decatur reported on steps those cities are taking to welcome home returning veterans.

In Gary, which has the most advanced plan of any middle western city to date, Zucker said, a central counseling and information office for veterans was opened this week at 516 Washington st. The office, supported by the war and community chest, is staffed by volunteers, except for a paid counselor-manager and his secretary.

No "Pushing Around."

"Our board of governors for the veterans committee is composed of leaders in social service, religion, veterans groups, labor, business and professional organizations, and government," reported Leonard Swoverland, executive secretary of the Gary Council of Social Agencies.

"We are determined that no returning veterans shall get a pushing around in Gary," he continued, "and we are working closely with the employment office, the Red Cross, the state rehabilitation department, the township trustee, and the Goodwill Industries, to make sure that every soldier gets a square deal."

SALE OF BONDS SPURTS ON EVE OF FINAL DAY

Sales of $879,941,000 were reported yesterday on the eve of the final day of the fourth war loan drive in Chicago and Cook county, and Chairman Frank McNair predicted $30,000,000 more will be listed when all the figures are in. Today is the last day of the campaign.

E or peoples' bond sales spurted to $6,311,000 yesterday for the best day's record lately and helped to raise the quota percentage figure from 122 to 124. The E bond total was $93,322,000 or $16,500,000 above the best previous drive figure for such bonds. McNair raised a previous estimate when he said final figures are expected to show $910,000,000 in sales, or $5,000,000 more than the state quota.

A crowd that gathered on State street to see a wild west show yesterday noon bought $121,000 worth of bonds. City Controler Upham, lassoed by a bronco rider, gave a personal check for $1,000.

NO OPEN GAMBLING IN HYDE PARK, HEALY ASSERTS AT HEARING

Denying that open gambling ever flourished in the Hyde Park district while he was captain there, Capt. Walter F. Healy told the civil service commission yesterday that it probably could find bingo games operating within 100 feet of the city hall.

Healy, suspended last Oct. 6 during a grand jury investigation, is before the commission on charges of failure to stamp out gambling in the Hyde Park district.

He declined to assume any responsibility for the operation of bingo games, asserting "it is very easy for a 26 game girl to switch to bingo by giving the customer five dice instead of 10."

He denied that Dago Lawrence Mangano, Henry Finkelstein, or other Guzik syndicate gamblers operated in his district.

Two character witnesses, Charles L. Leindecker, owner of the Tudor-Ellis hotel, and William J. Wilson, business manager of the Hyde Park Property Owners, Inc., appeared for Healy.

'DRASTIC' STEPS TO MEET DRAFT GOAL FORESEEN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—More than half the draft registrants now being called are flunking the physical tests, selective service said today, and hence it has become necessary to take drastic steps to meet army quotas. Congress was told this is the situation:

Maj. Gen. Hershey.

The army and navy need 1,200,000 men to reach the desired goal of 11,300,000 by July 1. They must come from the father group, those deferred because of their jobs, the 4-F's who can do limited service, and those reaching 18.

200,000 Shortage Foreseen.

When all the normal possibilities are exhausted, the total still will be 200,000 short. So—

The deferments granted men over 22 in industry may be canceled soon. The minimum age may be raised to 26.

Farm labor must be screened again and those who cannot show they are contributing "substantially" to the total amount of food for the nation are to lose their deferment.

The problem was outlined to the senate agricultural committee by Maj. Gen. Hershey, draft director, and to a house military subcommittee by his aide, Lt. Col. Francis V. Keesling.

4-Fs Complicate Situation.

Hershey said the 4-F situation had complicated the problem greatly of late. There are 3½ million men now classified thus, which means they have defects mitigating against military service.

"I'm sorry to say that number is rising too rapidly," Hershey said.

The rate now is running up to 60 per cent of all those sent to induction centers. Hershey said this probably was because the average age of the men now being called is rather high.

Hershey was questioned largely about the tightened farm labor rules. Executives of four agricultural groups in a joint statement complained the rules would mean the drafting of more than 50 per cent of the deferred men now on the farms. Hershey said he doubted that "seriously." The farm groups said the proposal, if carried thru, would demoralize 1944 farm production.

One of Every 10 Fathers.

Hershey's aide, Lt. Col. Keesling, told the house group that because the draft boards want 1,200,000 men by July:

One of every 10 fathers deferred for dependency will be inducted, a total of 250,000. Another 420,000 will come from men who were in class 1-A on Feb. 1 and 325,000 can be obtained from the pool of those who become 18 years of age.

The remaining 200,000 must be obtained from "registrants occupationally deferred or physically rejected" with most of them coming from the group of childless men of the younger age brackets. This latter category applies to those under 26 now in industry.

REFUSE DRAFT DEFERMENT OF LAKES SEAMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Draft deferments for Great Lakes seamen between 18 and 26 years old, inclusive, will be denied and there will be no blanket deferments for older men manning Great Lakes vessels, war shipping administration officials revealed today.

The refusal of selective service to ease the lakes man power shortage thru draft deferments was made known to a small group of government officials and lake shipping industry and union representatives by Lt. Col. Walter Mendelsohn of selective service headquarters at a closed meeting in Washington yesterday, it was learned.

Deferment Plan Proposed.

The decision was made known to the group after the WSA recruiting and manning organization had proposed a plan providing lakes seamen the same deferments granted seamen on ocean-going vessels. The plan also suggested intensive recruiting by the WSA in Great Lakes ports, employment stabilization, and increased man power utilization.

D. C. Potts, traffic manager of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, Cleveland, O., representing the Great Lakes Carriers association, opposed the WSA draft deferment plan.

The CIO National Maritime union approved the basic outline of the WSA plan, but demanded that union hiring halls be permitted to control the placing of seamen, it was reported. The Seafarers Union of America [AFL] took the same stand as the NMU, but the Seamen's International union, [also AFL] favored only the draft deferment section, a WSA official said.

Man Power Commission.

Employment stabilization in Great Lakes shipping now is a responsibility of the war man power commission. The WSA plan, reportedly drafted by the office of defense transportation, would transfer this responsibility to the recruitment and manning organization of the WSA.

The job of stabilizing employment of offshore [ocean-going] seamen already has been delegated to WSA by WMC.

Final adoption or rejection of the WSA plan will be decided jointly by the WSA, WMC, Great Lakes shippers, and union representatives, after further conferences.

SPRINGFIELD PRIVATE GETS SILVER STAR FOR BRAVERY UNDER FIRE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Pvt. 1st Class Edgar C. Loeser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loeser, 1201 E. Spruce st., Springfield, Ill., has been awarded the Silver Star, the war department announced today, for successfully completing a dangerous volunteer mission during the Sicilian campaign.

The battery commander called for a volunteer to drive a light radio-mounted car for a reconnaissance officer over a road that was under enemy artillery fire, to locate an enemy battery and direct allied fire on its gun positions.

"Pvt. 1st Class Loeser's courageous action," the citation accompanying the award read, "enabled the party to push observation forward rapidly and brige more effective fire on the enemy, and reflects great credit on himself and the military service."

Ald. Walsh Classified 1-A by His Draft Board

Ald. Richard M. Walsh [36th] was notified by his draft board yesterday that he has been reclassified 1-A. He will be 38 years old June 25, and has three children. His home is at 1737 N. Long av. Another alderman, Nicholas J. Bohling [7th], also has been reclassified 1-A and is awaiting his induction notice. Both Walsh and Bohling are attorneys.

CIO LETTER SAYS ROOSEVELT FOES ASK HITLER DEAD

The statement that congressional opponents of President Roosevelt want a negotiated peace with Hitler has been made in form letters sent out under the $5,000,000 CIO political action program, it was revealed yesterday.

"Dear member," the letter reads, "Today we have a congress which is dominated by Tory Republicans and southern poll taxers who wish to see labor crushed, the people burdened with heavy taxes and an ever rising cost of living, and who are working toward a negotiated peace with Hitler."

The letter is signed by Sidney Sherman, chairman of the legislative committee of the CIO American Communications association, Local 34A, 327 La Salle st. Enclosed are voting registration forms, one to be returned to the union, the other to be sent to the board of election commissioners.

"Failure to register and vote will be tantamount to a vote for increased taxes, higher living costs, a longer war," the letter concludes.

"If CIO members receiving this bunk can believe it after reading about congress' stand on taxes, they are more gullible than I think," said Ben Berve, Republican state chairman. "Propaganda concocted of such vicious lies will merely bring the CIO members into the party of Americanism."

THOMAS SEES F.D.R. BREEDING ANOTHER WAR

'Blind Date Polygamy,' Says Socialist.

The beginning of a third world war is contained in the foreign policy of the Roosevelt administration, dictated by Moscow and London instead of by the people of America, Norman Thomas, leader of the Socialist party, charged yesterday in Chicago. He spoke at a meeting of the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman.

"The present administration is paving the way for World War III. by Balkanizing Europe on instructions from Moscow and London," he said, "and in Asia we are underwriting the Dutch and British empires in the Indies and China and Malaya, and holding it in India.

"I think this business of blind support to Churchill and Stalin is hurting the situation. I believe in marriage, but not in marrying blind dates polygamously, as we have been doing."

Warns of Russian Power.

The United States, he said, should insist that Russia recognize the rights of other nations, such as Poland, and withdraw from its unequivocal position of unilateral settlements of such questions as the Polish border dispute. "Churchill now says that Poland can recover any territory lost to Russia by taking it from Germany—and that's starting another war," Thomas snapped.

"Russia will have, after this war, such power as Hitler could not aspire to attain, both in Europe and Asia," he said. "The greatest danger of the next war comes from Asia, and we will have no reason to believe that Stalin, or his successor in Russia, will feel disposed to help us defend England's empire there."

He said the allied governments are "stupidly wrong" in insisting on the unconditional surrender of their enemies. "You will never get peace at all unless you negotiate with somebody," he said.

The Cairo and Teheran conferences, said Thomas, "tended unnecessarily to prolong the war." Later he explained they offered no hope of a just peace to any peoples except Russia, Britain, and the United States.

A member of the club asked who is responsible for America's foreign policy.

Policies Roosevelt's Own.

"There has never been a major foreign policy that was not Roosevelt's own," Thomas said. "This was particularly true in our dealings with Darlan, Franco, and others. Roosevelt did not even communicate with the state department from Cairo and Teheran."

"Our foreign policy," he said, "is the most irresponsible, personal, even dictatorial in the world, except Russia's. The British can question Churchill on his policy.

"If this is democracy, we are entitled to at least some general information about that policy for which our sons are dying. It is dictatorship in foreign affairs that keeps the army in the dark as to what it is fighting for. I blame the people and congress for not making the President speak out."

Takes "Easy Short Cut."

In its South American policy, Thomas said, the administration "apparently has taken the easy short cut of buying up dictators rather than trying to win the friendship of their people. A man is a democrat in South America if he is on our side, apparently."

Thomas gave little time to a question on his attitude toward post-war world government plans.

"I am opposed to any highly organized central world government," he said. "It would only displace international wars with civil wars. For real peace, you must have a spirit of forgiveness among the peoples of the world, and get away from imperialism. There should be provision for simple, effective machinery for settling disputes and for establishing fair economies."

BACKERS PLAN SPEAKING TOUR FOR COURTNEY

To Pick 10 Key Cities Downstate.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Plans were under consideration yesterday for State's Atty. Courtney to make 10 or 12 speeches in key downstate cities before the primary on April 11 in his campaign for governor on the Democratic ticket. Among possible stops mentioned were Bloomington, Peoria, East St. Louis, Danville, Champaign, and Rockford.

Courtney was preparing to open a campaign headquarters in the Burnham building probably Wednesday.

Resignation Unlikely.

Meanwhile it was held unlikely that Courtney would give up the office of state's attorney before Sept. 1. The suggestion had been made that he step out to make way for the appointment of William J. Tuohy, his assistant, and candidate to succeed him.

Courtney strategists said their candidate was not too much upset by the action of Sen. Barkley in starting the successful uprising against the Presidential veto of the tax bill. They clung, at least verbally, to the belief that this move will be political ancient history by voting time in November.

Lucas Disappoints Horan.

There was some discussion of the telegram sent Thursday by Albert J. Horan of the Democratic Cook county committee executive board to Sen. Lucas. It read: "The consensus here is that President Roosevelt is right in his veto. We send 10 million boys and women to war and then refuse to pay the fiddler. I believe the lives of these 10 million are worth 10 billion. In this, our hour of crisis, why should congress be small."

Lucas read the telegram and then voted against the President's veto of the tax bill.

Joseph J. Lelivelt of Maywood, candidate for representative in the general assembly in the 7th district, was reported to have received a slight nudge out of the free and open Democratic primary. He is expected to withdraw Monday and leave the organization blessing to Emmett McGrath of Brookfield.

Fourth Draft Bus Victim Dies in Gary Hospital

Raymond Chambly, 28, who formerly conducted a trucking business in Sairo, died yesterday in the Methodist hospital in Gary, the fourth fatality resulting from a collision of a truck and two buses loaded with selectees in a fog at Cook, Ind., last Tuesday. Two other draftees and a bus driver were killed in the crash.

EVEN INSURGENT G. O. P. LEADERS DISOWN WILLKIE

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Wendell L. Willkie appeared in a truly isolationist role yesterday, judging by the unwillingness of even the insurgent Republican state candidates to show evidence of approval. All nine regular G. O. P. statewide aspirants are frankly anti-Willkie.

Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Regular party sources had expressed suspicion of pro-Willkie tieups toward Deneen Watson, candidate for senator; Oscar E. Carlstrom, for governor, and Lloyd C. Moody, candidate for attorney general. Watson was known to have conferred with the defeated 1940 Presidential nominee several times, and Carlstrom and Moody have joined forces with Watson.

Watson said that Willkie never was his choice and that his idea of a President fits Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, altho he would not say anything against Willkie.

Moody Speaks Out.

Moody was more forthright.

"I am and always have been a stanch Republican and that is more than I can say of Willkie as judged from newspaper accounts of his past performances," Moody said. "My personal choice for President is, first, Dewey, and, second, Bricker, but most emphatically not Willkie."

Carlstrom in his first formal statement on the campaign declared:

"I am now and have been openly opposed to the nomination of Mr. Willkie. I hold and have expressed often a personal preference for Gov. Bricker. . . ."

Carlstrom lined up with Gov. Green, his primary opponent, in demanding that national freedom be preserved in any hookups with foreign powers.

Carlstrom's stand on this issue was not at variance with his utterances of previous years, but it differs from that of Watson.

"I recognize the duty and privilege of these United States to cooperate fully with other nations equally willing to promote peace and to wipe out intolerance and arrogant oppression," he said, "but I recognize also that this effort must be shared by other nations justly.

Must Save Own Sovereignty.

"The United States cannot alone impose its will, however beneficent, upon the rest of the world by force. Whatever we do in this effort must be done while we yet with determination preserve our own free institutions and maintain the integrity of our own sovereignty as a nation."

Carlstrom, former attorney general, who three times has sought the gubernatorial nomination, pointedly refrained from echoing Watson's demand for an international "police force"—i. e.: army—or praise of Russia and Great Britain.

Gov. Green's opponent charged that the regular slate was selected by "Hitlerian methods." He said he believes in maintaining the "full freedom of our educational system" and is opposed to "harassing litigation against any citizen or corporation where such action is motivated by political or publicity objectives and not soundly justified."

JEWELER FREED OF CHARGE HE ACTED AS FENCE

Jack Lebolt, a jeweler of 33 N. State st., was acquitted by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in Criminal court yesterday of charges of receiving stolen property.

Jack Lebolt.

Leo Weintraub, 22, of 3618 13th st., one of a gang rounded up by police, testified that he stole two rings in the burglary of the home of Mrs. Dorothy Droggan at 1344 Komensky av., and sold them the next day at the Lebolt store, one for $175 and one for $30. Lebolt testified yesterday that he never had seen Weintraub until the police brought him in, and that his only connection with the transaction was to countersign the check given Weintraub.

Lebolt said his appraisers had been cautioned to be extremely watchful against buying stolen goods, that his firm had been in business since 1897 and prior to the depression did a volume of $2,500,000.

$572,126 McIlvaine Estate to Produce $142,499 Tax

A federal estate tax of $136,036 is estimated against the $572,126 estate left by William B. McIlvaine, a lawyer, who died last May 6, a tax return showed in the County court yesterday. The state inheritance tax is computed at $6,463. The bulk of Mr. McIlvaine's estate goes to his widow, Julia, of 1029 Green Bay rd., Winnetka, one son and three daughters.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice Carter Gifford, and two sons, Lt. Sanford R. Gifford with the army medical corps in the South Pacific and Carter Gifford who is stationed with the navy Seabees in Hawaii. The family home is at 1430 Lake Shore dr. Dr. Gifford's offices were at 720 N. Michigan av.

Medical authorities said yesterday that Dr. Gifford's research contributions to his special field total several hundred. Among the books he had written are two widely used texts, "Handbook of Ophthalmic Therapeutics," written in 1931, and "Textbook of Ophthalmology," written in 1938.

Began Career in Omaha.

Born in Omaha, Neb., in 1892, Dr. Gifford attended Cornell university and studied medicine at the University of Nebraska. He served in World War I. as a first lieutenant at an army base hospital in France, and returned to Omaha where he practiced with his father. In 1929 he assumed his post at Northwestern university.

Dr. Gifford was a member of many professional groups, including the American Ophthalmology society and the American Academy of Ophthalmology. He contributed to many medical journals.

DRAKE MYSTERY CLEW TRACED TO ST. LOUIS FIRM

Detectives, trying to trace the revolver with which Mrs. Frank Starr Williams was slain in the Drake hotel Jan. 19, yesterday asked the Simmons Hardware company of St. Louis, Mo., to check its records of 24 years ago and report whether it handled the gun.

The revolver was manufactured in 1910 by the Iver-Johnson company and its serial number is D-37449. The company's records do not go back 24 years but recently a similar make gun, bearing serial number H-37450 was left in a Chicago gunshop to be repaired. The owner, an army captain stationed at Fort Custer, Mich., told police he purchased it 24 years ago from a south side hardware dealer.

The dealer still is in business but his records were destroyed by fire a few years ago. He recalled, however, that the shipment of revolvers of which the army captain's was one, came from the St. Louis firm, and police, believing that the murder gun may have been in the same consignment, immediately turned their search to St. Louis. They noted that the murder gun and the captain's revolver were but one number and four serial initials apart.

Scientist Who Extended Antiquity of Man Dies

LONDON, Feb. 25 (AP).—James Reid Moir, 64 year old archeologist widely known thru lectures, publications, and scientific papers, died tonight. His discoveries included proof of the existence of man in the Pliocene period. His separation of implements found in the Cromer forest bed into seven groups of different ages greatly extended man's antiquity.

FAIL TO FIND VALUABLES IN SKIDMORE BOX

Government and state treasury officials who examined the contents of a safety deposit box of William R. Skidmore, reputed gambling fixer, who died last Friday in federal prison, reported yesterday that there appeared to be nothing in it but canceled insurance policies and deeds and other valueless papers. Skidmore's will, leaving all his estate to his widow, Ethel, was removed on Thursday, when the box was opened. An inventory of the box was taken and will be examined by the internal revenue department, agents of the bureau said. The box was located in a safety deposit company at 79 W. Monroe st.

CHILD IN NOXON CASE DESCRIBED AS SUBNORMAL

Physician Says It Showed Mongolism Traits.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 25 (AP).—Si month old Lawrence Noxon, who the state charges, was electrocutec by his father, had the facial charac teristics suggesting mongolism, an elderly doctor testified today in Berkshire Superior court.

As the third witness in the mur der trial of John F. Noxon Jr., 47 year old socially prominent corpora tion lawyer, Dr. George P. Hunt, a physician for 44 years and a pedia trician since 1915, told Judge Abra ham E. Pinanski and a jury that the infant, who died in the Noxon home last Sept. 22, "seemed retarded in activity" compared to a normal child.

[Mongolism is a type of idiocy characterized facially by oblique eyes, open mouth, flat nose, and soft muscles.]

Suggests Brain Defect.

Before adjournment until Monday, Dr. Hunt testified the child "did not appear to be sensitive to light and sound and was perfectly contented to be in a position in which he was placed."

"From the beginning," he testified, "there was a peculiar oscillation of the baby's eyes, which we associate medically with some brain lack of development or lesion of the brain."

The day produced a skirmish between District Atty. Charles R. Alberti and former Gov. Joseph B. Ely of defense counsel when the latter asked for copies of pictures taken by state police of the dead baby, which were entered as exhibits.

Alberti gave Ely copies of the pictures and then said he had something else. Reaching into a paper carton, he pulled out a life size doll.

"Do you think you are acting as the district attorney of this county should act?" snapped Ely. "Do you think producing that thing was proper conduct?"

Judge Pinanski smoothed things over by observing to the jurors that remarks between counsel should not be considered as evidence.

State Outlines Case.

In his opening to the jury, Alberti said the state would produce evidence to prove that the child was "killed as a result of electricity caused to pass thru his body and that the causing of it was brought about by the defendant. It will be shown the defendant did so . . . not only with deliberate malice aforethought but with extreme atrocity and cruelty."

Alberti said evidence would be introduced to show that insulation "had been removed" from two places on the extension light cord which caused the baby's death, "an inch from one part and a quarter-inch from the other."

Alberti declared Noxon told conflicting stories to investigators about the child's death, which the state contends was caused by an extension rigged to a radio after the child had been placed on a metal plate.

The entire and absolute freedom of the press is essential to the preservation of government on the basis of a free Constitution.
—Daniel Webster.

CONGRESS TRIUMPHANT.

The senate, by an even more overwhelming majority than that recorded in the house, has voted to override the President's veto of the tax bill and that measure is now law. For the first time in the history of this nation, a President had sought, by a veto, to prevent the enactment of a general revenue measure. Congress lost no time in asserting its power over the purse.

The flame of indignation which the President's insulting and demagogic veto message kindled in congress lent dramatic value to the incident, but its real meaning is to be found in the fact that congress has asserted its constitutional prerogative as a separate agency of government, armed with power to check the President's dictatorial ambitions. For 11 years now, the President has been concentrating power in his own hands and he has seldom known a serious check. He sought to subordinate the judiciary to himself and tho he was defeated in his attempt to pack the Supreme court, he has succeeded, thru his long tenure, in overloading the federal courts with his appointees. Thruout the Roosevelt era congress has been subservient to his will in almost every important decision.

Has this trend been interrupted? Has the tide turned? That remains to be seen. The first test will come when congress chooses between the rival proposals on soldier votes. There can be no doubt that all the members of both branches of congress know that the President's plan of a bobtailed federal ballot ought to be abandoned because the Constitution provides clearly and unmistakably that the method of choosing Presidential electors is to be determined by the various state legislatures, and not by congress. Likewise, all the members know that the only lawful part which the federal government can play in giving votes to the soldiers is the delivery to them of valid state ballots. If congress adopts the Roosevelt scheme, or any part of it, congress will have surrendered the initiative and once again will accept degradation as its lot. The value of the revolt against the tax veto will have been largely lost.

We venture no predictions as to the future attitude of congress, but this much is abundantly clear: the action of the members in recent days has won the admiration of the vast majority of the American people. The people will be bitterly disappointed if congress resumes its subservience.

Congress has been very slow to appreciate the changed temper of the people even tho state after state, which formerly was safely within Mr. Roosevelt's control, has declared itself opposed to the New Deal. It is really only since the New York and two Kentuckly elections that congressmen have realized how widespread is the dissatisfaction with the administration. Congressmen who take a firm stand for American independence and for the Constitution have nothing to fear from the voters back home.

STRANGE FARE FOR FIGHTING MEN.

The other day we ran in the Voice of the People a letter from three American soldiers in England. They were disturbed by a report they had seen in the army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, that there was sentiment in the United States against the use of flame throwers by our troops.

There is nothing new about a flame thrower. The Germans used them in the last war, the French used them against the Germans, and we borrowed them from the French. The Nazis used them again in this war, and we have found them useful on the Pacific islands to flush out Jap snipers who, if left undisturbed, would emerge from their hiding places later to shoot our soldiers in the back.

The three soldiers might well have taken as their text what Gen. Sherman really said: "War is cruelty and you cannot refine it." They complained that the people at home who raise finical objections to the use of some particular method of killing the enemy do no good to the morale of fighting men, whose lives may be endangered or lost for lack of that very weapon.

The objection is valid, but for one thing. We have not noted that any one in this country whose opinion carried weight has denounced the use of flame throwers by our army. The soldiers should address their reproof to their own army newspaper, whose editors seem, from this example, to use sorry judgment in selecting their news.

IT'S FUN FOR THE NEW DEALERS.

Rear Adm. Land, the head of the war time shipping administration, may be retired and limited to civilian dress, but he still seems to appreciate a martial flourish at his public appearances. A house military affairs subcommittee has just uncovered the fact that the shipping administration is seeking a draft deferment for a 25 year old trombone player.

The man in question also does clerical work in a school for ship's cooks and bakers, but he is listed as a musician, which seems to fix his principal talent. Committee members thought that he might be in the music department of some federal agency, or engaged in promoting war bond sales. They were told that he isn't. He just plays in the shipping administration band.

Vice President Wallace, in his smear trips around the country, is being accompanied by another 25 year old. His traveling companion is David Karr, a Communist. The Dies committee last year unearthed the fact that Karr was being paid $4,600 a year by the OWI to supervise a staff translating material for the foreign language press, altho he can neither read nor write any foreign language. As Rep. Busbey of Chicago noted, Karr's presence in the Wallace entourage goes a long way to explain why the speeches by the Vice President of the United States are designed to tear down the Constitution he took an oath to defend. The words may be Wallace's, but the thoughts are Karr's.

A recent press release by Nelson Rockefeller [age 35], coördinator of inter-American affairs, told how two American diplomatic employes, James B. Engle and John G. Maxey, each 24 years old, are winning the war by climbing mountains in their spare time about Quito, Ecuador. Their exploits, Rockefeller assured the taxpayers, have "won them a lasting niche in the affections of Quitenos everywhere."

Publication of these facts in THE TRIBUNE brought a curious letter from one of Engle's young friends who is himself going to college at the expense of the army. He argued that Engle could not be called a draft dodger, since he had enlisted in the navy and had been released to the diplomatic service at the special request of the state department. Just what special qualifications Engle has, at the age of 24, which make him more useful as a diplomat than in a gun crew off Kwajalein our correspondent did not disclose.

While the administration is exempting trombone players for civilian admirals and Communist ghost writers for Cornwallace, and taking young men out of the navy to climb mountains for the glory of the good neighbor policy, the draft is taking fathers in their 30s, including farmers, some of whom have had to sell their live stock and leave their land untilled. For a New Dealer the war still is a lot of fun.

BUY A BOND TODAY.

This is the last day to buy war bonds which will be counted in the 4th war loan drive. Cook county has gone over the top, but only because some people have done other people's work for them. Corporations have supplied their own share and a whole lot more. Individuals in this community have not done what was asked of them. The per cent of quota in individual bonds here is substantially below the national average.

Since the war started, Chicago factory pay rolls have gone up from 440 million dollars a year to a billion and a quarter a year. Working people now get seven-eighths of all the income paid out in this country, the secretary of the treasury has said. But they aren't buying seven-eighths of the war bond issues.

Current income is not the only source workmen have to draw upon in supporting the bond drive. During the war, savings deposits in Chicago banks have risen from 595 million dollars to 776 million dollars, an increase of 181 million dollars. Likewise, the balances in postal savings accounts have gone up here from 105 million dollars to 132 million dollars, an increase of 27 million dollars. The combined gain in both kinds of deposits is 208 million dollars. A third of the increase invested today in war bonds would put Chicago over the top.

In addition to all this, there is the increase in money people are carrying around on their persons or have hidden away behind clocks, under carpets, and in bed ticks. When the war began there was 375 million dollars of such cash in Chicago and vicinity. Now there is more than a billion dollars. That is an increase of 625 million dollars. The government has found that the increase is represented by payments of salaries and wages. It is mostly in the form of $10 and $20 bills. This money is held largely by workers who have had increases in income. Just 10 per cent of the extra cash in the hands of people in this community would put the bond drive over, so far as the individual quotas are concerned.

Every Chicago wage earner ought to buy an extra bond out of the pay he gets this week-end. If that isn't possible, draw some money out of the savings account or the postal savings account. Or better still, use some of that money which you may be tempted to spend because it is at hand or which may be taken from you by a burglar or a stickup man. One way or another, buy a bond today.

Editorial of the Day

RALPH HENRY BARBOUR.

[Baltimore Sun.]

We would lay a safe wager on the line that yesterday to at least two generations of American boys now men came a pause in the day's occupation when they read that Ralph Henry Barbour is dead.

How the name remains in memory and by that very fact proves a point! Who does not remember and have his favorites among such characters as Tom Swift, Frank Merriwell, and the Rover Boys? But how many can recall offhand the writers who created them? With Barbour the case is neatly reversed. Thousands upon thousands of Americans can tag his name instantly, yet would have considerable difficulty citing a single character or a specific title.

It is not alone that he rarely indulged in series tales. It is not entirely that he wrote so multitudinously—more than 150 books and hundreds of short stories over four and a half decades—that individual items are lost in the maze. The major reason is that he made his own name a distinctive mark of merit. It became more important than any other words on the cover of each new volume.

Sports, scholastic and collegiate sports, were his specialty, of course, and he kept up to date on them and their attendant slang with careful fidelity. But he could roll, too, with the economic punches, and in the late depression years, when many a young fellow had to drop out of school and look for a job, he turned to stories of working boys. He could write with authority on that subject as well, for he himself had foregone college to go to work—and had, as his heroes invariably did, done well at the task he had undertaken.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 14.

1. Which state in the U. S. A. extends farthest north?
   Washington New York Minnesota Maine.
2. A Texas business man, E. M. Biggers, has counted the New Deal's alphabetical agencies and finds they number 37 58 79 104.
3. Which one of these is inappropriate in this general grouping?
   Water Ice Sand Coal.
4. Al Smith was the governor of what state?
   Massachusetts Rhode Island New Jersey New York.
5. "Catch as catch can" should make one think of which sport?
   Baseball Football Wrestling Volleyball.
6. This is an analogy problem. The first two words of each line have a certain relationship to each other. Try to select one of the words in boldface type which has a similar relationship to the third word of the line. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.
   [a] Liquid : Gas :: Hg : Ag-Sn-Co-Cu.

MR. PEPYS IS NOT AMUSED.

26th Feb.—Have omitted my personal gossip for two Saturdays, because afflicted with the fever of the season, which is a discourager of merriment no matter how mild its touch. There has been no buzzing about in the last fortnight for Mr. Pepys, who is now in circulation again but refusing to run for street cars.

Had a small adventure the other night. Was riding home on the subway, with my nose in a newspaper, at peace with the world, and as the car came out of the tunnel it was bombarded with ketchup bottles by miscreants lurking in the darkness. One bottle struck the window frame within two feet of my head, which is the closest shave I have had since a steel flagpole fell off a skyscraper 10 years ago and missed me by a few yards. Another bottle crashed thru the glass of the car's door, showering the guard with fragments, but he got no cuts.

As a member of the Baker Street Irregulars, Chicago chapter, I immediately took charge and advised the guard to save the label on the ketchup bottle for fingerprints. Have no doubt the traction company will put its best operative on this case, but would like to hang around the stub end of Wisconsin st. myself for a few nights, looking for bottle pitchers with a baseball bat.

My lifetime score in close shaves from casual missiles, not hurled at me in anger, now stands as follows: One riveter's bolt, in a street car during a strike; two tons of terra cotta from a high building cornice, on Michigan av.; 20 tons of steel flagpole in fragments, on Michigan av.; two bullets, .38 and .22 caliber, one fired by my best friend and the other by a Boy Scout, and the aforesaid bottle.

Well, there are countless people in the world who can boast of bigger scores in a shorter space of time, but I think they are less surprised by the bombs that miss than I was by that ketchup container.

COMMENT FROM CORSICA.

He's feeling well, he says, and each long day
He does the job marked out for him to do;
And yet despite these many months away
He still gets "sort of homesick, sort of blue."
Sometimes the mountain's snow seems to restore
The clouds that made Chicago's winters drear;
Sometimes the waves upon his island shore
Seem like the lake at home another year.
And then a lump somehow comes in his throat,
The longing no one ever quite outgrows,
Until the mail call brings an antidote—
A bunch of letters from the ones he knows;
Packed full of little things and cheerful lore,
And in the pages he finds home once more!

Democracy in a Street Car.

It is winter. You are riding on a street car, occupying an inside seat. A heavy man, swathed in a bulky overcoat, boards the car. He jostles down beside you. You hold your peace. But when he keeps crowding, you decide to give him one of those cease-and-desist looks. Before you have a chance to launch yours, you get a murderous look from him.

To admit the truth, you really could have moved over an inch, or possibly two. But it is too late now. It would be tantamount to an admission of guilt.

Meanwhile the other guy is maintaining a constant pressure against your side. Your ribs are getting sore, but no more so than yourself. By way of retaliation you jab your elbow into his ribs every time the car lurches. An impasse has been reached, you feel. The other guy feels the same way. It makes him only more determined to make it as miserable for you as he possibly can without resorting to mayhem.

After what seems an eternity you reach your destination. You get up without a display of haste. You walk with dignity to the nearest exit. You have spent an uncomfortable half hour, but you have stood your ground. And, what is more, you have saved your face. A. Nicoll Weeber.

LINES TO MY CAPTAIN.

A Captain! Is it really true?
Why, somehow, I still think of you
As romping in your pinafore
To meet your daddy at the door.
A Captain! It just cannot be!
I see you sitting on my knee,
As I relate with solemn touch
The antics in a bunny hutch.
But son, with chevrons, silver bars,
Yea, even pompous silver stars,
Or titles added to your name,
You still to me will be the same;
Your childish laughter, sparkling eyes,
Are treasures I shall ever prize.
When I'm alone it brings me joy
To think of you as just my boy;
And yet, my son, I'm very proud
To call you "Captain" in a crowd.

W. L. Hudson.

Bird-Lover Goes to War.

Yesterday he was just a good-natured, hard-working fellow who liked birds and kept a life list of them. Today, sober, trim, fit, strictly G. I., he is on his way to the fighting.

He still loves birds, wants to continue his life list of them. Now this is not G. I., not the stuff wars are made of. Yet, perhaps, out of the muck, the mire, the hate, something soaring above him will catch his eye.

The museum library tells us a man named Angus, on Castlereagh st. in Sydney, for 2s 6d, will supply him a book on Australian birds. A western zoological park will give him Bulletin 19 for birds in the South Pacific. If it's to be North Africa, however, this will be slightly more complicated.

But keep looking up, soldier. Maybe you'll find the answer we're all seeking. May your life and your list both be long. Ipse Dixit.

We are pleased to announce that Jimmie Smith, our office boy for the past two months, has been promoted to vice president. [Hope it works.] The Count of Clasticono.

ELECTRIC SHOCKS IN MENTAL DISORDERS.

ALTHO the suggestion is not new, the practice of inducing convulsions in one who is mentally ill is a relatively recent procedure. More than a century and a half ago Oliver reported beneficial effects following violent, spasmodic movements brought on by the administration of camphor.

As the influence of the seizures wears away, certain brain cells fall into normal alignment, with restoration of natural behavior. While the remedy seems to be drastic it is not worse than the disease.

The use of chemicals to produce involuntary muscular contractions has been replaced—in part, at least—by electrical shocks. With the proper apparatus the voltage can be increased or decreased at will.

In a typical case, the sufferer is given a light breakfast two hours before the current is to be applied. A small dose of atropine is injected to prevent vomiting and the profuse flow of saliva. The bladder and colon are emptied. The patient is then placed on a well protected table and covered with a blanket. No restraints are employed other than to guard against falling.

The electrodes are adjusted to the temples and an 80 to 100 volt current is turned on for 0.2 of a second. If nothing happens the charge is advanced slightly by 5 or 10 volts. As a rule, after a shock or two, a convulsion will appear.

Altho no two individuals will react in exactly the same manner, some will not remember what has occurred. Now and then one will insist that he must have received a bump on the head. The usual remark is "Something snapped. I could see lights flickering and then they went out." Forgetfulness of one's surroundings may persist for hours or days. On the other hand, few will have difficulty in recalling who they are, where they are, or where they live.

Fortunately, many sufferers are sufficiently alert to recognize the help which they have received. Thus the treatments are not feared. In describing 260 subjects managed in this fashion, Henderson, of Edinburgh, cites a number who insisted that the plan be continued.

If success is to come, about the first sign is a marked increase in interest in personal appearance. Women patients want mirrors in order to fix their hair and apply cosmetics. In fact, one of the important indications of recovery is the increased use of rouge, face powder, etc. Victims who respond slowly make the most stable gains. Those who emerge from their mental fog after one or two sessions invariably relapse.

How long should the program be continued? It may be stopped as soon as improvement is definite. This usually is observed after from one to six "seances." In other words, a good outlook must not be spoiled by overdosage.

Included in the cases handled by the Edinburgh group were melancholia, severe depressions, dementia precox, psychoneuroses, and paranoid states. The best results were noted in melancholia and depressions; the poorest, in psychoneuroses. But this type of therapy promises far more than any other known method. As we would expect, early cases responded more readily. In this series, cures exceeded 50 per cent, with improvement in another 25 per cent.

SONLESS.

Mrs. F. writes: I am the mother of three children—all girls. My husband has always wanted boys and he blames me for the fact that we have only daughters. Will you solve my problem?

REPLY.

Hubby shares the responsibility. The sex of offspring can neither be controled nor predetermined. It is fixed by the behavior of the genes in the fertilized egg.

EAR DISTURBANCE.

V. E. writes: What is labyrinthitis?

REPLY.

Inflammation of the labyrinth, the internal ear. Pain, roaring, dizziness, and disturbances of hearing may be exhibited.

NOSEBLEED.

G. T. writes: What is the proper procedure in nosebleed?

REPLY.

Stop the bleeding. Pressure by means of a nasal pack is successful, as a rule. Only rarely will heroic measures be called for.

POLIO.

T. M. writes: Is infantile paralysis contagious?

REPLY.

Yes—the very fact that it occurs in epidemics proves the point.

TEARY YAWNS.

W. K. writes: Why do my eyes fill with tears whenever I yawn?

REPLY.

You squeeze the tear sacs, which obliges them to flood the eyeballs.

THE LIBERTY BELL RINGS AGAIN

Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

Reflection of Venus.

Bring me my telescope, Sylvanus,
For I must view the stars.
The Earth, I hear, revolves in danger,
And my dear cousin, Mars,
Has told me nothing of his flying
Across the Milky way.
Sylvanus, hurry; do not dally
For I must know today
What evil clouds engulf the Earth folk
Upon the land and sea;
Ah, woe, the sights are strange and eerie—
And sorrowful to me.
The World with church and schools of learning
Has yet a mark to seek;
The chapter that no one is teaching
Is mercy for the meek.
I see this Earth in flames and furor,
And while her cities burn
Who is the judge and who the jury,
And who will pause to learn?
Bring me my myrtle wreath, Sylvanus,
And hitch my turtle doves
To fly me to the Mount Olympus
To ponder on my loves.

MARTHA WENDT.

Thought of the Decade.

A Michigan clergyman is authority for this story:

At the last inauguration President Roosevelt was asked at what verse in the Bible he would like to lay his hand when being sworn in. He asked for I. Corinthians, XIII., 1, that familiar verse which says:

Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

The man who opened the Bible presumably did not know that Paul wrote two letters to the Corinthians and opened the book at II. Corinthians, XIII., 1. This unfamiliar verse says:

This is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

Draft Enthusiast.

Members of the Chicago Press Photographers' association have been busy at the Stevens the last few days hanging the pictures for their second annual exhibit of photography. One of the men asked Bob Palmer, Chicago cameraman, what his draft status was. "1-A," Palmer replied glumly. "You don't sound enthusiastic," the other said. "No," said Palmer. "Only Mrs. Eisenhower is."

He then began to tell how last summer he had gone to Kansas to the home of Gen. Eisenhower's mother to make a lay-out of pictures. After he had been there a day or two, Mrs. Eisenhower, a kindly old lady, said to him hesitantly, "Do you know my son, Ike?"

"No," Palmer said. "But I may meet him any day now. I'm in 1-A."

"O, I do hope you get the chance to meet him," Mrs. Eisenhower said joyously. "You'll like him so well."

World's Worst.

The office punsters exchanged notes as they read the headlines.

"Eniway we took Eniwetok," wrote the first.

"Yap!" wrote the second.

"Guam!" wrote the third.

"Engebi Nomura your Truk," scribbled the first.

Chopped Cherry Tree Note.

C. Ray Johnson and his wife were awakened about 6:30 on the morning of Washington's birthday by a special delivery messenger. He muttered: "Package for Johnson. Sign here," and left. The package contained a billfold containing $11, a cheap watch, and two pencils. An unsigned, typed note said, "This is all I have. Sorry I did not return it before." The articles were the partial contents of a purse lost by Mrs. Johnson in September, 1942.

Rationalism.

American parents should appreciate the gentle urging of a gentleman named David Naylor, a Londoner who in a letter of protest to the London Daily Times replies to the voluntary guardians of Rome:

"May I inquire if any of the gentlemen so deeply concerned over the ancient monuments of Rome have an only son whom they are prepared to sacrifice on the altar of St. Peter's? If not, may I ask them to moderate the enthusiasm with which they propose to substitute mine?"

BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA.

Clinton, Ill., Feb. 19.—My attention has been called to the sad plight of Mrs. Effie Wilhite of Denver, who operates a rooming house. Last spring the city court fined her $50 for operating a boarding house in a restricted zone and the city ordered the place closed. The office of price administration refused to allow her to evict her tenants and comply with the city requirements. Last October she was cited again by the city for operating the boarding house. The OPA again refused to allow her to close and the court fined her $300. She is still unable to remain open under city regulations and unable to close under OPA regulations.

No one needs to be an attorney to determine that Mrs. Wilhite, an ordinary taxpaying citizen is between the devil and the deep blue sea. Legally she can move neither way.

I am afraid, as are many, many people, that the sacrifice our boys are making is for naught. We have something at home I cannot define, but it smells to high heaven—and so does Hitlerism. Is there some relationship? W. P. S.

THE NEW DEAL IN EDUCATION.

Fairfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—As a high school teacher I should like to answer Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Robbins on the meaningless report cards given their children. Too bad, but they are only reaping the rewards of the modern school—that revision which ran neck and neck with WPA and other so-called "reforms." Just as it was assumed that adults would be happy with money, earned or otherwise, so it was feigned that this same state of felicity should be brought to every child. Give them high grades, pass all of them, became the slogan. The child is happy with his marks, likewise the parents, and the teacher has no explanations to make.

I have just finished teaching interest and discount to high school juniors and seniors, and such a task as it was. All of them, capable and ambitious as they are, said that they had never heard of it before. I had to know these things before I was admitted to high school.

QUESTION ON IMPEACHMENT.

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 21.—From the time that Mr. Roosevelt asked for a law, contrary to the Constitution, in order that he might pack the Supreme court, up to this present demand that congress pass an illegal soldiers vote bill, the one big question in my mind is, does not at least one of these acts, or all of them, constitute a violation of his oath to uphold the Constitution? And if there has been such a violation, why hasn't there been an impeachment proceeding started by congress?

LOOK WHO'S TALKING.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Feb. 21.—Our Vice President, H. A.-Corn Wallace, speaking in Springfield, Ill., said: "It is bad business and bad morals to allow believers in scarcity to hold down production while people need goods, and men are out of "work."

"VETERINARY MEDICINE."

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Live stock producers thruout the country, intensely interested in the conservation and improvement of the herds and flocks that supply the meat and milk, wool and horse power of the nation, will commend you for last Sunday's sensible editorial on "Veterinary Medicine." Time was when Chicago itself was a center of veterinary education, due to the excellent courses offered by two private schools. Every one thought that the veterinarian was passe with the replacement of the horse by the internal combustion engine, but now the new demands for expert herdsmanship have created a greater need than ever for professional skill in maintaining animal health. If a young man wants to gain a veterinary education today he most probably journeys eastward to Ohio State university or to Cornell. There is every sound reason why the greatest veterinary college in the world should be located at the center of the meat belt.

Among farmers there has been quite a lot of talk about setting up a new system of "live stock county agents" after the war. They want to install trained animal husbandmen in every county or group of counties where improved live stock keeping would be economic. This local live stock leader will be all the more efficient and helpful in the community if he has a veterinary education on top of his animal husbandry training. The University of Illinois could find no field of service more beneficial to the Prairie state and, indeed, the entire corn belt than to establish a college of veterinary medicine.

WHERE MARYLAND GAS GOES.

Princess Anne, Md., Feb. 20.—If 70 per cent of the tonnage which was involved in the North African invasion was devoted to the carriage of petroleum products, it would seem obvious that a full scale invasion of the continent based in England will require even more gas and oil.

Nevertheless, Maryland's politicians [and I suppose those in other states] still flit about in official cars to attend purely political functions and as this is a political year they can be expected to burn up more gas and oil and tires than usual.

With the opening of a second front roughly coinciding with the time our farmers must get busy, the drain on civilian petroleum supplies is bound to be very great. Is it too much to ask of our "public men" that they set the public a good example at this critical time? RIVES MATTHEWS.

Ensign Richard W. Mechem to Wed in East Tomorrow

BY JUDITH CASS.

FROM Boston comes news of interest here, for it concerns the marriage to take place tomorrow of Ensign Richard Watson Mechem, youngest son of Col. and Mrs. John Mechem of Rockport, Mass., formerly of Lake Forest, and Miss Jane B. Norton, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Frederic H. Norton of Cambridge and Annisquam, Mass. The wedding will take place in the Village church in Annisquam, with a reception following at the Norton farm.

Robert C. Mechem of Cambridge, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man, and Mrs. Benjamin A. Smith II., the former Barbara Mechem, will be matron of honor. John S. Mechem, another brother, will be among the ushers, and the bride's sister, Miss Nancy Norton, will be maid of honor.

Miss Margaret Thompson and Mrs. Le Baron Turner have gone east for their nephew's wedding. Ensign Mechem's orders will take him to Miami, Fla.

Carroll-Shumway.

A number of weddings are taking place in the Chicago area today, among them one in Lake Forest in which Miss Grace Laflin Shumway will become the bride of Lt. Potter Hessler Carroll of the navy, and one in the Fourth Presbyterian church in which Miss Barbara Warner will be married to James Fentress. The Carroll-Shumway ceremony will be held at 4:30 p. m. in the Lake Forest Presbyterian church, with a reception following in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward De Witt Shumway.

Miss Shumway, a fifth generation Chicagoan, will have her cousin, Miss Mary Seymour Adams, as her maid of honor, and Miss Adrienne Ely and Mrs. John Haight as bridesmaids. John Loucks of Seattle, Wash., will be best man for Lt. Carroll, who is the son of Howard R. Carroll of Seattle. Ushers will be the bride's brother, Apprentice Seaman Edward Shumway Jr.; Lt. [j. g.] George Young of Washington, D. C., who will take Miss Adams as his bride on March 24; Lt. [j. g.] James Edgell, Lt. John Elliott, Ensign Robert Baldwin, and W. France Anderson Jr.

Mrs. Rockwood Gibbs has come from Pittsfield, Mass., for her niece's marriage. Miss Shumway's bridal costume will include the bridal necklace worn by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Elisha P. Whitehead. After a wedding trip to Boca Grande, Fla., Lt. Carroll and his bride will be at home in Washington, D. C.

Fentress-Warner.

The Fentress-Warner ceremony will take place at 3 p. m., with a reception following at the Casino club. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eliot Warner, will have her cousin, Miss Louise Herdic, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Mrs. Thomas B. Ross of Cleveland, O., Miss Peggy Rich, Miss Evelyn Gardner, and Miss Betty Bennett. Silas Warner, brother of the bride, who is in the navy V-12 program at Princeton, will be best man, and ushering will be Midshipmen Clarence Lovelace and Peter Bergen and Lt. Donald Freeman and Lt. Richard Le Blond of the army.

Mr. Fentress is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fentress of Hubbard Woods. The bride will carry an heirloom lace handkerchief given to her by Mrs. Fentress.

Other Weddings.

Miss Mary Constance Cowap, daughter of the Henry Barnett Cowaps of Evanston, and George Leslie Tetlow, son of Mrs. George Tetlow, also of Evanston, will be married at 8:30 p. m. in the Evans-

Miss Catherine Harrison Will Be Wed Today

Miss Catherine Merle Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Harrison of Lake Shore dr., and Lt. [j. g.] Edward Franklin Kittrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Kittrell of Greenwood, Miss., will be married today at the naval air station in San Diego, Cal., with a reception following at the Hotel Del Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison have gone west for the wedding and to see their son, Ensign Harrison Jr.

Miss Harrison has been attending Mills college and her fiance just has returned from a year's service at Guadalcanal. After a wedding trip to Lake Arrowhead, Lt. Kittrell and his bride will be at home in La Jolla, Cal., where he is stationed.

The marriage of Miss Ann Brown Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Moss of Louisville, Ky., and Atlanta, Ga., to Lt. William Newton of the army, son of Robert Newton of Harvey, will take place today in the Peachtree Road Presbyterian church in Atlanta. Miss Moss was graduated from the J. M. Atherton School for Girls. Her fiance was graduated from Northwestern university and the University of Illinois and received his commission at Duke university after having served for six months on Kodiak Island. He now is stationed in Atlanta.

Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Westgate of Oak Park have announced the marriage Feb. 16 of their daughter, Marian, to Staff Sgt. George Vaupell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Vaupell, also of Oak Park. The ceremony took place in the Ascension church in Oak Park, with a reception following in the Westgate home. The bridegroom, who served overseas for 22 months, now is stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Announcement is made of the marriage Feb. 19 in Greencastle, Ind., of Miss Nancy Porter, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Lafayette L. Porter of Greencastle, formerly of South Bend, Ind., and Lt. Barney H. McClure of Los Gatos, Cal. The bride is a granddaughter of the late Clement Studebaker of South Bend and was graduated from De Pauw university. Lt. McClure, a graduate of Leland Stanford, and his bride will live in Westover, Mass.

Announcement is made of the marriage Feb. 18 of Miss Christine Marple Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hamilton of Chestnut Hill, Pa., and Lt. Edward Doyon Main of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stillman Main of Evanston. The ceremony took place in the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Field in Chestnut Hill. Lt. John S. Mann of the navy was his brother's best man.

Disabled Yanks Need Jobs, but Want No Pity

[This is the second of three articles suggesting ways of assisting men disabled in the present war to resume normal lives at home. The final article will appear in the financial section.]

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The families, friends, and employers of men who return from the war crippled or disfigured have two principal duties toward them. One is to see that the jobs they get have possibilities for permanence. The other is to refrain from any word or action—or even any excess of sympathy or solicitude—which could make these men conscious of their injuries. This is the opinion of Capt. Francis E. West, chief of orthopedic service at the army's Gardiner General hospital on Chicago's south side.

"Get these men into positions which will carry them on even after the wa. stops," he said. "Jobs that are lucrative now, but aren't permanent, won't solve their problems."

Capt. West explained that during the present boom injured service men will be tempted to take jobs that they can do well enough, but not quite as well as unhandicapped persons. The danger, he explained, is that when big layoffs come these men may be among the first to suffer.

"Many of these returning soldiers are youngsters," Capt. West added. "They won't take a long view of their problems themselves, so they must have advice and help."

As to the necessity of refraining from any word or action that would make injured men conscious of their disabilities, Capt. West insisted that they must be received back into civilian society in a matter of fact way and treated like anybody else.

"These men are not looking for sympathy," he said. "They don't want to be stared at or thought of as requiring extra attention."

He thought that if society follows these few simple rules the ordeal the men face in readjusting themselves will be greatly lessened. He explained that even while they are still in hospitals injured soldiers are gradually reintroduced to society. They take part in hospital social affairs, they meet relatives and friends from outside, and they attend entertainments. Thus they become used to a nonmilitary life again. If their families and friends and society in general will cooperate their transition to full civilian status can be made with hardly a jar.

Capt. West emphasized the fact no injured man is sent back into civilian life until everything that can possibly be done for him has been done. He referred to some of the operations that have been performed on disfigured faces as "surgical miracles," and he does not believe that the appearance of the returned men will shock their families and friends.

Neither does he foresee much trouble with the general mental state of the disabled men—even of those who have suffered such misfortunes as the loss of a limb. He described the morale of this group as exceptionally good. He is convinced that the vast majority will easily readjust themselves to civilian life if civilians treat them intelligently.

Thru the Looking Glass

There's no getting around the fact that the woman plagued with dry, thin skin has a real problem. It's a condition she cannot ignore if she's interested in comfort and beauty. Should she impassively let the cold winds, steam heat, sudden changes of temperature, and all the vicissitudes of winter play unchecked hob with her skin, she'll find herself greeting the first robin of spring looking a bit like a prune and feeling just about as uncomfortable. The dry skinned woman must work diligently to replenish the oils her skin needs and must select all her cosmetics with an eye to alleviating the dryness, being particularly careful to choose her creams for richness.

One of the great beauty specialists has a night cream that's a real help for this type of skin condition. It's been used with excellent results for quite some time and owes its success to the rich oils it contains. It's a perfect softener and soother for skin that is tense and dry at the end of the day. It's not a cream to be spread on and wiped off in a hurry. Rather, it is to be applied after the skin has had its nightly cleansing and should be left on thruout the night.

Massage it over the face and neck in light, upward strokes. You'll be able to feel the skin relax as you stroke the cream on, an indication of how nice and refreshed it will look and feel in the morning. During seven or eight hours of slumber the emollient does its job of dispelling the tautness and counteracting the dryness that detracts from the freshness and beauty of the complexion.

Treatment with a cream of this type is the sure and sensible way of reconditioning the skin at the end of every wintry day.

Air Evacuation Nurse from Chicago Among Three Given Medals

Lt. Seraphine Petrocelli, 26, of 32 E. 98th pl., was one of three army air evacuation flight nurses who received air medals yesterday in ceremonies at Bowman field, Louisville, Ky. Lt. Col. John R. McGraw, commandant of the army air forces school of air evacuation, pinned the medal with oak leaf cluster on Lt. Petrocelli. Air medals also were awarded to Lt. Regina M. Brown, 24, of Albuquerque, N. M., and Lt. Gerda H. Bouwhuis, 24, of Kalamazoo, Mich. All three are veterans of Japanese bombings on Guadalcanal and New Georgia islands. They were among the first army air evacuation nurses assigned to a combat area.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

You Always Wish You Had.

You always wish you had gone in business with that smart friend who opened a shop, and look what a killing she made. . . . You wish you'd studied interior decoration or industrial design or learned about plastics or something. . . . You wish you'd bought that grand piano when it was for sale for a mere song—and now think of the price.

You always wish you'd kept your first job, for by this time you'd be some one with authority and privilege. . . . You regret thoroly that you flounced out of your second job—especially when you had a yen for the boss. . . . You wish to high heaven you'd taken that swell trip to California the summer you could have gone. The girl who went in your place met her husband on the train and lived happily ever after, while you—how are you living?

Hindsight.

You wish you'd bought brown sealskin instead of one of those [now common] Persian lamb coats. . . . You're disgusted to think you didn't learn to cook in high school instead of grappling with economics, which no one understands anyway. . . . You wish you'd let your hair grow last summer when it had such a good start.

You wish you'd acquired some knowledge of the globe so when his letters come with a foreign postmark you could imagine better where he is. . . . You're awfully sorry you didn't stop to ask that sweet little girl why she was crying on the street the other day—but did you guess her small face would haunt you? . . . You wish you'd had enough spine to tell a certain person what you thought of him, but then, again, you're just as glad you didn't. . . . You wish you'd gone back to your old school just for the fun of showing the teacher who flunked you that you didn't turn out so bad after all. . . . You wish you had hugged tighter [the last time you saw her] darling Miss Abbey, your grammar school principal of so many years ago.

You'd Do It All Over Again.

You wish your mother had made you practice because now you'd be playing for the boys at the U. S. O. if you hadn't quit all of a sudden. . . . You'd like yourself better if you'd spoken up loyally on behalf of the new girl in your office—a scared kid like you, once. . . . You wish you'd held your tongue and not confided in Marge what Frances said about her at lunch—those girls can't keep anything secret. . . . You are amazed that you told the boss that absurd fib about your relatives coming unexpectedly to town, when you wanted to go shopping—you should have known you'd never hear the last of it.

You always wish you'd taken ballroom dancing just to see if the men would pull you to your feet insistently at the first beat of the music. . . . You wish, gosh do you wish, you'd learned to make the most of your looks, like those beautifully organized creatures who snub you from the pages of the best fashion magazines. . . . You wish you hadn't been so nasty to that man who crowded you yesterday in the bus [tho you'd do it all over again today]. . . . Yes, you'd do it all over again!

CasualToppers Are Small and Really Terrific

BY REA SEEGER.

Casual toppers for hat-collecting career girls are small, smart, and terrific; ready to be worn with casual clothes, suits, and ensembles for time away from work. They're neat, some prim looking off the head, but surprisingly chic on the pompadours. They are featured in pastels, bright colors, and time honored reds and greens, and in such materials as wool and fabric to match suits. There are all kinds of smooth felts to match sleek tailored flannel suits and coats, stunning tweed and wool mixtures to match tweeds and suit woolens, and in new spring bengaline, ribbed silks, and straws.

Most of the classics are of the pillbox or beanie type. And new this spring are the hats patterned after Dutch bonnets and baby bonnets made of straw and rib weave materials. The wool fabric bonnets are effectively stitched in narrow rows, both for crisp outline and for decoration. The gray and beige models go fast because they are such slick companions with beige and gray two piece suits.

Tiny helmet shaped toppers, copied from high fashion hats in templet form, are made of wool, straw, and ribbed silk. Some are edged with laced braid, others have a perky bow of the same felt or fabric in front, and some have a huge flat button in the direct center of the top. Another model looks like a double muffin, while the visor hats provide eye shadow mystery without excess brim to bother at the back.

The colored loot in such a collection of small, neat street and daytime hats is virtually unlimited. Since every shade and color imaginable is available, it is easy to gain contrast or harmony with any suit or coat. The price marks, way under the five dollar limit, assure easy-on-the-conscience shopping.

Science Academy Exhibit Explains Plight of Birds

The Chicago Academy of Sciences, calling attention to the fact that late winter and early spring is the starvation period for winter birds and early migrants, has a seasonal "Birds in Winter" exhibit on display in its natural history museum in Lincoln park. Mounted specimens of the winter birds of this region are grouped to indicate which may or may not become "feeding station customers," and the exhibit shows what diets most appeal to the various types and the best ways of preparing and setting out food.

Jewish Vets' Auxiliary to Greet National Leader

Illinois department of the Jewish War Veterans' Ladies auxiliary will hold a special meeting tomorrow night in the Morrison hotel to greet Mrs. Jessie C. Gneshin of New York, national president of the auxiliary. The state group is headed by Mrs. Tina Brill. Mrs. Gneshin is expected to arrive today.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the women's division, war finance committee of Cook county, announces that incomplete returns on war bond sales made by women in her organization in the fourth war loan amount to $133,664,113, bringing the women's total sales since Pearl Harbor to $512,551,892.

The special war bond matinee performance of "Oklahoma!" netted $2,619,250. Admission was by bonds ranging in value from $25 to $5,000. Two "celebri-teas," sponsored jointly by the women's division and Marshall Field & Co., resulted in $2,492,000 in bond sales. More than $15,460,125 in bonds was netted at a "chefs' dinner" in the Stevens hotel. Mrs. Georgia Hunt, chairman of the hotel committee of the division, headed the latter project.

Booths situated in Chicago office buildings, hospitals, and railroad stations, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Max Epstein, sold $29,302,659 in bonds.

Mrs. Leo P. Cummings, chairman of the Catholic committee; Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, chairman of the all-nations booth; Mrs. Frederic Woodward, head of booths in private schools; Dr. Helen Howe, chairman of bond sales in public schools, and leaders of bond campaigns in suburban towns all turned in handsome reports, the least of which was in six figures.

The 150 members of the WAC Mothers' club held their organization meeting this week and elected officers. Mrs. George B. Schulten is the group's first president.

Other officers are Mrs. Eugene I. Payne, 1st vice president; Mrs. Stanley K. Evans, 2d vice president; Mrs. Helen Spanski, 3d vice president; Mrs. Edna M. Rohde, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph H. Stephan, recording secretary; Mrs. E. B. Roberts, treasurer, and Mrs. Blanche Falardeau, sergeant at arms.

Officers now are seeking permanent headquarters. Several committees have been formed to project activities of the club. Mrs. C. J. Otjen, wife of Col. Otjen, commanding district 3 of the 6th service command, was appointed an honorary member in recognition of the aid she gave the WAC Mothers during their pre-organization period.

Norman Davis, chairman of the National American Red Cross, announced in Washington, D. C., yesterday the appointments of three Chicago chapter volunteers to the national committee for volunteer special services.

Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, head of the production corps; Miss Harriet McLaughlin, chairman of the motor corps, and Mrs. James A. Cathcart, head of all volunteer services for the Chicago chapter, are the three appointees. Mrs. Ryerson will be serving in this capacity for the first time. Miss McLaughlin and Mrs. Cathcart have been reappointed.

The national committee will meet in the Stevens hotel May 1 thru May 4. Women representing 3,756 chapters of the Red Cross will attend the gathering, at which all volunteer services, national policies, and new projects will be discussed. Miss McLaughlin will have charge of arrangements.

The appointment of six more Chicagoland nurses to the army nurse corps, with the rank of 2d lieutenant, was announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding the 6th service command. Five of the women are Chicago residents. All have been assigned to Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis.

The new army nurses are Miss Winifred R. Crafts, Mrs. Maren Anderson Frye, Miss Ruth Edna Gartner, Miss Bernadette M. Gill, and Miss Lillian Agnes Rajek, all of Chicago, and Miss Marjorie Hathorne of Watseka.

Hirsch High Youth Wins State Legion Oratorical Contest

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 25 (AP).—Melvin Cornfield of Hirsch High school, Chicago, today won the state American Legion oratorical contest and received a four year scholarship at the University of Illinois and a silver medal.

Each of four finalists gave a 10 to 12 minute prepared oration on "The Basic Principles of the Constitution" and a four to six minute extemporaneous talk on "The Basic Principles of the American Form of Government."

Other winners and awards were: Miss Lanelle McCaslin, Granite City High school, second, a two year scholarship and medal; Fraser Whitehead, Wheaton, third, a one year scholarship and medal, and Miss Arlene Zahn, Springfield, fourth, a medal.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 25.—Whatever happened to Anita Loos' script about the WACs? She went to their training center at Fort Des Moines, Ia., got all the lowdown, then story was never done. Now I hear a couple of very important government officials are en route to Hollywood to suggest Warners make a film about the WACs. . . . Fred MacMurray is the latest possibility for "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." He's signed a seven year contract at Twentieth Century. The young girl's part will be played by an unknown. . . . James Hilton got a plane ride to Washington to help launch new aircraft carrier Shangri-La, which name was taken from his book "Lost Horizon." . . . During Bette Davis' two months' vacation she will stay very close to her river bottom home. She's agreed to do five broadcasts. . . . Aren't you getting just a little fed up with Laird Cregar and his operation? I am.

Be Sure You Don't Miss It.

If John Garfield gets back from his trip overseas in time, he'll play "Al Schmid, Marine," the story which was written by Roger Butterfield. It's a wonderful story. . . . Brynie Foy will have "Rip Goes to War" in work very soon now. Columbia's putting on "Sergeant Mike." Both are about those famous army dogs that have become heroes. Credit for the dogs really goes to Carl Spitz. I made a short about his dogs three years ago. . . . Agnes Moorehead at last gets a chance to dress up. She'll play the baroness in "Mrs. Parkington" and wear 11 of Irene's lovely dresses.

Donald Won His Battle.

Thru Donald Crisp's efforts, supporting actor and actress who win academy awards this year will get Oscars instead of the plaques handed out before. It's always seemed to me unfair to give Oscars to only stars when everything's done for them. But supporting members of a cast get there thru a mighty struggle. It took an actor to bring this adjustment about. . . . On the "National Velvet" set, where Crisp is working, was Butch Jenkins, having his toenails painted red. His sister had her first bottle of enamel, and practiced on baby brother. Too bad you couldn't hear his side remarks, but they had to be deleted. . . . Bob Cummings went to the canteen to welcome the seven Russian navy boys and their commander. Bob's been instructing at the Mira Loma flight academy. Graduated his fifth class of cadets.

Mamma Steps Out.

At "The Sullivans" opening Bill Powell took his mother. Her first première. She said she was thrilled to the marrow of her bones. Norma Shearer got more attention from autograph seekers than most top stars. So did Pat O'Brien. The bobby sox brigade went to Frank Sinatra, but maybe it was because he was with Gloria de Havon. She's a cute trick, that Gloria. . . . With all valley residents griping about the rain and the loss of heat and light, the one who remained calm and grateful was Ann Dvorak. "After the London Blitz," said Ann, "this was nothing." . . . No, Shirley Temple isn't enlisting in the WAVES. She just entertained a group of them for lunch at the Brown Derby. . . . Alfred Zeisler plays Hitler in "The Master Race." . . . Clarence Kolb of Kolb and Dill has himself a comic part in "Irish Eyes Are Smiling." . . . Farley Granger, so good in "Purple Heart," has reported to the navy. . . . Dinah Shore's counting on March 3. Her new house will be ready to receive her and her husband, George Montgomery, and they'll attend the première of "Up in Arms." You should try to keep them away!

INSTALMENT XLII.

AMBROSE WORRIED.

Downstairs in the study Frank Ambrose said in a tired voice, "O, yes, I came back. I don't mind telling you about it—I suppose it was bound to come out."

He sat where Mark Paradine had sat, in a chair drawn up to the short side of the writing table. Miss Silver faced him across its length, placidly knitting. Bent over the blotting pad, Supt. Vyner was taking notes. On the opposite side Col. Bostock sat frowning.

It was Miss Silver who coughed and said,

"I think it would be as well, Mr. Ambrose."

"It is really very simple, but because of my stepfather's death all the natural, simple things which happen in a family have become suspicious. So you see, I can tell you what happened, but I can't make you believe it. There is nothing to corroborate my statement. I came back because I was greatly disturbed and distressed by what my stepfather had said at dinner. I made up my mind to go back and talk the whole thing over with him. If you ask any one who knew us both they will tell you that we were on very intimate terms. That's why I came back. He's had a strong, sarcastic temper. I didn't want him to do anything that would make a permanent breach in the family."

"How did he take your coming back?" said Col. Bostock.

"We talked. I was with him for about 20 minutes. Then I went away."

Vyner looked up and said:

"Did he tell you that Mr. Wray's blueprints were missing?"

"Yes."

"Did he tell you who had taken them?"

"I'm afraid I can't tell you that."

"You can, of course, refuse to answer any question now."

"Of course I realize that. I'm afraid I can't tell you anything more at present."

When the door had shut behind him Miss Silver said, "Dear me!" Col. Bostock blew his nose loudly.

Vyner was shutting his notebook.

"There isn't much doubt about that."

"Looks as if he hasn't slept for a week. By the way,"—the chief constable turned to Miss Silver—"his wife's out of it—that girl Irene. Glad about that. Nasty thing for a young woman, murder. Vyner'll tell you."

The superintendent turned his pleasant blue eyes upon Miss Silver.

"I had some inquiries made at Dr. Horton's house. The two maids share an attic room to the front. Well, one of them says she looked out somewhere after 11 and she saw Mrs. Ambrose walking up and down like she said she did. She is quite sure about its being Mrs. Ambrose. It seems she was always ringing Dr. Horton up about the children, and this was the girl who would take the messages, so they made quite a joke of it. They say Mrs. Ambrose was still there at 10 minutes to 12. I think that's good enough."

Miss Silver nodded.

"O, yes. I think we may say that most of the time between a quarter to 10 and midnight is now accounted for. It might be helpful to have a time table before us. Perhaps the superintendent will be kind enough to take one down——.

"9:45—Departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose, Miss Ambrose, and Miss Pennington.

"9:50 or so—Departure of Mr. Mark Paradine and Mr. Richard.

"9:52 or 53—Mr. Pearson to the study to say goodnight, followed immediately by Lane.

"A few minutes later—Mr. Wray to the study to say goodnight. Coming out, he found Mr. Pearson waiting for him. They proceeded to Mr. Wray's room which they reached before 10 o'clock.

"10:10—Mrs. Wray to the study to talk to her uncle.

"10:30—Mr. Ambrose knocks on the study door and is admitted—Mrs. Wray having gone out by way of the unused bedroom next door.

"10:50—Mr. Ambrose leaves.

"11:00—Mr. Mark Paradine to the study.

"11:30—Mr. Mark Paradine leaves. Mr. Wray and Mr. Pearson come down to the diningroom to have a drink. Mr. Wray hears the front door close. He also hears a door shut upstairs on the corridor occupied by Miss Paradine and Mrs. Wray.

"11:53—Mr. Wray and Mr. Pearson return upstairs. They separate immediately. Mr. Wray goes to have a bath."

Supt. Vyner stopped writing and looked up with an extremely startled expression on his face.

"Did you say 11:53, Miss Silver?"

"That's what I said, superintendent."

"Mr. Wray and Mr. Pearson have both stated that it was 8 minutes past 12 by the clock in Mr. Wray's room when they came upstairs."

"The clock has been tampered with."

"God bless my soul," said Col. Bostock.

"Mr. Pearson's alibi naturally attracted my attention. It was, if I may put it in that way, so very determined."

Miss Silver continued. "The first point is this: If you will turn again to Mr. Pearson's statement you will see he says that Lane was in the study when he went in to bid Mr. Paradine goodnight. In Lane's statement there is what reads like a corroboration of this, but it is not quite accurate. Mr. Wray, Mrs. Wray, Mr. Ambrose, and Mr. Mark were all greeted by Mr. Paradine with the same half sarcastic, half jocular remark, 'Have you come to confess?' I wished to know whether Mr. Pearson had been greeted in the same way. On questioning Lane I discovered that he was not actually in the study when Mr. Pearson entered it. He was coming thru the door with a tray, when Mr. Pearson, who had approached from the other end of the passage, passed before him into the study. He heard Mr. Paradine say, 'Hullo, Albert—have you come to confess?'"

"God bless my soul!"

Miss Silver's needles clicked.

"He had no time to answer Mr. Paradine, because Lane came into the room, and tho he was called back a moment as Lane was leaving again, he was out in the passage before the swing door had closed."

Vyner said "Why did Mr. Pearson say that Lane was already in the room when he came in?"

Skelton Fans Sure to Like Red's Latest

"WHISTLING IN BROOKLYN."

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, directed by S. Sylvan Simon, starring Red Skelton and presented at the Chicago.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

This is another of those "Fox" things. You know—about the amateur radio criminologist who this trip finds himself involved in a real crime and forced to pit his wits against those of expert criminals.

Here's as much as you'd better know about the yarn:

Wally and his assistant, Carol, are about to be married. . . . The studio cutups give them a party and, just to be funny, whisper in the ear of the police that the prospective bridegroom is, in reality, "Constant Reader"—wanted for murder. . . . The real "Constant Reader" has been so dubbed because of a penchant for writing sassy letters to newspapers telling just where and how the next victim will be discovered.

The police are finally eluded BUT—now appear "Constant Reader" and his gang of killers to complicate life for the honeymooners. . . . Follow further adventures of the "Fox" and his sweety pie with the picture.

The Brooklyn Dodgers participate in the hilarious finale.

Red Skelton fans love Red and everything in which Red is concerned. So, as they are many, "Whistling in Brooklyn" is sure to spell "box office."

See you tomorrow.

Kitchen Pointers

By Mary Meade

Hundreds of copies of the rules and suggestions for sending food packages overseas have been mailed to readers since last Saturday, when the offer was made in this column.

Army officials are not enthusiastic about any kind of food packages from home for the boys overseas. The packages crowd shipping space, they rarely arrive in good condition, and besides, we're told, the army itself makes every effort to see that the boys get the best of food. Altho department stores tell us they often pack and send packages containing food in glass jars, an army officer whom we consulted says, "Never send anything in glass. Your package goes thru many hands and gets plenty of rough treatment. The boy who receives a collection of broken glass and the inedible remains of the food which was in it is terribly disappointed."

Best food buys today include cabbage, carrots, rutabagas, beets, turnips, parsnips, lettuce, spinach, citrus fruits, eggs, cereals—and, of course, potatoes.

Public Schools Here Give $51,838 to Paralysis Fund

Chicago public school pupils and faculty members contributed $51,838 to the Cook county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis fund, it was announced yesterday. Their contributions totaled $20,613 more than their combined donations in the 1943 drive. Leading the list was the Spaulding school for handicapped children, which contributed $1,932.

OPA's Tokens Ready; Go Into Use Tomorrow

Every food retailer in Chicago has been supplied with red and blue tokens, to be used as change for ration point stamps, the office of price administration said yesterday. They will be put into use tomorrow, when five new processed food stamps and three new meat coupons become valid.

Rae E. Walters, OPA regional director, said he anticipated little trouble putting the tokens into use, and that detailed instructions have been sent to every retailer. The tokens simply will be given as change for the newly valid stamps, each of which will have a value of 10 points. They will not be used in the exchange of expiring stamps, five of which will continue valid until March 20.

For processed foods, blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, and E8, in book 4, will come into use. Originally intended to be worth 8 points apiece, they will have a 10 point value in the purchase of all rationed foods except meat and fats, and sugar. They are to be torn from the book in horizontal rows, and will not expire for 12 weeks. Blue tokens, each worth one point, may be given by the retailer as change, and customers may pay for subsequent purchases with tokens, or with tokens and stamps.

Five new blue stamps will become valid each month, starting April 1, and each will be good for 12 weeks.

Red stamps A8, B8, and C8, each also worth 10 points for meat and fat purchases, will go into effect tomorrow, and red tokens will be given as change in the same way as the blue ones. Customers may use them for later purchases. Three new red stamps will become valid every two weeks, and each will remain good for 12 weeks.

The tokens will be good indefinitely. Mr. Walters said he did not think this would lead to hoarding by housewives, because the 12 week validity of all stamps will allow them to save up for long periods for special occasions or for items which are periodically hard to get.

Five old stamps, which will expire on March 20, will be good for their 1, 2, 5, and 8 point face values. They are brown stamps Y and Z in book 3, for meats and fats, and green stamps K, L, and M in book 4, for processed foods.

School Group Urged to Fight Race Prejudice

By marshaling all its forces in the fight against racial and religious prejudice, education can make a great contribution to national unity which will help win the war and preserve democracy at home, delegates to the midwest conference of the Progressive Education association were told yesterday. The conference is a two day one, which will close today. It is being held at the Hotel Sherman in coöperation with the Association for Family Living.

"The building of tolerance is not a matter of individual preference or good will on the part of teacher or citizen, but a condition of survival for us as a free people," said John De Boer of Chicago Teachers college. "Racial and religious hatred may become the rock upon which our democracy will be broken."

It was suggested that teachers could promote friendship among various groups by organizing exchange visits between schools serving different races, by stressing the accomplishments of distinguished members of races which are discriminated against, and in general by trying to create among the children under their charge more friendly and understanding attitudes toward minority groups.

At a session presided over by Evelyn Millis Duvall, director of the Association for Family Living, stress was laid on the fact that the woman of today must be educated for the kind of family life which emphasizes the building of personalities and the enrichment of life rather than canning, baking, and house cleaning.

Many practices in the training programs of the army and navy are based upon principles of education long favored in progressive schools, the conference was told by Dr. Hollis L. Caswell of the Columbia university teachers college.

Hear Child's Angle Before Judging Him

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"That boy has me stopped every once in awhile," said a father ruefully shaking his head. "I just called him to account for something he'd done. He listened. But when I asked him to explain, he launched, quite candidly, into a [from his point of view] logical explanation of why what he'd done didn't deserve censure. He had figured it out he said, beforehand that it was okay to go ahead with his idea. Evidently kids don't look at things from our angle."

Ofttimes, you'll find if you are observant, that acts which we regard as wrong look right to children. And what we consider as justice in our treatment of them, seems decidedly unjust to them.

We are inclined to take for granted that we know why children act in certain ways. But we forget much too often that their point of view is greatly at variance with ours. We think we know their motives for doing things because we know what ours would be under the same circumstances. But much too often we are wrong. We make a snap judgment, give a quick rebuke or punishment, and so create a sense of injustice or resentment in a child.

So, hard as it is to imagine a child's attitude, difficult as it is to remember back to some of our own childhood experiences, we must try to do both if we're going to be fair in our estimates of behavior and wise in our handling of our son or daughter.

A child is often scolded for breakage or destruction when his purpose has really been, to him, perfectly legitimate and all-important. What we may deem real rudeness is often only the frank honesty of a child before he has learned that society requires we dissemble our feelings. Again, what we are shocked into calling stealing has no moral color for the child who has yet to learn the importance of ownership, or this meaning of honesty. And what offends our sense of decency or modesty in regard to sex often is traceable to a natural curiosity.

Bear these things in mind. Even when misbehavior seems to us to be of a serious nature we should go slowly, find out all we can of reasons and motives, get the child's angle, and then handle him with sympathy and understanding. It is all-important that children should feel secure in the justness of our dealing with them.

If when our children are reproved, punished or reproached they could always feel that fair play had prevailed, what a gain that would be. It would help them tremendously in their relationships with grown-ups and do much to reassure them.

Negro Group to Protest Breaking Up of Regiment

South side Negroes will meet tomorrow at the Liberty Baptist church, 56 E. 46th st., to protest the conversion of the former 8th Illinois National Guard unit into an engineering regiment. The meeting, sponsored by the Chicago committee of 1,000 of the National Negro council, is expected to draft strong resolutions which will be sent to President Roosevelt and other officials in Washington. Negro groups have resented breaking up of the former 8th unit, which has been trained for two years as a field artillery regiment.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3 spades	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

North was not justified in jumping to the slam, despite his good hand. South's shutout bid had not promised any high cards except in spades, and thus, aside from other considerations, North should have worried a bit about a diamond opening.

West, however, had a natural heart opening, which was a piece of luck for North-South that the declarer should have turned to excellent account. The heart ace won, a trump to the ace accounted for the outstanding trumps, and then declarer tried the club finesse. It lost, and the defenders promptly collected two diamond tricks and a heart, defeating the contract no less than three tricks!

Declarer had been rather hasty in pinning his faith to the club finesse, which had exactly an even chance for success. The far better plan was to establish the club suit by ruffing. That line of play would go: after one round of trumps, a club to the ace, club king cashed for a diamond discard, low club ruffed, trump to dummy, another club ruffed. Now, with dummy's fifth club established, a trump is led to dummy, declarer's last diamond is discarded on the club, and a heart trick is conceded. Dummy, of course, ruffs a heart for the fulfilling trick.

The mathematical odds that the club suit will break 4-3, or that the queen will drop from East on the first or second round of the suit, are better than 2 to 1.

Urges Post-War Aid for Jewish Youths in Military Service

Twenty-five per cent of the 400,000 members in the nation's 323 Jewish youth and community centers have gone to war and programs must be outlined now to re-absorb them into civilian life, Frank L. Weil of New York City, president of the Jewish welfare board, said yesterday. He addressed community leaders from all over the country who have gathered in the Stevens hotel for the board's three day conference on program planning. The national board is operating this year on a budget of $1,171,000, as compared with a $620,000 fund in 1943. Spokesmen said the increase resulted in expanded work for the army, navy, and veterans' hospitals.

THE QUESTION.

What unusual home remedies have been recommended to you by friends?

WHERE ASKED.

Lobby of Del Prado hotel.

THE ANSWERS.

Clarence G. Shaueb, manager, Swift & Co., 715 Woodbridge, Flint, Mich.—To please an elderly, well meaning woman, I carried out her suggestion for curing a sore throat. She told me to wrap some bacon, salt and pepper in a silk stocking and tie it around my neck. It didn't cure my throat and I lost my taste for bacon.

W. Horace Burnett, sales manager, Swift & Co., 2308 W. 120th pl., Blue Island—I've never been interested or ambitious enough to try it myself, but I know how to get rid of freckles. I was told that if you get up before sunrise on the first day of May and rub the early morning dewdrops on the freckles they'll disappear.

Clair D. Sarata, sales manager, Swift & Co., 521 W. Bankroft st., Toledo, O.—So many people have told me how to cure the hiccups. They suggested everything; to hold my breath, to let some one frighten me, and to stand on my head, but the one remedy that still seems to work the best is a big dose of a saline solution.

Herb. R. Knutson, manager, Swift & Co., 1318 Woodbine av., Fort Wayne, Ind.—When my 7 year old son had the measles all the neighbors had suggestions on how to cure him ahead of schedule. One suggested that the rash would break out quicker if we'd make a lotion from clover blossoms and give him a rub down with it.

Jack R. Carroll, dairy and poultry sales manager, Barrington—One time I had a very small wart on my hand and a friend said he could make it disappear over night. He put an ordinary bean on it and buried the bean and said it would be gone by midnight. We must have slipped up, because I still have the wart.

Jack L. Sipley, manager, Swift & Co., Detroit, Mich.—When we were on the farm a member of the family had an attack of appendicitis. The farmer's wife said she could cure it with a glass of hot timothy seed tea. She prepared it and the patient drank it, but we still had to rush him to the hospital.

DE PAUL DOWNS OHIO IN OVERTIME PERIOD, 61 TO 49

Illini Knock N. U. Out of Big 10 Race, 50-47.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

De Paul whipped Ohio State, basketball champion of the Western conference, last night in the Stadium. But before the Demons marked up their decisive 61 to 49 score they had to come from behind twice in the closing minutes of the second half to tie and gain the chance to win in the extra five minute period. By the triumph De Paul can claim the midwestern title.

Here was a game long to be remembered. It climaxed a night of basketball such as the Stadium seldom has staged and which 10,864 approved with constant applause. The foundation was laid when Illinois rallied against Northwestern in the second half to win, 50 to 47. The defeat was the third of the Big Ten season for the Wildcats and eliminated them from the title race.

Mikan Sparks Victory.

The regulation 40 minutes of the Ohio State-DePaul game ended 47 to 47 after the score had been tied twice with less than two minutes to play, first by Don Grate of Ohio State and then by Dick Triptow of DePaul. A minute rest and play resumed.

In this extra period the Demons completely outplayed the Buckeyes and the man who insured victory was big George Mikan. He scored on three successive pivot plays, shooting over the outstretched hands of Jack Duggar on all. With this leverage, the Demons moved smoothly to pile up a 57 to 47 lead on Jack Dean's field goal and a pair of penalty tosses by Mikan. DePaul then coasted in with Bill Gunton, a substitute, getting the Buckeyes' only points.

Big George Gets 23 Points.

Mikan, who scarcely had practiced in a week because an injured right ankle, led all players with the magnificent total of 23 points, which included seven free throws in eight attempts. He was invaluable under both back boards and before his opponent, Arnold Risen, had been excused early in the second half on personals, Mikan proved his mastery of the Ohio State freshman.

The game started slowly and there were successive ties at 6, 7, and 9 points before De Paul hit its stride and finished the half leading, 31 to 25. Ohio State's rally in the second half by Grate and Bob Bowen pulled within a point before Dean and Mikan widened the gap.

Again the Buckeyes attacked and altho two regulars now were out on fouls, the rally carried to a 44 to 39 lead. With four minutes to go, Ed Kachan hit a long field goal and with a minute and 40 seconds remaining Mikan and Kachan sent the Demons ahead, 45 to 44. Grate's point on a double foul, with Kachan missing his try, deadlocked the game. Ernie Plank scored for the

BEST FIGHTERS OF 24 STATES TO SEEK TITLES

Bouts Open Monday in Stadium.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The best fighters from 30 centers in 24 states today begin the march on boxing's most important objective, the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions, to be held in Chicago Stadium on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Three members of the air transport command, Alaskan wing, reached here yesterday in charge of Capt. William Moulton. Today's arrivals on the battle front will include teams from Los Angeles, Pensacola, Fla.; Memphis, Omaha, Port Huron, Mich.; St. Louis, and Sioux City, Ia. By tomorrow afternoon the full complement of the No. 1 fistic field of the year will have been assembled here.

From Widely Distributed Points.

Thus Golden Gloves, boxing's biggest growing boy, reaches the geographical maturity which its originators had foreseen when the sport's main event began 16 years ago. The tournament has enlisted more seekers after Golden Gloves in other years, but never before has it boasted such a wealth of talent hailing from such widely distributed points as California, Louisiana, and Florida.

The Pacific coast will join the legion of punchers for the first time with the arrival today of the Los Angeles Times team, led by Braven Dyer, sports editor, and Harry Winkler, trainer. The Pensacola News-Journal squad, due to reach the scene this afternoon, and the New Orleans Item team, which will step off the Panama Limited tomorrow morning, also are newcomers.

New Boundary Limit.

The three fighters who will represent the Alaskan wing established a new boundary limit for the vast Golden Gloves territory. They are Middleweight William J. Petersen, Light Heavyweight John R. Hopkins, and Heavyweight Morton Goodstein. Until they joined the lists, the northern fortress of the tournament had been the event conducted so successfully by Charley Johnson of the Minneapolis Star Journal and Tribune, who will return tomorrow afternoon with another strong team.

In addition to these and another newcomer, Chanute Field of Rantoul, Ill., the field includes a number of Golden Gloves regulars who annually have sent their champions to the big show. Among these are the Kansas City Star, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Milwaukee Journal, the Nashville Tennessean, the Fort Worth Star Telegram, the Omaha World Herald, the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman, and the Grand Rapids Press.

Thrilling Program Promised.

Because of the high caliber of the boxers entered this year, the Tournament of Champions is expected to produce the most thrilling program of bouts in its history. The schedule calls for the entrants in the four lighter divisions to argue in two rings on Monday night, with the four heavier classes following them into the same pair of rings on Tuesday. The survivors of these two nights will then gather on Wednesday to wrangle for the 32 places in the championship finals, to be held in the Stadium ring on March 10.

The boxers in the four lighter divisions will report between noon and 1 p. m. at the Catholic Youth organization gymnasium, 31 E. Congress st., for weighing and physical examination. The four heavier classes will report at the same time on Tuesday.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

EIGHTY THOUSAND spectators, including King George and Queen Elizabeth, King Haakon of Norway, and Gen. Bernard Montgomery, last Saturday attended a soccer match in London between England and Scotland. . . . The event raised $72,000 for war charities, but that isn't the reason we are calling it to your attention this morning. . . . It stands as an effective answer for the lugubrious claims of grouch columnists in Chicago and elsewhere that interest in sports indicates a spirit of remoteness and indifference in the war. . . . We dare say that every one of the 80,000 Britishers who saw that soccer game had full knowledge that a war was going on and felt no need to apologize to any professionally sullen scrivener or self-appointed appraiser of patriotism. . . . Last Saturday's huge turnout is by no means the only evidence of England's belief that sport is compatible with the war effort. . . . On last Dec. 4, for instance, more than 50 top flight soccer games were played, one in Liverpool which drew more than 40,000. . . .In Glasgow, on New Year's day, two Glasgow rivals, the Celtics and Rangers, attracted 60,000. . . . There are those who criticize the continuance of Sugar bowl, Rose bowl, and Orange bowl football games while the United States is at war, but officials of a country which has been under fire and bombing for more than four years still believe that the people are entitled to the fun sports allow. . . .

Bob Morrow.

Gen. Bernard Montgomery.

Paul F. Walker, formerly of Oak Park High school, has been elected captain of the Yale basketball team. . . . He is only a freshman. . . . Bob Morrow, Chicago Cardinals' husky full back and blocker, has checked in at Great Lakes where they think very well of Cardinal players since Steve Lach's victory pass against Notre Dame last fall. . . . Two teams from opposite ends of Golden Gloves territory will be among the first arrivals for the Tournament of Champions, scheduled for Chicago Stadium Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. . . . Braven Dyer will head the Los Angeles Times team, which is due at Northwestern station at noon. . . . Sam Otis will arrive tonight with the Cleveland Plain Dealer squad. . . . The Cincinnati Reds threaten to pour it on from third base next season. . . . They have a new player named Buck Fausett as a candidate for the spot. . . . Last season Fausett was hot in the Southern association. . . . He managed the Little Rock club, led the league in hits, was third in stolen bases, topped third basemen in fielding chances, fanned only nine times in 567 batting efforts, and relaxed by pitching four games. . . . His batting average was .362.

BADGER FIVE WINS, 50 TO 33

Ray Patterson Scores 22 Points.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 25 [Special].—Ray Patterson scored 22 points tonight as the Badgers romped to a 50 to 33 victory over Minnesota before 6,500 fans. It was Wisconsin's eighth victory of the season. The Badgers, except for a few minutes in the first half when the score was tied, always were ahead and held a 21 to 13 margin at the end of the half.

The Badgers had little trouble handling the smaller Gophers and only long range shooting kept Minnesota in the game. The Wisconsin defense intercepted many Gopher passes and with Russ Wendland leading a fast breaking attack it was the Badgers all the way.

Patterson scored his high count on nine baskets and four free throws with Des Smith scoring 13 points for second high. Bill Wright, the Gopher ace, was held to nine points, six of them coming in the closing minutes. The lineups:

Jug McSpaden Sets Pace at New Orleans with a 68

New Orleans, Feb. 25 (AP).—Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Merion, Pa., blasted par by four strokes with a 32—36—68 to lead the first round of the $5,000 New Orleans golf tournament today.

Still riding the brilliant play that carried him to victories in three major winter tourneys, McSpaden posted his low score despite a stiff wind that whipped across the tough City Park course all day. The wind held down his drives to an extent, but McSpaden's almost flawless putting proved too much for his competitors.

Byrd Shoots 70.

Sammy Byrd of Birmingham, who didn't arrive in town until noon today after being accepted for the navy, banged out a two under par 35—35—70 which gave him a second place deadlock with long hitting Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Byron Nelson, affable veteran of the pro wars from Toledo, O., complained of bad lies on the fairways and said his putting distressed him, but finished with a 35—36—71. He was the only other man in the field to whittle par on the first day of the 72 hole event.

Only contestant to shoot even par was Jimmy Hines, with a 36—36—72. The Amsterdam, N. Y., professional recalled wryly that he boomed over the course for 70s in two tuneups for the tournament.

Two Post 73s.

Farther down on the list among dark horses, any one of whom is given a chance to gallop off with the open, was Milton Demaret of Houston, brother to the colorful Jimmy who swept the New Orleans test four years ago. Demaret sank a short approach shot on the 18th hole for an eagle three to finish with 38—35—73, which tied Leonard Dodson's 37—36—73.

A flock of players landed in the 74 bracket, including Pvt. Melvin [Chick] Harbert of the army air forces training command at the Lincoln, Neb., army air field.

Scores for the first round included:

SCHMIDT LOSES JOB AS GRIDIRON COACH AT IDAHO

Moscow, Idaho, Feb. 25 (AP).—Head Coach Francis Schmidt will not be retained by the University of Idaho after his contract expires March 16, University President Harrison Dale said today. Schmidt came to Idaho in 1941.

The school abandoned football last fall. Schmidt said he was not surprised but that he had no plans for the future.

BAKSI UPSETS TAMI MAURIELLO IN GARDEN BOUT

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Joe Baksi, heavyweight coal miner from Kulpmont, Pa., a 12-5 underdog, pounded out a 10 round decision tonight over Tami Mauriello of the Bronx, the No. 2 challenger for Joe Louis' crown, in Madison Square Garden.

The rugged Baksi floored Mauriello with a left hook for a nine count in the first round, and then battered him all over the ring for the next five rounds.

Mauriello, despite the battering, came back strong to win the ninth and 10th rounds easily, and had Steve hanging on at times.

The 16,015 fans paid $50,434 to see the show.

La Motta Beats Ossie Harris a Third Time

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25 (AP).—Jake La Motta of New York gained his third straight 10 round decision over Ossie [Bulldog] Harris by winning tonight before 10,289 spectators who paid $25,527 at Olympia stadium. La Motta weighed 161 pounds, Harris 159.

TOMMY MILLS DIES SUDDENLY

Suffers Heart Attack at Notre Dame.

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 25 [Special].—Thomas E. [Tommy] Mills, 60, a prominent figure in the Notre Dame athletics department and director of the Rockne Memorial fieldhouse for the last four years, died of a heart attack in a shower room in the fieldhouse this afternoon.

Tommy Mills.

Mills served as an assistant coach under the late Knute Rockne at Notre Dame from 1926 to 1930 and was head football coach at Georgetown university in Washington, D. C., from 1930 to 1932.

Returns to Notre Dame.

He then became head football coach and head of the speech department at Arkansas State university, Jonesboro, Ark. He remained there for two years, resigning to accept a position as sports commentator with the National Broadcasting company. After that he returned to Notre Dame to become affiliated with the faculty as a speech instructor. In March, 1939, he was named director of the Rockne Memorial.

Mills was born in Beloit, Wis., April 3, 1883, and was graduated from Beloit college in 1905. He served as coach at Rockford, Ill., and Omaha, Neb., Central High school, and at Creighton university in Omaha before returning to Beloit in 1920. There he was director of athletics and head coach in football and basketball, winning three Midwest conference championships in both football and basketball.

Outstanding College Back.

In his college days at Beloit, Mills was an outstanding half back and as a senior played on a football team which defeated Northwestern university and tied the University of Chicago.

He is survived by two sons, Thomas Jr., a staff sergeant in the army, who now is in South Bend on furlough after 23 months overseas duty, and Robert, stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and by Maura, a daughter who lived with him. Mill's wife, Alma, died in 1932. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

IRISH HOSTS TO IOWA TONIGHT; END HOME CARD

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 25 [Special].—The Notre Dame basketball team will play its last home game of the season tomorrow night, meeting the University of Iowa five.

Coach Ed [Moose] Krause, who will be commissioned a lieutenant in the marine corps on Monday, will direct the Irish for the last time and it also will be the final game for two of his starters, Acting Capt. Bernie Rutledge and Marko Todorovich.

Iowa, an all civilian team, has won 13 games and lost 2 this season. Dick Ives and Dave Danner, Hawkeye freshmen forwards, are expected to finish one-two in the Big Ten scoring race, Ives being the present leader.

FOXX, REJECTED IN DRAFT, PLANS CUB COMEBACK

He Will Ask Landis for Reinstatement.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The army wouldn't take Jim Foxx so the old fellow—old as ball players go—has decided to return to the Cubs. Vice President James Gallagher announced yesterday that the one time American league home run artist who gave up last spring after less than a full season with the Cubs would apply to Commissioner Landis' office for transfer from the voluntarily retired to the active list.

Granting of the application is automatic but what goes on from there is a matter between the club and the player. Presumably, with diamond athletes a scarce commodity in at least some of the big league precincts the Cubs will cart him off to camp, hoping he can produce enough of his former skill to be of assistance, if not to the Cubs, to a team sorely pressed for aid. As you might not know, the Chicago club has $10,000 tied up in the fellow.

He Has Been Catcher.

Foxx, who in his long career was in three world series with the Athletics and a member of seven American league all-star teams, has done some catching in his time and that's the little factor that may induce Mgr. James Wilson to play out the string in the attempted comeback. The Cubs now have only three back-of-the-bat workmen on their list, none of them boasting major league experience. Foxx caught some games for the Red Sox, the team from which the Cubs acquired his services, as recently as 1940.

Foxx was purchased from Boston in June of 1942 after all the other American league clubs had waived on him. The thought behind the purchase was that Foxx, 34 at the time, might be able to furnish the Cubs at least a semblance of a home run punch while serving as a first baseman. Foxx was in only 70 games, batted a mere .205 and fanned 55 times. Discouraged by his work he announced his retirement from the game a year ago in favor of a position with an oil company.

Hit by Line Drive.

Just prior to his acquisition by the Cubs, Foxx, while pitching in batting practice, was plunked in the ribs by a line drive off the stick of Tony Lupien, who thus became the Red Sox first baseman. Up to that point Foxx had batted .274 for Joe Cronin's entry.

Hawks Battle Leafs Tonight on Toronto Ice

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs will finish their regular season business in Toronto tonight and the Hawks then will flit to Chicago where tomorrow night they are to play before another of those amazing sellout crowds. The New York Rangers will supply the opposition in the Stadium, something less than a giltedged attraction under normal reckoning. The Hawk loyalists don't give a whoop about normal reckoning.

The game in Toronto tonight will see the Hawks and Leafs in their 10th engagement of the season. Each team has won four from the other and this tie was topped off with the almost unheard of hockey ratio of 0 to 0, the last time the Hawks played at home.

May Start Third Place Boom.

The Hawks have won twice in Toronto this season, which is rather startling, in view of their long shyness in the other boys' rinks. Those games were won, 4-1 and 4-3 as against losses in Toronto of 8-4 and 6-1. The Leafs have won in Chicago, 4-1 and 5-2. The Hawks were victors in Chicago Stadium, 5-3 and 3-2.

In their planning for Stanley Cup eligibility, the Hawks think mostly of beating out Boston for fourth place, lowest qualifying spot. But if they win tonight they will be thinking about third place. They will be only one game behind the Leafs. The Hawks are now a game ahead of the Boston Bruins, who will play the Canadiens in Montreal tonight. The Canadiens have not lost at home this season.

Third Line Weakened.

According to dispatches from Toronto, Manager Paul Thompson of the Hawks will rely upon his top line of Doug Bentley, Clint Smith, and Bill Mosienko to outscore the Leafs, with some assistance from the George Allen-Cully Dahlstrom-Mush March trio.

With the incapacity of Fido Purpur and the switching of Virgil Johnson, a defenseman, the third line is a bit uncertain.

FORT SHERIDAN TOPS SERVICE TEAM LEAGUE

Fort Sheridan replaced Glenview Naval Air station as leader in the Chicago Area Service Basketball league last night by defeating the Glenview team at Fort Sheridan, 44 to 38. The Comets trailed at half time, 21 to 15. Bill Sticklen, with 16 points, and Jack King, with 14, led the scoring.

In a preliminary game the Fort Sheridan WACS defeated the Milwaukee Road girls, 22 to 5.

Weber Junior Five Captures Title, 38 to 32

Weber High school last night won the north junior championship in the Catholic league basketball race for the third consecutive year, defeating St. Philip, its closest rival, 38 to 32, on the Weber court.

By taking the crown the north side school was assured of two teams in the Catholic league finals. The seniors won the north section title last week and earned the right to meet Mount Carmel, south section champion.

Weber led last night, 20 to 17, at the half. Pacing the offensive attack was Joe Depka with seven field goals and five free throws for 19 points. Bob Behnke led St. Philip with 10 points. Lineups:

GEN. ELECTRIC EARNS LESS ON RECORD SALES

Radio Corporation Profits Rise.

General Electric company's shipments to customers during 1943 increased 39 per cent over 1942 to set a new high, but profit was slightly lower, a preliminary report showed yesterday. On a per share basis, profit was unchanged, however.

Gerard Swope.

Net income for the year ended Dec. 31 was $44,923,000, equal to $1.56 a share, compared with $45,081,458, or $1.56 a share, in 1942. Earnings for 1943 are shown after setting aside 18½ million as a reserve for post-war contingencies, or 1½ million more than was appropriated for this purpose a year ago.

Provide for Price Adjustments.

After provision for voluntary price adjustments on war contracts, net sales billed totaled 1 billion 358 million, compared with $977,774,626 in 1942, after similar deductions. Last year shipments were more than four times the average for the five years ended with 1940.

Gerard Swope, president, said the amount set aside for post-war contingencies was equal to the estimated post-war refund of excess profits taxes for 1943. He said that of the contingency reserve set aside in 1942 approximately 2½ million dollars remained after contract renegotiation.

He estimated that in the first few years after the war the company's business would approximate the best pre-war years. Altho the first civilian appliances available will be pre-war models, he predicted that they would sell at higher prices. General Electric, Swope added, will have few conversion problems outside of its appliance lines.

War Work to Continue.

He expressed the opinion that even after Germany falls the company may find war work its chief business for a time.

Among the company's engineering achievements during the year was the jet propulsion engine, which General Electric developed from early British designs, he added.

Radio Corporation of America reported a 1943 profit of $10,192,452, equal to 50 cents a common share, against $9,002,437, or 41 cents a share, in 1942. James G. Harbord, chairman, and David Sarnoff, president, said the company's production for the allied armies and navies more than doubled during the year. Gross revenues from all sources totaled $294,535,362, compared with $197,024,056.

Consolidated net sales of International Cellucotton Products company rose to $39,235,755, highest in its history, during the year ended Dec. 31, the company disclosed in its annual report to stockholders. The figure for 1942 was $36,787,691.

Profit $3.90 a Share.

Profit totaled $2,316,288, equal to $3.90 a share, compared with $2,028,923, or $3.42 a share, in 1942.

Resignation of Charles S. Pearce as president and his election as honorary chairman was announced. R. B. Cassingham has been appointed vice president and general manager. Frank G. Mangin, treasurer, has been elected a director to fill a vacancy.

American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation reported for 1943 a consolidated profit of $5,429,431, equal to 51 cents a common share, compared with $5,551,657, or 52 cents a share, in the preceding year.

Walkout May Close Detroit Armor Plant

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 26 [Saturday] (AP).—The Great Lakes Steel corporation plant at Ecorse, which a company spokesman said is the only plant in the country making armor plate for navy landing craft, reported a spreading strike shortly after midnight with the possibility the entire plant may close down.

Many workers had failed to report on earlier shifts of the big suburban plant, and none of the midnight shift reported for duty, a company representative said. Six thousand men are employed.

The CIO's United Steel Workers' union represents Great Lakes Steel employes. No union comment was immediately available.

Protest Company's Action.

Production had suffered curtailment at the steel plant Friday morning when 500 men quit work in protest to the disciplining of several employes, the company said.

This was Detroit's second major strike within 24 hours.

Production of airplane wings for the navy was near a standstill at the Mack av. plant of the Briggs Manufacturing company with 7,000 workers idles in a strike over employment schedules.

Protest Day's Closing.

Spokesmen for the United Automobile Workers [CIO], which has sought a guaranteed 48-hour week, said the strikers protested a one-day closing of the plant today. A company officials said the closing was necessitated by a navy production change.

Meanwhile, UMW's international executive board, cracking down on unauthorized strikes and work stoppages that violate the union constitution and its war time no-strike pledge, made public today a new policy for dealing with work interruptions. It provides severe penalties for unauthorized walkouts.

Steel Plant Closed.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Sheffield Steel plant was closed today and 1,700 workers were idle as company and union officials disagreed over the cause of the shutdown.

EXCHANGE IS RULED NOT LIABLE FOR LOSS IN WHITNEY FAILURE

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld a decision of a District court which held that two private investors, who lost money in the failure of the stock exchange firm of Richard Whitney & Co., in 1938, cannot file actions against the exchange for recovery of their money.

The actions were filed against Arthur H. Franklin, treasurer of the New York Stock exchange, by the New York Yacht club, for $105,184, and by Mary Stevens Baird, a client of the Whitney firm, who sought recovery of $98,758. Whitney, a former president of the exchange, was jailed for embezzlement after the failure of his firm.

The majority opinion of Judges Thomas W. Swan and A. N. Hand haid that "there is no reason to suppose that action by the stock exchange would have brought relief to Richard Whitney or to the plaintiffs. To justify a judgment in favor of either plaintiff, such a breach of duty must have resulted in damage that could be traced to the breach."

PRESENT TAXES CALLED TOO LOW BY MORGENTHAU

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—"We have by no means reached a level of taxation which can be considered adequate for the remainder of the war period," Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today in his annual report to congress for the fiscal year, 1942-'43.

Morgenthau said it would be unwise not to prevent the growth of the national debt by increasing taxes. This would also relieve pressure on price ceilings and pay the war's cost while it is being fought, he said. "Next to an adequate tax system, our greatest immediate need is tax simplification," he admitted.

War expenditures increased more than 50 times from 1 billion 700 million dollars in the fiscal year 1940 to an estimated 92 billion in the fiscal year 1944, the secretary said. Federal receipts during the same period increased more than seven-fold, from 5 billion 400 million to 41 billion 200 million, he added.

ABRUPT SLUMP MADE IN PRICES FOR LIGHT HOGS

Prices for light hogs slumped abruptly yesterday at the Chicago Stock yards and better grades of more matured stock sold as much as 10 cents a hundred pounds lower. The decline was the steepest since the middle of December and the average fell off 15 cents to $13.60, the lowest price in 11 days.

After a few top steers had sold at $17, equal to the winter's top, buyers bid weak to lower prices on the remainder.

Lamb prices declined 25 cents in dull trading.

Nine Groups Seek Control of Medinah Club

BY AL CHASE.

Two hotel chains, six financial groups, and the reorganization committee of the Medinah club are vying for control of the 42 story Medinah club building, 505 N. Michigan av., it was learned yesterday.

Federal District Judge Campbell, after two reorganization plans had been presented by Arthur C. Youngberg, federal trustee, referred the bids to Special Master Joseph Elward who will hold a hearing March 3. Judge Campbell will receive the Elward report March 13.

Plan Calls for Option to Buy.

The offers made by hotel chains came from John J. Mack and the Pick Hotels corporation. Mack offered $625,000 in December and deposited an advance payment of $75,000. Under the reorganization plan Mack would be granted an option to purchase the property at a private sale by paying 5 per cent more than the highest bid made at a public sale.

The Pick offer involves the negotiation of a new first mortgage bond issue of $650,000 and a second of $300,000. Pick has deposited $50,000, the reorganization plan states.

Both the Mack and Pick plans call for the paying of all administrative costs and a $550,000 mortgage held by the Union Central Life Insurance company of Cincinnati. The Mack offer provides for the assumption of $1,200,000 back taxes.

Other Hotel Chains Interested.

The six other prospective bidders are understood to represent hotel interests.

Harry S. Brin, secretary of the club's reorganization committee, said that reorganization would submit a bid prior to the master's hearing. If this offer is accepted, the building will continue to be used as a club.

Henry L. Phoenix, attorney for Youngberg, said there is a possibility that several other bidders may enter definite cash offers prior to the hearing before Elward.

RESERVE BANK HEADS TO MEET IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Feb. 25 (AP).—Eleven of the country's 12 federal reserve bank presidents will be in Cleveland tomorrow and Sunday for the first of a series of financial and business discussions.

William A. Day, San Francisco bank president and chairman of the conference, is unable to attend because of illness, Matthew J. Fleming, Cleveland bank president said. Allan Sproul, vice chairman and New York bank head, will preside.

Other executives expected are William W. Paddock, Boston; Alfred H. Williams, Philadelphia; Hugh Leach, Richmond; William S. Mc Larin Jr., Atlanta; C. S. Young, Chicago; Chester C. Davis, St. Louis; John N. Peyton, Minneapolis; H. Gavin Leedy, Kansas City, and Randle R. Gilbert, Dallas.

After the Cleveland sessions, the presidents will reconvene in Washington, D. C., Monday and Tuesday.

STOCK TRADING BROAD, PRICES CLOSE UNEVEN

Rails' Shares Rally, Then React.

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Specialized demand continued to prop favorite stocks in today's market, but many leaders slipped into the minus column. Advances and declines were almost evenly divided, with 309 of the former and 301 of the latter. Trade was broad, 863 issues appearing.

Rails enjoyed a brief rally when the senate decisively backed up the house in overthrowing the tax bill veto, but most carriers soon began to lose ground. Utilities retained much of their popularity.

Outlook Encourages Trade.

Wall street still was encouraged by the congressional rebellion and the business outlook generally. The usual lightening of accounts for the week-end was in evidence, however, and profit taking on the recent upswing checked numerous issues. Another Argentine government shake-up also restrained buying. Strength of individual issues was based primarily on earnings and dividend prospects.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was unchanged at 51.4. Both rail and industrial composites were off 0.1 each, but that of utilities gained 0.2 at 36.4, its best figure since Oct. 28. Dealings slackened on the irregularity, but volume reached 900,186 shares compared with 1,162,110 yesterday.

FEW CHANGES IN BONDS.

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Bond prices underwent little change today. A few rails managed small advances against many unchanged or lower issues. Industrials and utilities were sluggish. Some foreign dollar bonds developed weakness.

Sales of $11,133,600 were the smallest in a month and compared with $14,237,600 yesterday. Rails, industrials and low-yields came thru in Associated Press averages with a gain of 0.1 each, but utilities and foreign issues lost a like amount.

MIDLAND SHARES ACTIVE.

Midland Utilities $6 preferred stock led in activity yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange and the price rose 1⅛ points. Midland United A preferred also was active and higher. A decision on the joint reorganization plan for the two companies is expected shortly from the securities and exchange commission. Central and South West Utilities also was in demand and fractionally higher. New 1943-'44 peaks were attained by Electric Household Utilities, Leath & Co., and McCord Radiator.

WHEAT UPTURN ERASED IN LATE PROFIT TAKING

Mill buying of May wheat coupled with a revived demand for flour lifted that delivery 1¼ cents a bushel in the early trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. The top price of $1.71⅛ was the highest since Feb. 1 and within 1⅝ cents of the ceiling. Profit taking developed on the advance and the close was only ⅛ cent higher. The deferred months finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Other grains lagged and altho rye rallied strongly at one time its close was ⅜ to ⅝ cent lower. Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower and barley was off ⅝ to ⅞ cent.

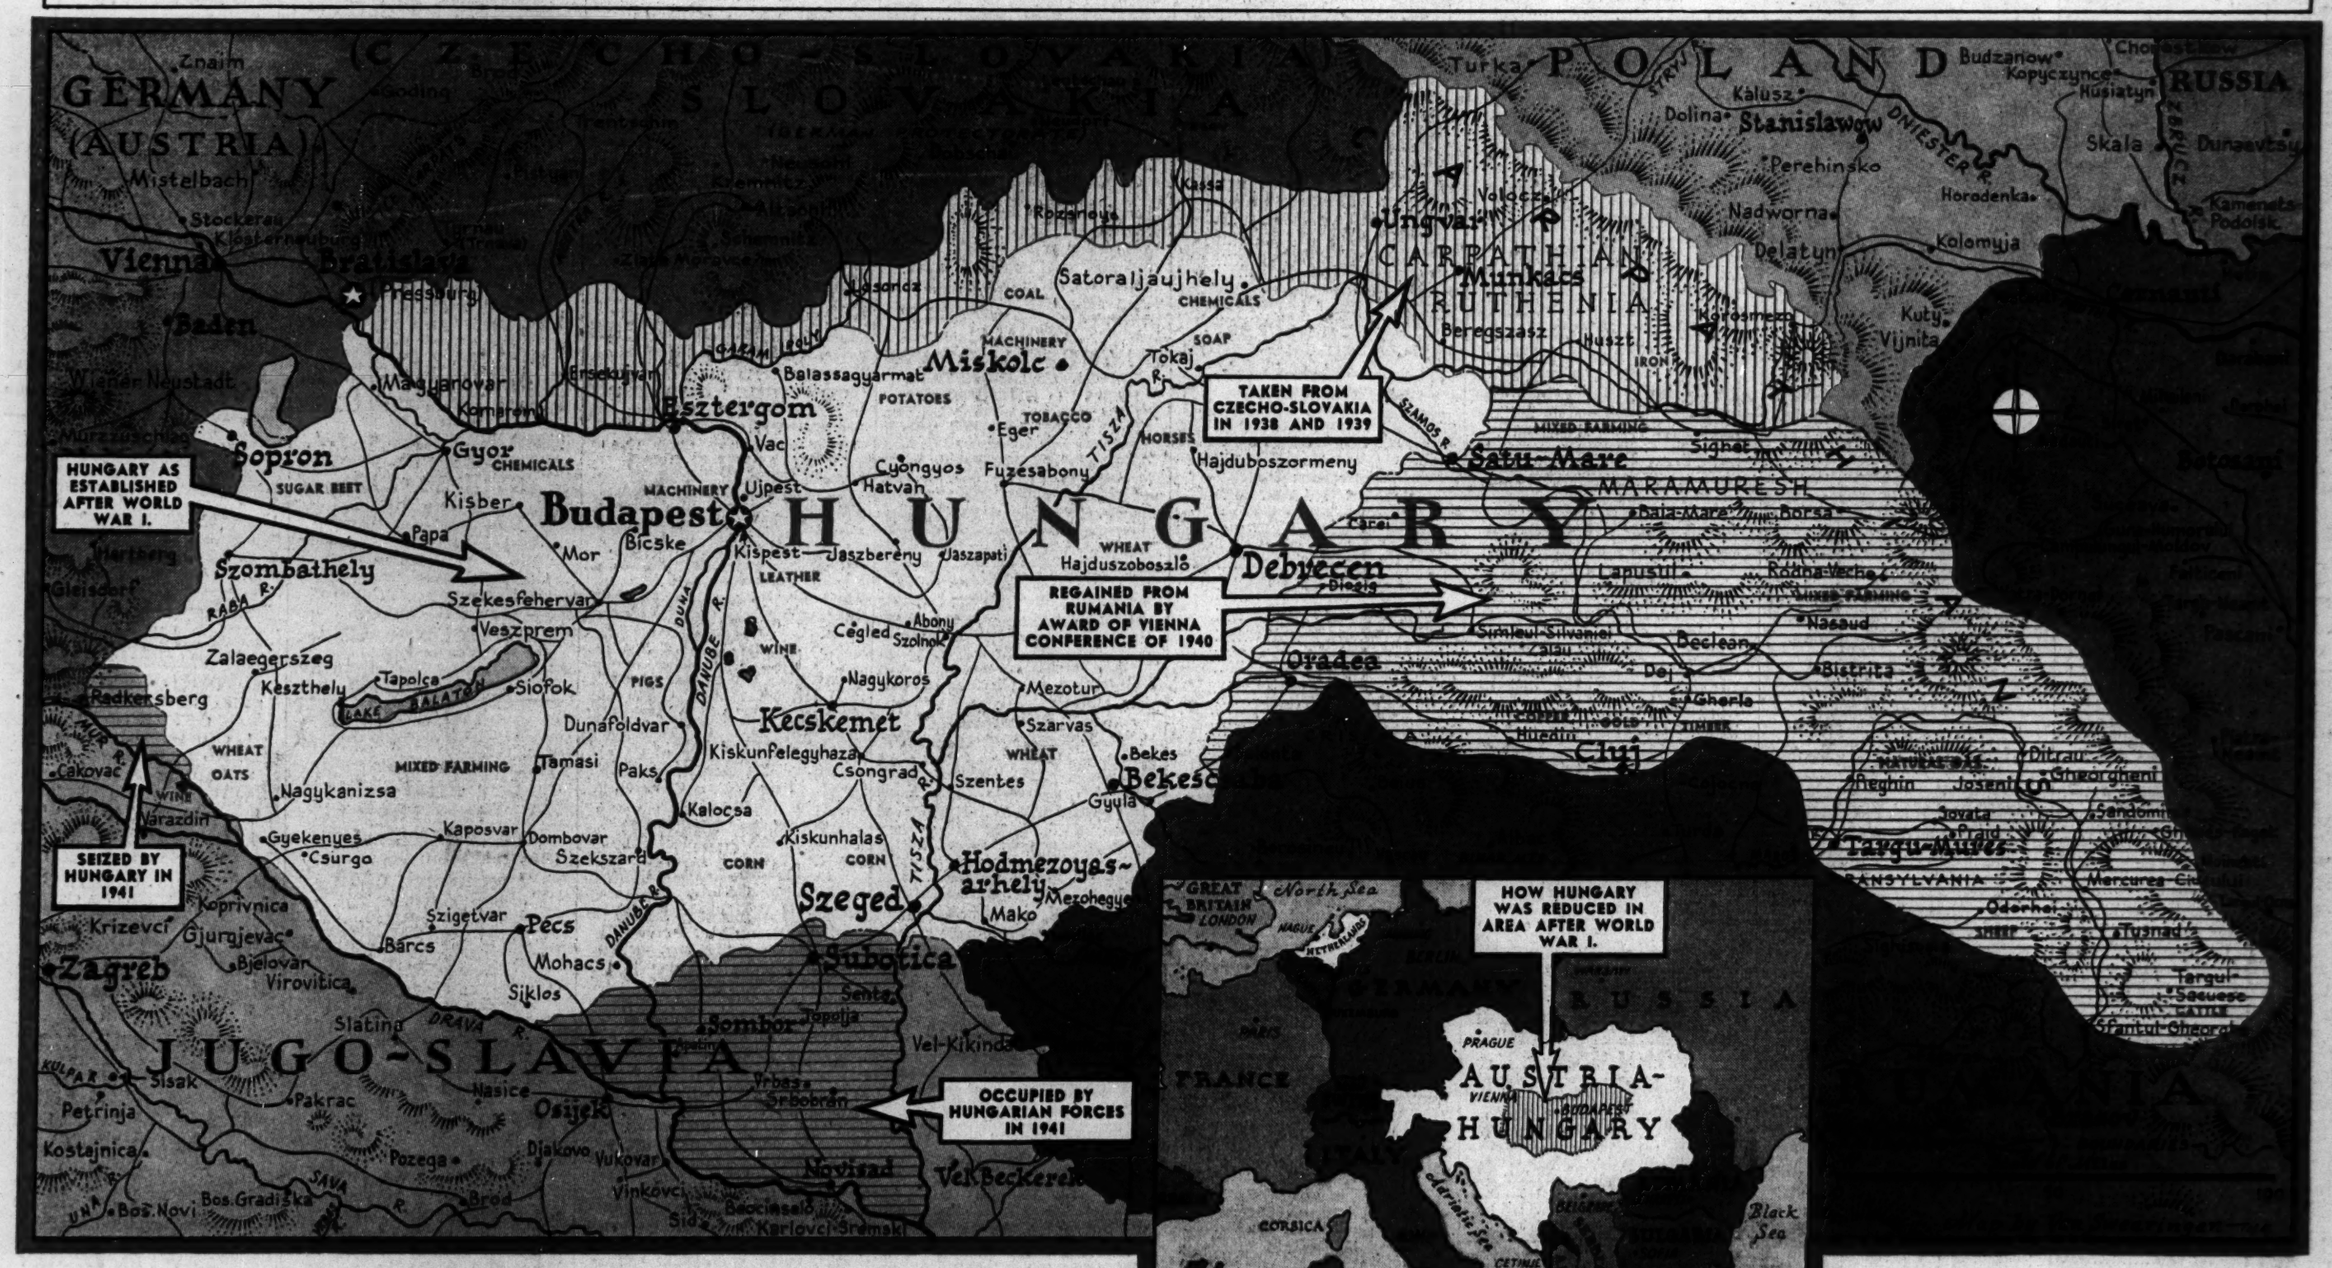
HUNGARY—A MINOR PARTNER OF THE AXIS



This is a new map of Hungary, which, as a satellite of Germany, declared war on the United States and Great Britain Dec. 13, 1941. Hungary, as constituted today, covers more than 61,000 square miles of land and has a population of between 13 and 14 million. The map shows the country as established after World War I. and territorial acquisitions since that time. Sources of main products are indicated.

Pre-war Poland and Austria and Czecho-Slovakia before their absorption by Germany are indicated on the map to help readers understand war developments.

First Pictures of Invasion of Eniwetok Atoll—Nurses Win Medals—Marine Raiders Come Home
